EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT REPEALED

Election Of LaGuardia Shatters Tammany Machine

COALITION CANDIDATE IS ELECTED

O'BRIEN RUNS LAST

Vote Considered Setback for Political Director of Administration . . . . .

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(UP)—A civic revolution, reaping the whirlwind of James J. Walker's seven lush years in city hall, today found the Tammany Hall political machine shattered and a reform group headed by Major Fiorello H. LaGuardia in complete domination of the next municipal administration.

LaGuardia, fiery, independent leader of a coalition of Republicans and anti-Tammany Democrats, overwhelmed both Tammany's candidate, Mayor John P. O'Brien, and a second major opponent, Joseph V. McKee, "Recovery party" candidate and protege of Postmaster General James A. Farley by a plurality of more than 250,000.

The complete vote, considered a stiff setback for Farley's prestige as chief political director of the administration was:

LaGuardia, 858,551.
McKee, 604,055.
O'Brien, 586,100.

Fusion Candidate

With LaGuardia were swept into office the fusion party's candidates for comptroller, president of the board of aldermen, and the borough presidents of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, to give the party 13 out of the 16 votes on the board of estimate and control, which is the dominant agency of this municipal government.

While a thousand street cleaners swept up the flood of debris in mid-town New York, the residue from the wildest, most abandoned political celebration known to the history of father Knickerbocker, the Tammany tiger retired to inspect its wounds and county the few political officers salvaged from the cyclone of ballots.

Tammany was not without one piece of political comfort. Out of the battle it had saved one of the most coveted posts in the ad-

THREE KILLED WHEN 4 TRUCKS MEET ON RIDGE

Three Other Persons Hurt But Rescued When Cars Destroyed by Fire

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Four trucks piled up in a spectacular collision on the new Ridge route six miles north of Castiac, today, kliling three men and injuring three others.

The dead:
William J. Jones, Los Angeles.
John J. McAvoy, Los Angeles.
Nat Pullio, Route 3, Fresno.
The injured:
Leon Furra, City Terrace.
P. Furra, his brother, City Terrace.
C. McDowell, Los Angeles.

The trucks burst into flames immediately after the accident but all the victims were rescued from the fire, according to state highway patrolman, Harry Gladfeter.

Gladfeter said the truck and trailer carrying Jones and McAvoy and loaded with empty oxy-acetylene tanks went out of control on a steep grade and struck a machine driven by McDowell, ascending the hill on a sharp curve.

An instant later the truck driven by the Furra brothers came speeding down the grade and crashed into the wreckage.

While the injured men fought to remove the dead truckmen from the burning wrecks, Pullio's truck whirled around the curve and plunged into the three blazing vehicles.

FIVE CHILDREN DIE IN BLAZE IN OHIO

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Five children, all under nine years of age, died in the flames that destroyed their home near Girard, O., today.

A kitchen stove explosion, set off when the father, John Pete, put oil in it, set the house on fire. Both parents and another child were burned and removed to a hospital.

The five children burned to death were:

Joe, 2; George, 3; Dan, 5; Victoria, 8, and an infant Pete.

A boy, John, 9, was carried to safety by his father, who was unable to return to the house for the other children by the collapse of the house.

W. C. T. U. LEADERS PLAN NEW CAMPAIGN

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Leaders of the Women's Christian Temperance Union which directed the long fight to place the 18th amendment in the constitution, gathered today to plan a vigorous campaign to prohibit liquor once again.

At the call of the new president, Mrs. Ida B. Wise, national officers met here to form the outline of the new fight. The struggle against liquor will be waged on the same lines as that which won success with the passage of the prohibition amendment, only to be reversed by rising public sentiment 13 years later.

An immediate and aggressive campaign of education of the public as to the scientific benefits of temperance and the effect of alcohol on the human system will be launched.

SCHUMANN-HEINK IS REPORTED IMPROVED

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Condition of Mme. Ernestine Schumann Heink, who entered Mercy hospital Monday for observation of an intestinal inflammation, remained unchanged today, her physician, Dr. Charles Fox, announced. The diva is not seriously ill, Dr. Fox declared, and may leave the hospital after a week's rest.

REVOLT BREAKS OUT IN CUBAN CAPITAL TODAY

Presidential Palace Bombed From Air by Members of Army Air Force

HAVANA, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Revolt against the Grau San Martin government, heralded by a spectacular aerial bombardment of the Presidential palace, threw the capitol into terror today.

The powerful ABC revolutionary society, with the co-operation of members of the army air force, started the revolt after weeks of planning. They were joined soon after dawn by the Havana police force.

President Ramon Grau San Martin was in his palace, converted into a fortress bristling with machine guns and with an airplane on the roof. The army, or that part of it in the capital proper, appeared to be loyal to him, along with the navy.

Fire Returned

Soldiers loyal to the government took the offensive at 9:30 a. m., and began firing from the roof of the presidential palace on the nearby central police station, headquarters of the rebels.

The revolutionists imprisoned Capt. Gonzalez Pedroso, chief of police, and Ruben Leon, chief of the student's revolutionary party supporting the government. Reports that Col. Fulgencio Batista, army chief of staff, was imprisoned apparently were untrue.

Captain Guillermo Martull of the air force, was the apparent leader of the military operations against the government, begun with an hour's terrifying machine gun bombardment that awakened the populace at 2:40 a. m. It appeared that the bombardment was for moral effect and little material damage was done.

Guns Installed

Soldiers sent to the presidential palace, where President Grau was staying, put machine guns on all balconies and a small anti-aircraft gun on the roof. They replied to the airplanes' fire which lasted for an hour.

Buses and street cars started as usual at daybreak. Revolutionists boasted they would soon gain support of the army or bombard army bararcks around the capitol suburbs. Government supporters insisted the revolt was a fiasco and would be suppressed easily.

LIEUT. MURREL HELD ON ATTACK CHARGE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Lieut. John H. Murrel remained in jail here today pending a ruling by Federal Judge R. J. McMillan on his plea for release under bond.

The former West Point football star is held in connection with an alleged attack on Miss Blanche Ralls, young divorcee of Birmingham, Ala. He has been in jail since October 27.

Judge McMillan was expected to return here today from El Paso and scan a record of yesterday's hearing, at which Miss Ralls told her version of the asserted attack. The judge may release Murrel under bond if he desires.

Conviction on the charges, which Murrel denied, under federal law carries a maximum punishment of death.

FORMER ASSOCIATE OF INSULL SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Past business connections with Samuel Insull which prevented him from obtaining employment were blamed by police today for the suicide of Edwin A. Davis, 52, former Insull utility executive.

His bullet-pierced body was found in the playhouse of their daughter by Mrs. Merle Davis who said her husband returned only last week from New York where his application for an executive position in a company was rejected because of his past connections with the fugitive utility head. Mrs. Davis said he had been despondent since.

Davis, according to his widow, formerly was vice president and comptroller of the Middle West Utilities company of Chicago. They came to Los Angeles several months ago.

ROOSEVELT PLAN TO FURNISH WORK FOR TWO MILLION MEN

Families To Be Taken Off Relief Rolls

Latest Proposal to Involve Expenditure of More Than $400,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—President Roosevelt has approved plans calculated to take 2,000,000 persons off relief rolls throughout the country and put them to work on a self sustaining basis, the White House revealed today.

This plan, will involve the expenditure of at least $400,000,000 of government funds.

In high administration circles decision to take the millions off direct relief and put them in the wage earner class by Nov. 16 was described as a departure of relief work, and at the same time a "digging in" for the winter.

The first 2,000,000 men comprise those now on work relief provided by local relief administrations operating under the state and federal emergency relief administrations. These immediately will be placed on regular pay at the hourly rates prevailing for similar work. A 30 hour week is contemplated.

New Bureau

The plan will be administered by a newly created Civil Works Administration under direction of Harry L. Hopkins, emergency relief head, and funds will be drawn from the $3,300,000,000 public works allocation.

"Creation of the new agency," a White House statement said, "constitutes a fundamental change in the federal program to deal with unemployment aspects of the depression. It will remove from the relief rolls a major portion of those receiving the necessities of life on the basis of public aid and place them on regular employment. It is designed to remove from relief rolls all employable persons. Those hired by the Civil Works Administration will benefit by an immediate increase in income over their former relief allowances."

It was explained that projects on which the workers will be used will include not only the types on which relief work is now being given, but also on a wide range of employment in activities bordering on, but not covered in, the province of the Public Works Administration.

Field Expanded

"This expanded field," the statement said, "will enable the local civil works divisions to undertake considerably more construction and to use greater quantities of construction materials. Work relief has been limited almost entirely to work involving a minimum of materials, since expenditure of emergency relief funds under this method was necessarily

RUSS DIPLOMAT AND SECY. HULL IN CONFERENCE

Progress Reported Following Two Hour Meeting This Morning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Secretary of State Hull and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov of the Soviet Union, after a two hour talk today, issued a joint statement indicating progress in their attack on problems concerning Soviet-American relations.

The conversations were described as a "friendly private discussion" preliminary in nature, which will be resumed at 4 p. m. at the state department.

After meeting newspapermen, the American and Soviet officials went to the White House for luncheon with President Roosevelt where the chief executive for the first time, will have an opportunity to begin serious discussions with the visiting Soviet official. They met formally last night.

The Hull-Litvinov communique said:

Friendly Parley

"There was a very friendly, private discussion of some of the outstanding questions involved in the matter of relations between the United States and the Union of Socialist Soviet republics.

"The conversation was entirely preliminary and detailed proposals were not discussed.

"Conversations will be resumed in the office of the secretary of state at 4 p. m."

Before the reading of the formal communique, Litvinov, frock coated and formal, but wearing a genial smile, said a few words to newspapermen.

"I can only say," he began, "that I am glad to be in Washington. I find the atmosphere here friendly and favorable to the conversations. The secretary and I have decided to issue a joint communique following our talks."

Extraordinary precautions were taken during the conversations and during Litvinov's entrance and exit to and from the state department building to insure his safety.

ARREST MAN WITH POLICE AUTOMOBILE

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Harold Key, 18, was arrested with a stolen Van Nuys, Cal., police cruiser car in his possession and is being held for California authorities. Key told Omaha police he "borrowed" the machine while serving as a jail trusty for a minor offense. A hitch-hiker he encountered paid for gasoline used in driving here.

The boy said his home was Kansas City, Mo.

UNSEATED

William S. Vare, who, with his three brothers has controlled Philadelphia politics for 50 years, lost every office but one in yesterday's election.

SPREADING OF WATER DRAWS BOARD PROTEST

Orange County Group Decides to Take Action at Meeting Today

AS A PROTEST against extensive water spreading actions started in Cucamonga creek, tributary to Santa Ana river, directors of the Orange County Water District, meeting this morning in Garden Grove, authorized Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton, aided by Directors C. Roy Browning and William Wallop, to draw up a resolution of protest to be forwarded to Cucamonga water interests.

Spreading works in the Cucamonga creek have been started since the time the Irvine suit was filed against upper interests in the Santa Ana river and tributaries. This was the reason members of the board gave for the protest now. The resolution, it was understood, will not protest the completion and construction of flood control works, but would protest water spreading which would be harmful to Orange county.

Progression of plans for spreading operations between the Chapman street and the Southern Pacific bridges was reported by the committee appointed to investigate possibilities. A report submitted by Director Browning recommended that high spots in the river channel be graded with the view of keeping the river in its path and conserving water. It is the hope of the board to obtain use of tractors and other equipment from the county, and to use either R. F. C. or C. C. C. labor on the project. The committee was authorized to go ahead

REPEAL - HOW THEY TOOK IT

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

WASHINGTON— Jouett Shouse, president of the Association Against the 18th Amendment: "The plain truth is that the mighty resurgent wave of public opinion that has achieved the result . . . has not come from the politicians. It has had its origin in the people themselves. The politicians, for the most part, have been afraid of it."

WESTERVILLE, O. — Dr. Howard Russell, founder of Anti-Saloon league: "American voters have repealed prohibition. They have been deceived by millionaires who want liquor to pay their income taxes. I predict the pendulum will swing back. Voters will cry for prohibition when they know the truth."

CHICAGO—Colonel Ira L. Reeves, president of the Crusaders, wet organization, said: "The wet fight is not yet won. A more serious situation than prohibition is threatened, the return of the open saloon. We need an adequate control without the dangerous restraints."

WASHINGTON — F. Scott McBride, general superintendent Anti-Saloon league: "Administration influence, patronage pressure, partisan coercion, and the unjustifiable linking of repeal with the recovery program made a decision on the merits of prohibition impossible."

GRANITE FALLS, Minn.—Andrew Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, said: "The wets have posed as friends of temperance and law enforcement, I am willing to give them a chance to make good. The high liquor taxes now proposed will make this a bootlegger's paradise."

ACE HUDKINS HELD ON ROBBERY COUNT

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 8.—Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska wildcat," and Dave Chalmers, both of Los Angeles, were under arrest here today charged with suspicion of robbery following their alleged refusal to pay for a tank of gasoline.

The pair was arrested during a fight with George Kirkoff, father of Chalmer's estranged wife, who had disarmed Hudkins and clubbed the fighter over the head with the latter's own gun, according to police.

Hudkins and Chalmers, police said, stopped at a gasoline station operated by Joe Rostoker, and after filling their tank, drove away without paying.

Hudkins was identified by a fighter's license issued by the state athletic commission.

VARE'S G. O. P. MACHINE LOSES PHILADELPHIA

Political "Boss" Unseated After Controlling His City for 50 Years

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—(UP)—The long rule of the Vare Republican machine, one of the oldest and most powerful in America, seemed to be broken today following an unprecedented voters' revolution. The political dynasty was founded by the three Vare brothers 50 years ago and has ruled with few interruptions since.

Only one Vare candidate apparently was victorious. The Democratic plurality for other offices was steadily mounting.

The only consolation gained by William S. Vare was the recovery of William F. Campbell, candidate for coroner.

Long before the knowledge of the revolt that cost him his throne became general, Vare had fled to the seclusion of his Florida estate.

His departure from the political stage of his native city marked the end of an unbroken line of Republican chieftains who traced their political heritage from Thaddeus Stevens, of Civil war fame, through Matt Quay, Penrose and Jim McNichol to the Vare regime.

Vare, Republican national committman from Pennsylvania and until yesterday undisputed "boss" of Philadelphia, did not linger at Waterloo after rumblings of revolt reached his ears.

Complete Rout

His lieutenants stood guard over the headquarters of the Republican city committee as the swiftly mounting Democratic majority attested their complete rout.

Democrats held a victory torchlight parade in Philadelphia. They celebrated their victories in Lancaster, Scranton and Pittsburgh while Republican headquarters in these cities were dark.

Republicans had some consolation that their Wilkesbarre candidates won. They had fought hard to hold their strategic points on the theory that "as Pennsylvania went today it will probably go next year." Democrats realizing this took every possible ad-

GOVERNMENT PRICE OF GOLD IS $33.05

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—The government today raised its price on newly-mined American gold to $33.05 an ounce from the $32.84 level of yesterday. The price was an overnight advance of 21 cents an ounce.

Today's Washington price was 49 cents above the world price set in London today.

The London price today was 131 shillings 10 pence, up 1 shilling 10 1-2 pence from yesterday, at the early high exchange rate for the pound ($4.94) this was equivalent to $32.56 an ounce.

The dollar, on today's gold quotation, was worth 62.54 cents as compared with 62.94 cents yesterday.

BROADCASTING FIRM REJECTED ON PLEA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Application of the Columbia Broadcasting System for admission of its news gatherers to the press galleries of congress has been rejected by the standing committee of correspondents. The issue raised probably will be submitted by the radio organization to congress in their effort to obtain access to the restricted areas.

Samuel W. Bell, chairman of the standing committee, advised the broadcasting system of the rejection in a letter which explained that the rules of congress itself restrict use of the galleries to representatives of daily newspapers and of press associations.

THIRTY SIX STATES VOTE FOR REPEAL

CAROLINAS VOTE DRY

BULLETIN

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Aided by voting in the cities, repeal of the 18th amendment held almost a two to one majority as returns from 53 of the state's precincts were received late today.

The vote: For repeal 4134; against 2216.

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

REPEAL OF the 18th Amendment and conclusion of 13 years of national prohibition in America were accomplished facts today, despite unexpected defeat of the repeal cause in North and South Carolina.

he 34th and 35th states ratifying the 21st (repeal) amendment, were assured by wet votes in Pennsylvania and Ohio. Utah, on the basis of about 80 per cent of total returns, was the 36th.

But the anti-repealists had made a sensational eleventh hour stand and the dry triumphs in the Carolinas broke a previously uninterrupted swing of 33 states to the wet column.

SOUTH CAROLINA

Unofficial returns from 878 of South Carolina's 1222 precincts gave 32,471 votes for repeal and 34,672 votes against repeal.

NORTH CAROLINA

PENNSYLVANIA

Pennsylvania crashed into the repeal column by a vote of approximately 3½ to 1, on the basis of returns tabulated today. The vote in 1768 of Pennsylvania's 7926 precincts gave:

For repeal 354,517.
Against repeal 98,549.

OHIO

Returns from 7131 of Ohio's 8585 precincts gave:

For repeal 1,155,152.
Against repeal 499,492.

UTAH

Returns from 543 of Utah's 852 election districts, including the heavily populated districts, gave:

For repeal 68,048.
Against 42,022.

Utah's vote concluded a tremendous revolution in sentiment, unprecedented in its scope and brevity. The repeal amendment was submitted to the states less than a year ago. Last April 3 Michigan became the first state to approve ratification. Seven months and four days later Utah became the 36th.

Ends Dry Cause

Thus, in less than a year the bone dry cause, which dominated the nation for more than a decade, was eliminated as a national issue and robbed of all but regional and local significance. Two years ago, and even a year ago, expert American politicians had predicted that Prohibition could

It will remove from the relief rolls a major portion of those receiving the necessities of life on the basis of public aid and place them on regular employment. It is designed to remove from relief rolls all employable persons. Those hired by the Civil Works Administration will benefit by an immediate increase in income over their former relief allowances."

It was explained that projects on which the workers will be used will include not only the types on which relief work is now being given, but also on a wide range of employment in activities bordering on, but not covered in, the province of the Public Works Administration.

Field Expanded

"This expanded field," the statement said, "will enable the local civil works divisions to undertake considerably more construction and to use greater quantities of construction materials. Work relief has been limited almost entirely to work involving a minimum of materials, since expenditure of emergency relief funds under this method was necessarily

RUSS DIPLOMAT AND SECY. HULL IN CONFERENCE

Progress Reported Following Two Hour Meeting This Morning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Secretary of State Hull and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov of the Soviet Union, after a two hour talk today, issued a joint statement indicating progress in their attack on problems concerning Soviet-American relations

The conversations were described as a "friendly private discussion" preliminary in nature, which will be resumed at 4 p. m. at the state department.

After meeting newspapermen, the American and Soviet officials went to the White House for luncheon with President Roosevelt where the chief executive for the first time, will have an opportunity to begin serious discussions with the visiting Soviet official. They met formally last night.

The Hull-Litvinov communique said:

Friendly Parley

"There was a very friendly, private discussion of some of the outstanding questions involved in the matter of relations between the United States and the Union of Socialist Soviet republics.

"The conversation was entirely preliminary and detailed proposals were not discussed.

"Conversations will be resumed in the office of the secretary of state at 4 p. m."

Before the reading of the formal communique, Litvinov, frock coated and formal, but wearing a genial smile, said a few words to newspapermen.

"I can only say," he began, "that I am glad to be in Washington. I find the atmosphere here friendly and favorable to the conversations. The secretary and I have decided to issue a joint communique following our talks."

Extraordinary precautions were taken during the conversations and during Litvinov's entrance and exit to and from the state department building to insure his safety.

ARREST MAN WITH POLICE AUTOMOBILE

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Harold Key, 18, was arrested with a stolen Van Nuys, Cal., police cruiser car in his possession and is being held for California authorities. Key told Omaha police he "borrowed" the machine while serving as a jail trusty for a minor offense. A hitch-hiker he encountered paid for gasoline used in driving here.

The boy said his home was Kansas City, Mo.

Orange County Group Decides to Take Action at Meeting Today

AS A PROTEST against extensive water spreading actions started in Cucamonga creek, tributary to Santa Ana river, directors of the Orange County Water District, meeting this morning in Garden Grove, authorized Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton, aided by Directors C. Roy Browning and William Wallop, to draw up a resolution of protest to be forwarded to Cucamonga water interests.

Spreading works in the Cucamonga creek have been started since the time the Irvine suit was filed against upper interests in the Santa Ana river and tributaries. This was the reason members of the board gave for the protest now. The resolution, it was understood, will not protest the completion and construction of flood control works, but would protest water spreading which would be harmful to Orange county.

Progression of plans for spreading operations between the Chapman street and the Southern Pacific bridges was reported by the committee appointed to investigate possibilities. A report submitted by Director Browning recommended that high spots in the river channel be graded with the view of keeping the river in its path and conserving water. It is the hope of the board to obtain use of tractors and other equipment from the county, and to use either R. F. C. or C. C. C. labor on the project. The committee was authorized to go ahead

ACE HUDKINS HELD ON ROBBERY COUNT

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 8.—Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska wildcat," and Dave Chalmers, both of Los Angeles, were under arrest here today charged with suspicion of robbery following their alleged refusal to pay for a tank of gasoline.

The pair was arrested during a fight with George Kirkoff, father of Chalmer's estranged wife, who had disarmed Hudkins and clubbed the fighter over the head with the latter's own gun, according to police.

Hudkins and Chalmers, police said, stopped at a gasoline station operated by Joe Rostoker, and after filling their tank, drove away without paying.

Hudkins was identified by a fighter's license issued by the state athletic commission.

Political "Boss" Unseated After Controlling His City for 50 Years

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—(UP)—The long rule of the Vare Republican machine, one of the oldest and most powerful in America, seemed to be broken today following an unprecedented voters' revolution. The political dynasty was founded by the three Vare brothers 50 years ago and has ruled with few interruptions since.

Only one Vare candidate apparently was victorious. The Democratic plurality for other offices was steadily mounting.

The only consolation gained by William S. Vare was the recovery of William F. Campbell, candidate for coroner.

Long before the knowledge of the revolt that cost him his throne became general, Vare had fled to the seclusion of his Florida estate.

His departure from the political stage of his native city marked the end of an unbroken line of Republican chieftains who traced their political heritage from Thaddeus Stevens, of Civil war fame, through Matt Quay, Penrose and Jim McNichol to the Vare regime.

Vare, Republican national committman from Pennsylvania and until yesterday undisputed "boss" of Philadelphia, did not linger at Waterloo after rumblings of revolt reached his ears.

Complete Rout

His lieutenants stood guard over the headquarters of the Republican city committee as the swiftly mounting Democratic majority attested their complete rout.

Democrats held a victory torchlight parade in Philadelphia. They celebrated their victories in Lancaster, Scranton and Pittsburgh while Republican headquarters in these cities were dark.

Republicans had some consolation that their Wilkesbarre candidates won. They had fought hard to hold their strategic points on the theory that "as Pennsylvania went today it will probably go next year." Democrats realizing this took every possible ad-

GOVERNMENT PRICE OF GOLD IS $33.05

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—The government today raised its price on newly-mined American gold to $33.05 an ounce from the $32.84 level of yesterday. The price was an overnight advance of 21 cents an ounce.

Today's Washington price was 49 cents above the world price set in London today.

The London price today was 131 shillings 10 pence, up 1 shilling 10 1-2 pence from yesterday, at the early high exchange rate for the pound ($4.94) this was equivalent to $32.56 an ounce.

The dollar, on today's gold quotation, was worth 62.54 cents as compared with 62.94 cents yesterday.

BROADCASTING FIRM REJECTED ON PLEA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Application of the Columbia Broadcasting System for admission of its news gatherers to the press galleries of congress has been rejected by the standing committee of correspondents. The issue raised probably will be submitted by the radio organization to congress in their effort to obtain access to the restricted areas.

Samuel W. Bell, chairman of the standing committee, advised the broadcasting system of the rejection in a letter which explained that the rules of congress itself restrict use of the galleries to representatives of daily newspapers and of press associations.

THIRTY SIX STATES VOTE FOR REPEAL

Kentucky Believed Wet as Counting of Votes is Started This Morning

BULLETIN

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 8.—(UP)—Aided by voting in the cities, repeal of the 18th amendment held almost a two to one majority as returns from 53 of the state's precincts were received late today.

The vote: For repeal 4134; against 2216.

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

REPEAL OF the 18th Amendment and conclusion of 13 years of national prohibition in America were accomplished facts today, despite unexpected defeat of the repeal cause in North and South Carolina.

he 34th and 35th states ratifying the 21st (repeal) amendment, were assured by wet votes in Pennsylvania and Ohio. Utah, on the basis of about 80 per cent of total returns, was the 36th.

But the anti-repealists had made a sensational eleventh hour stand and the dry triumphs in the Carolinas broke a previously uninterrupted swing of 33 states to the wet column.

SOUTH CAROLINA

NORTH CAROLINA

PENNSYLVANIA

Pennsylvania crashed into the repeal column by a vote of approximately 3½ to 1, on the basis of returns tabulated today. The vote in 1768 of Pennsylvania's 7926 precincts gave:

For repeal 354,517.
Against repeal 98,549.

OHIO

Returns from 7131 of Ohio's 8585 precincts gave:

For repeal 1,155,152.
Against repeal 499,492.

UTAH

Returns from 543 of Utah's 852 election districts, including the heavily populated districts, gave:

For repeal 68,048.
Against 42,022.

Utah's vote concluded a tremendous revolution in sentiment, unprecedented in its scope and brevity. The repeal amendment was submitted to the states less than a year ago. Last April 3 Michigan became the first state to approve ratification. Seven months and four days later Utah became the 36th.

Ends Dry Cause

Thus, in less than a year the bone dry cause, which dominated the nation for more than a decade, was eliminated as a national issue and robbed of all but regional and local significance. Two years ago, and even a year ago, expert American politicians had predicted that Prohibition could

REPEAL - HOW THEY TOOK IT

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

WASHINGTON— Jouett Shouse, president of the Association Against the 18th Amendment: "The plain truth is that the mighty resurgent wave of public opinion that has achieved the result . . . has not come from the politicians. It has had its origin in the people themselves. The politicians, for the most part, have been afraid of it."

WESTERVILLE, O. — Dr. Howard Russell, founder of Anti-Saloon league: "American voters have repealed prohibition. They have been deceived by millionaires who want liquor to pay their income taxes. I predict the pendulum will swing back. Voters will cry for prohibition when they know the truth."

CHICAGO—Colonel Ira L. Reeves, president of the Crusaders, wet organization, said: "The wet fight is not yet won. A more serious situation than prohibition is threatened, the return of the open saloon. We need an adequate control without the dangerous restraints."

WASHINGTON — F. Scott McBride, general superintendent Anti-Saloon league: "Administration influence, patronage pressure, partisan coercion, and the unjustifiable linking of repeal with the recovery program made a decision on the merits of prohibition impossible."

GRANITE FALLS, Minn.— Andrew Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, said: "The wets have posed as friends of temperance and law enforcement. I am willing to give them a chance to make good. The high liquor taxes now proposed will make this a bootlegger's paradise."

EVANSTON, Ill. — Official statement of the Women's Christian Temperance Union said: "Good sportsmanship demanded a continuation of prohibition. Moral forces should mobilize in a campaign of education to carry on the fight for a return of prohibition. The nation is left almost entirely without defense against liquor."

MOSCOW, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Soviet authorities formally warned the Japanese Acting Consul-General at Vladivostok that further unauthorized flights of Japanese airplanes over Soviet territory will have "disagreeable consequences," he United Press learned tonight.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—King Mohammed Nadir Khan, of Afghanistan, hah been assassinated, the legation here announced tonight. He was 53 years old and proclaimed ruler of the oriental kingdom in 1929.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(UP)—President Rufus C. Dawes of a Century of Progress exposition announced late today the board of trustees had voted to reopen the world's fair June 1, 1934, subject to passage of necessary legislation.

LAGUARDIA IS CHOSEN MAYOR FOR NEW YORK

ministration. It had elected William C. Dodge district attorney, not only over fusion's aristocratic Jacob Gould Schurman, jr., but also over Ferdinand Pecora, recovery party candidate of recent national fame for his conduct of the United States senate's investigation of Wall Street.

Keeps Presidency

Tammany also clung to the borough presidency of Manhattan, returning Samuel Levy to office by a narrow margin over fusion's candidate, Langdon W. Post.

The victory of fusion, arising out of two major circumstances—the revelations of Samuel Seabury's legislative investigation into municipal corruption, and the desperate financial situation resulting from years of extravagance—was complete and convincing.

It marked the first time in 20 years that control of city hall had been wrested from the Columbia Order or the Society of St. Tammany. It marked the second time in two generations that the citizenry, aroused by revelations of a purported liaison between politics and crime, had been sufficiently aroused to vote down this powerful political system.

Fiorello LaGuardia, the mayor-elect, is one of the most dynamic figures in New York politics, and the direct antithesis of his first name which, translated, means "little flower." In at least 30 of the 51 years of his life, he has hunted and generally found trouble.

World War Hero

He was a war hero as an aviator on the Italian front—and while he was absent on leave from congress, to which he had been elected as a Socialist.

He returned to Washington and fought profiteers, fought prohibition, and finally fought the Hoover-Mellon administration.

In 1929, he ran for mayor against James J. Walker, and was snowed under by the wise-cracking mayor.

His great opporunity came after his retirement from congress in the Democratic landslide last year, when the investigation of the city government, under the insistent probes of Samuel Seabury and his associates began to bear fruit.

As a result of that investigation, New York's sheriff was removed from office; a dozen crooked detectives went to prison; an equal number of magistrates resigned, fled, or were ousted; the mysterious "tin boxes and safes" of Tammany leaders were explored and revealed millions in unexplained hoards.

Coalition Movement

Coming in an era when the taxpayers were feeling the pinch of hard times, when the city was reputedly nearing bankruptcy and was borrowing from hand to mouth from increasingly reluctant bankers, these revelations presented an opportunity for a fusion movement.

Lt Guardia was chosen to lead it, and had the situation well in hand when the campaign was complicated by McKee's entrance, as a second Tammany foe. McKee called his group the "recovery party," and his managers hinted at the tacit approval of men high in Washington. He had the "personal but not official" backing of Postmaster General James A. Farley.

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 8. (To the Editor of The Register:) Every time some country gets to thinking it has a dictator why along comes the old master dictator of all and shows 'em really how to dictate. They applauded too loud for Mr. Balbo on his arrival in Italy and Mussolini couldn't help but hear it, so now Mussolini is head of the aviation himself. Next year at Chicago's second Century of Progress why Italy will send a hundred planes and Mussolini will grow a beard and ride in the front plane. Gold went up 17 cents yesterday but they can't get anything to go up with it. Trouble with us is we can't get anything to go up without the government buying it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

SPREADING OF WATER DRAWS BOARD PROTEST

as quickly as possible with the spreading plan.

Discussing the Irvine suit, Director Browning suggested that it might be advisable for the board to become a party to the suit if adjustments are made with the Lytle and Mill creek interests and not with other parties to the suit. Browning expressed the opinion that the matter could be settled with the Santa Ana river people.

Financial matters occupied considerable of the discussion period time, Attorney Menton giving the opinion that the board could issue warrants representing not over five cents on the $100 assessed valuation of the district. Menton said that members of the board would not be liable personally for expenses incurred if acts performed which incurred the expense were performed in good faith.

An application from Cal Lester for the position as secretary of the board was ordered filed for future reference.

The meeting was adjourned until November 22 at 2 p. m., the special meeting being arranged for to adopt the resolution protesting spreading in the Cucamonga creek area.

vantage to crush what they termed as "bossism."

Another major upset was that of the Republican organization in Pittsburgh headed by W. L. Mellon, nephew of the former secretary of the treasury. William N. McNair, Democratic mayoral candidate, appeared to have a safe lead over Mayor John S. Herron, backed by the organization.

'Frisco Votes Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—(UP)—San Francisco voters rejected a plan for municipal ownership of electrical distribution but approved other public bond issues totaling $20,480,000 complete unofficial returns of the municipal election showed today.

The electorate of the city which owns its own water and trolley systems voted 71,465 to 72,773 on the proposal to spend $6,308,000 on development of municipal electrical distribution. The money would have been expended for a power dam, transmission lines, and city-wide distribution lines.

The municipal ownership plan was the most controversial of the 13 bond proposals offered by city officials in a $35,000,000 public work program. Federal aid was expected to increase the proposed expenditures by about $10,000,000. Supporters of the issues urged their approval to "aid the NRA give more men work."

Five of the proposals received the necessary two-thirds vote in unofficial tabulations of an election in which 161,599 ballots were cast. Seven in addition to the municipal electrical system plan were defeated.

Socialist Elected

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 8.—(UP)—The first Socialist city administration ever to be elected in traditionally orthodox New England was ready today to assume office under leadership of Mayor-elect Jasper McLevy.

McLevy, member of the Socialist party national executive committee, had been running for mayor in this industrial city for 20 years, without success until yesterday.

"I intend to administer the affairs of this city with common sense and sound business judgment," the victorious party leader told the United Press.

COUZENS IS MAYOR

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Frank Couzens, 31, was elected mayor by a majority of nearly two to one over his veteran opponent, former Mayor Philip Breitmeyer, final returns of Tuesday's elections showed today.

He was elected just 15 years after his father, James Couzens, now U. S. senator, was chosen for the same office.

P.-T. A. OPPOSES BLOCK BOOKING IN MOVIE CODE

Block booking of motion pictures, as provided in the new NRA code for the cinema industry, is strongly opposed by members of the Santa Ana Parent-Teacher council, who voted in a general meeting here yesterday to send a protest to President Roosevelt.

Tickets for "Little Women," film to be shown in Santa Ana soon, will be sold by the council, with its members to receive a percentage to build up the funds of the P.-T. A.

Mrs. Newell Moore, membership chairman, was placed in charge of a pre-school study program for the 1021 active members of Santa Ana's association. A survey is to be conducted soon to find how many members will be interested in the program.

Chief of Police Floyd Howard gave a brief talk on the safety patrol of the schools. He explained there are five schools with the junior police—high school, two junior highs, Catholic and Fremont—and that it is the purpose of the safety patrols to work in conjunction with them.

Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, penny drive chairman, announced that $20:39 has been collected for the student loan fund.

Dr. Margarete Baker reported that 35 gallons of milk are being provided the schools by Santa Ana service clubs, in addition to regular contributions by the board of education and dairy association.

Announcement was made that the Founders' day luncheon of the association is being planned for February.

It was voted to express appreciation to the manager of Walker's State theater in allowing council members to view a preview picture of social hygiene yesterday.

THIRTY SIXTH STATE VOTES DOWN DRY LAW

not be repealed for another 10 years.

Not until the final moment did the dry cause find winning support. The first 33 states were unanimously wet, although the elections were hotly contested. Then, with six states voting in one day, North and South Carolina remained loyal to the drys.

Even with the approval of 36 states, repeal cannot become an actuality for almost a month. Should Kentucky approve repeal, the effective date will be Dec. 5. If it disapproves, it will be Dec. 6.

The repeal elections have been to select delegates to conventions which technically accomplish ratification. If Kentucky is wet, it will hold the 33rd convention Nov. 27. Pennsylvania, Utah and Ohio then would follow Dec. 5 with the 34th, 35th and 36th. Should Kentucky be dry, this ratification process would be moved back by one state, making the Maine convention Dec. 6 the 36th.

Observers gave the Roosevelt administration principal credit for the sweeping repeal victory.

Nineteen states are ready to permit sale of hard liquor when repeal becomes effective, which is greater than the number of wet states before prohibition was put into the constitution.

Twenty-eight states will remain officially dry, although several special legislative sessions may repeal state dry laws. New Hampshire will permit sale of wines and beers provided alcoholic content is not greater than 6 per cent.

In every wet state, hard liquor sales will be under some form of state restriction, all measures already adopted or to be adopted by December 6 specifically forbidding the open saloon as it was known in 1918. Of the liquor control measures, the Canadian package system (sale by licensed stores for consumption in the home) is most widely favored.

CONTROL PROBLEMS RAISED BY REPEAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Prohibition repeal raised perplexing problems of liquor control today with the spearhead of controversy the old issue of the saloon.

Jouett Shouse, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, demanded legal provision for places "where men can gather openly and buy a drink at retail without the expense of service and food." Only in this way can the speakeasy be abolished with certainty, he said.

"Call it a saloon, if you will," Shouse said.

Continue Battle

Senator Sheppard, Dem., Texas, father of the 18th amendment, announced plans to maintain the prohibition battle force in congress would be worked out before it convenes in January. The dry strategy was expected to be a fight for high taxes that would make the cost of liquor almost prohibitive.

BRITISH LEADERS ASK PREPAREDNESS

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Powerful British militarists today sped a campaign to force the government of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald to abandon its pacifist policies and enter itno a huge preparedness campaign on land, sea and air.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, opened the way for the campaign to add to Britain's naval and military forces. Winston Churchill, conservative champion of a "big navy," immediately followed up the secretary's lead.

Churchill in a fiery address during debate on foreign affairs charged that Germany was arming secretly.

GRAVEL SUIT AGAINST COUNTY IS DISMISSED

Suit of L. D. Reynolds against the board of supervisors, and other county officers seeking to enjoin them from purchasing gravel from other firms in violation of his contract with the county was dismissed this morning with prejudice.

Dismissal of the suit followed a compromise yesterday whereby the board of supervisors by a four to one vote agreed to live up to the terms of the contract. The only dissenting vote was that of Supervisor John Mitchell of the third district.

Under the contract, which was for three years, the supervisors agreed that all gravel used in maintenance and repair work should be purchased from Reynolds, providing that the project for which it was used cost less than $2000, removing the necessity for calling for bids.

In his complaint Reynolds alleged that County Purchasing Agent F. C. Slabaugh had purchased gravel for repair jobs from other firms and that warrants for payment of the gravel were issued by County Auditor William Lambert, approved by the supervisors and paid by Treasurer E. B. Trago.

The compromise was effected yesterday on motion of Supervisor George Jeffrey and seconded by W. C. Jerome. The motion was made following a conference of board members, Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton and L. L. Blodget, attorney for Reynolds.

FOUR INJURED IN ANAHEIM WRECKS

Two Anaheim boys were seriously injured last night when a motorcycle they were riding collided with a Motor Transit bus and earlier in the evening, two Orange women were hurt in an automobile accident near the "Gypsy" Smith tabernacle in Anaheim.

Robert McDuell and Ralph Greer, R. D. 2, Anaheim, were the youths hurt at 10 p. m. at La Palma and Palm streets. They were given emergency treatments and taken to their homes.

Mrs. Ben Milligan, 579 North Olive street, Orange, and a Mrs. Andrian were slightly hurt at 7 p. m. when cars driven by Milligan and a man giving the name of La Porta, collided at Broadway and Clementine streets.

SUPERVISORS HALT PHEASANT HUNTING

Adopting the ordinance as an emergency measure the supervisors yesterday closed Orange county to the hunting of pheasants for even the five days allotted under the state game laws. The state declared an open season for five days, starting November 15, on the game birds.

The ordinance, as adopted yesterday was made an emergency measure to preserve public peace. According to the measure "there is an insistent demand in the county for the protection of wild pheasants and if hunting them is permitted serious trouble may result."

The measure also pointed out that an effort is being made in this county to breed these birds and permit them to propagate and if hunters are allowed to shoot them, even for five days, it would result in the total destruction of the present supply.

Guthrie To Speak At Travel Class

Henry W. Guthrie, financial secretary of the First M. E. church will be one of the speakers for the Travel class at Frances Willard Junior High school tomorrow evening, when J. W. Jenson, general passenger agent of the Pacific Greyhound lines gives his story and pictures of the trip across the country and up the Redwood highway. Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie were passengers of the line on a trip from Los Angeles to Rochester, N. Y. The class is under the direction of Julia Hyde, of the travel department of the Commercial bank.

confined to relief allowances in the form of work relief agencies."

The Civil Works Administration will be financed jointly by funds from the public works, federal emergency relief and states, cities, counties and towns will be required to meet their share of the program.

President Roosevelt believes that this bold stroke will mean that at least two-thirds of the families in the country now on relief rolls will be placed on a self sustaining basis.

Relief Rolls

Approximately 3,000,000 families now are on relief rolls, and approximately 2,000,000 adult members of these families are earning relief in the form of wages on "made work" projects.

At the same time it was revealed that since April, 1,500,000 families have been taken off relief rolls through a speeding up of industry. In September alone, 250,000 families were made self-sustaining.

In connection with the whole picture of the domestic economic situation, the White House also revealed that statistics for the week ending Oct. 25 showed a slight rise in the price of farm commodities with the exception of hides and leathers and a fractional drop in the cost of retail foods.

The administration believes that the placing of these millions of men in jobs will suffice until the expected spring upturn in business which generally begins around February.

LIONS TO OBSERVE OLD TIMERS DAY

Tomorrow's luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club at James cafe will feature "Old Timers Day," when all former members of the club will be special honor guests, according to announcement today by Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, past president of the club, and chairman of the committee for this annual event.

Invitations have been extended to all former Lions living in this vicinity and indications are that a large number of them will be on hand to enjoy the program. It is hoped that all past presidents of the club will be present, so that a group picture of them can be taken for the club records, Rowland said.

PASTOR TO TALK FOR BREAKFASTERS

The Rev. Albert Kelley, minister of the United Presbyterian church, will be the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Orange County Breakfast club tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock in James' cafe, it was announced today by Barney J. Koster, program chairman.

The speaker of the day will be introduced by the Rev. Harry Owings, former club president, who will be in charge of the program. J. Leslie Steffensen will sing several solos as the entertainment feature of the meeting.

Dr. C. D. Ball, pioneer resident of Santa Ana and the Breakfast club, will bring as a guest Col. Harry Mathews, member of old Company L, California National Guards, who probably will be called upon for a brief talk.

TRUSTEES IN STAND AGAINST TENURE LAW

W. M. Burke, member of the Santa Ana board of education, reported to that group last night that at a meeting of the committee of the State School Trustees' association, held Saturday, that group agreed to be bound by a resolution adopted urging repeal of the teachers' tenure law.

Burke said that members of the committee, representing the trustees group, will attend the meeting next Saturday of a special committee representing the trustees, California Teachers' association and state board of education, pledged to present the trustees' association resolution.

According to Burke the committee meeting in Los Angeles last Saturday has been asked by the state board of education to perfect plans for repealing the teachers' tenure law and securing passage of provisions for dismissal of teachers only by unanimous vote of the board of education or by a majority vote plus the approval of the superintendent of schools.

It has been discovered by the committee that an independent group composed largely of unemployed teachers in California is circulating an initiative petition for the absolute repeal of the teachers' tenure law without providing anything in its place. These petitions are bein circulated both in Northern and Southern California in the expectation of getting the proposal on the ballot at the next general election, it is said.

DEALERS OBJECT TO IMPRESSION GIVEN

Emphasizing that their protest to the city council demanded that a furniture dealer on Spurgeon street be forced to identify himself as a dealer, four furniture store heads announced today that they would continue their fight against alleged unfair practices.

A letter to the council Monday night asked why a business license had been granted to anyone selling furniture in a residence zone. It said the public should be protected by forcing the dealer to correct his advertising and not convey the impression that he was a private citizen sacrificing furniture because he was moving away. The letter was signed by owners of the DuBois Furniture company, W. B. Hampton Furniture company, V. L. Brown Furniture store and the Luers Furniture store.

Clippings exhibited by the dealers revealed that the dealer being criticized used his residence address and emphasized the necessity of selling out. They pointed out that there was no attempt to force anyone to quit business but that in fairness to business firms, no one should be allowed to conduct a business in a residence zone.

LAGUARDIA IS CHOSEN MAYOR FOR NEW YORK

ministration. It had elected William C. Dodge district attorney, not only over fusion's aristocratic Joseph Gould Schurman, jr., but also over Ferdinand Pecora, recently party candidate of recent national fame for his conduct of the United States senate's investigation of Wall Street.

Keeps Presidency

Tammany also clung to the borough presidency of Manhattan, returning Samuel Levy to office by a narrow margin over fusion's candidate, Langdon W. Post.

The victory of fusion, arising out of two major circumstances—the revelations of Samuel Seabury's legislative investigation into municipal corruption, and the desperate financial situation resulting from years of extravagance—was complete and convincing.

It marked the first time in 20 years that control of city hall had been wrested from the Columbia Order or the Society of St. Tammany. It marked the second time in two generations that the citizenry, aroused by revelations of a purported liaison between politics and crime, had been sufficiently aroused to vote down this powerful political system.

Fiorello LaGuardia, the mayor-elect, is one of the most dynamic figures in New York politics, and the direct antithesis of his first name which, translated, means "little flower." In at least 30 of the 51 years of his life, he has hunted and generally found trouble.

World War Hero

He was a war hero as an aviator on the Italian front—and while he was absent on leave from congress, to which he had been elected as a Socialist.

He returned to Washington and fought profiteers, fought prohibition, and finally fought the Hoover-Mellon administration.

In 1929, he ran for mayor against James J. Walker, and was snowed under by the wise-cracking mayor.

His great opporunity came after his retirement from congress in the Democratic landslide last year, when the investigation of the city government, under the insistent probes of Samuel Seabury and his associates began to bear fruit.

As a result of that investigation, New York's sheriff was removed from office; a dozen crooked detectives went to prison; an equal number of magistrates resigned, fled, or were ousted; the mysterious "tin boxes and safes" of Tammany leaders were explored and revealed millions in unexplained hoards.

Coalition Movement

Coming in an era when the taxpayers were feeling the pinch of hard times, when the city was reputedly nearing bankruptcy and was borrowing from hand to mouth from increasingly reluctant bankers, these revelations presented an opportunity for a fusion movement.

Lt Guardia was chosen to lead it, and had the situation well in hand when the campaign was complicated by McKee's entrance, as a second Tammany foe. McKee called his group the "recovery party," and his managers hinted at the tacit approval of men high in Washington. He had the "personal but not official" backing of Postmaster General James A. Farley.

as quickly as possible with the spreading plan.

Discussing the Irvine suit, Director Browning suggested that it might be advisable for the board to become a party to the suit if adjustments are made with the Lytle and Mill creek interests and not with other parties to the suit. Browning expressed the opinion that the matter could be settled with the Santa Ana river people.

Financial matters occupied considerable of the discussion period time, Attorney Menton giving the opinion that the board could issue warrants representing not over five cents on the $100 assessed valuation of the district. Menton said that members of the board would not be liable personally for expenses incurred if acts performed which incurred the expense were performed in good faith.

An application from Cal Lester for the position as secretary of the board was ordered filed for future reference.

The meeting was adjourned until November 22 at 2 p. m., the special meeting being arranged for to adopt the resolution protesting spreading in the Cucamonga creek area.

'Frisco Votes Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—(UP)—San Francisco voters rejected a plan for municipal ownership of electrical distribution but approved other public bond issues totaling $20,480,000 complete unofficial returns of the municipal election showed today.

The electorate of the city which owns its own water and trolley systems voted 71,465 to 72,773 on the proposal to spend $6,308,000 on development of municipal electrical distribution. The money would have been expended for a power dam, transmission lines, and city-wide distribution lines.

The municipal ownership plan was the most controversial of the 13 bond proposals offered by city officials in a $35,000,000 public work program. Federal aid was expected to increase the proposed expenditures by about $10,000,000. Supporters of the issues urged their approval to "aid the NRA give more men work."

Five of the proposals received the necessary two-thirds vote in unofficial tabulations of an election in which 161,599 ballots were cast. Seven in addition to the municipal electrical system plan were defeated.

Socialist Elected

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 8.—(UP)—The first Socialist city administration ever to be elected in traditionally orthodox New England was ready today to assume office under leadership of Mayor-elect Jasper McLevy.

McLevy, member of the Socialist party national executive committee, had been running for mayor in this industrial city for 20 years, without success until yesterday.

"I intend to administer the affairs of this city with common sense and sound business judgment," the victorious party leader told the United Press.

COUZENS IS MAYOR

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Frank Couzens, 31, was elected mayor by a majority of nearly two to one over his veteran opponent, former Mayor Philip Breitmeyer, final returns of Tuesday's elections showed today.

He was elected just 15 years after his father, James Couzens, now U. S. senator, was chosen for the same office.

P.-T.A. OPPOSES BLOCK BOOKING IN MOVIE CODE

Block booking of motion pictures, as provided in the new NRA code for the cinema industry, is strongly opposed by members of the Santa Ana Parent-Teacher council, who voted in a general meeting here yesterday to send a protest to President Roosevelt.

Tickets for "Little Women," film to be shown in Santa Ana soon, will be sold by the council, with its members to receive a percentage to build up the funds of the P.-T. A.

Mrs. Newell Moore, membership chairman, was placed in charge of a pre-school study program for the 1021 active members of Santa Ana's association. A survey is to be conducted soon to find how many members will be interested in the program.

Chief of Police Floyd Howard gave a brief talk on the safety patrol of the schools. He explained there are five schools with the junior police—high school, two junior highs, Catholic and Fremont—and that it is the purpose of the safety patrols to work in conjunction with them.

Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, penny drive chairman, announced that $20:39 has been collected for the student loan fund.

Dr. Margarete Baker reported that 35 gallons of milk are being provided the schools by Santa Ana service clubs, in addition to regular contributions by the board of education and dairy association.

Announcement was made that the Founders' day luncheon of the association is being planned for February.

It was voted to express appreciation to the manager of Walker's State theater in allowing council members to view a preview picture of social hygiene yesterday.

THIRTY SIXTH STATE VOTES DOWN DRY LAW

not be repealed for another 10 years.

Not until the final moment did the dry cause find winning support. The first 33 states were unanimously wet, although the elections were hotly contested. Then, with six states voting in one day, North and South Carolina remained loyal to the drys.

Even with the approval of 36 states, repeal cannot become an actuality for almost a month. Should Kentucky approve repeal, the effective date will be Dec. 5. If it disapproves, it will be Dec. 6.

The repeal elections have been to select delegates to conventions which technically accomplish ratification. If Kentucky is wet, it will hold the 33rd convention Nov. 27. Pennsylvania, Utah and Ohio then would follow Dec. 5 with the 34th, 35th and 36th. Should Kentucky be dry, this ratification process would be moved back by one state, making the Maine convention Dec. 6 the 36th.

Observers gave the Roosevelt administration principal credit for the sweeping repeal victory.

Nineteen states are ready to permit sale of hard liquor when repeal becomes effective, which is greater than the number of wet states before prohibition was put into the constitution.

Twenty-eight states will remain officially dry, although several special legislative sessions may repeal state dry laws. New Hampshire will permit sale of wines and beers provided alcoholic content is not greater than 6 per cent.

In every wet state, hard liquor sales will be under some form of state restriction, all measures already adopted or to be adopted by December 6 specifically forbidding the open saloon as it was known in 1918. Of the liquor control measures, the Canadian package system (sale by licensed stores for consumption in the home) is most widely favored.

CONTROL PROBLEMS RAISED BY REPEAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Prohibition repeal raised perplexing problems of liquor control today with the spearhead of controversy the old issue of the saloon.

Jouett Shouse, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, demanded legal provision for places "where men can gather openly and buy a drink at retail without the expense of service and food." Only in this way can the speakeasy be abolished with certainty, he said.

"Call it a saloon, if you will," Shouse said.

Continue Battle

Senator Sheppard, Dem., Texas, father of the 18th amendment, announced plans to maintain the prohibition battle force in congress would be worked out before it convenes in January. The dry strategy was expected to be a fight for high taxes that would make the cost of liquor almost prohibitive.

BRITISH LEADERS ASK PREPAREDNESS

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Powerful British militarists today sped a campaign to force the government of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald to abandon its pacifist policies and enter itno a huge preparedness campaign on land, sea and air.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, opened the way for the campaign to add to Britain's naval and military forces. Winston Churchill, conservative champion of a "big navy," immediately followed up the secretary's lead.

Churchill in a fiery address during debate on foreign affairs charged that Germany was arming secretly.

GRAVEL SUIT AGAINST COUNTY IS DISMISSED

Suit of L. D. Reynolds against the board of supervisors, and other county officers seeking to enjoin them from purchasing gravel from other firms in violation of his contract with the county was dismissed this morning with prejudice.

Dismissal of the suit followed a compromise yesterday whereby the board of supervisors by a four to one vote agreed to live up to the terms of the contract. The only dissenting vote was that of Supervisor John Mitchell of the third district.

Under the contract, which was for three years, the supervisors agreed that all gravel used in maintenance and repair work should be purchased from Reynolds, providing that the project for which it was used cost less than $2000, removing the necessity for calling for bids.

In his complaint Reynolds alleged that County Purchasing Agent F. C. Slabaugh had purchased gravel for repair jobs from other firms and that warrants for payment of the gravel were issued by County Auditor William Lambert, approved by the supervisors and paid by Treasurer E. B. Trago.

The compromise was effected yesterday on motion of Supervisor George Jeffrey and seconded by W. C. Jerome. The motion was made following a conference of board members, Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton and L. L. Blodget, attorney for Reynolds.

FOUR INJURED IN ANAHEIM WRECKS

Two Anaheim boys were seriously injured last night when a motorcycle they were riding collided with a Motor Transit bus and earlier in the evening, two Orange women were hurt in an automobile accident near the "Gypsy" Smith tabernacle in Anaheim.

Robert McDuell and Ralph Greer, R. D. 2, Anaheim, were the youths hurt at 10 p. m. at La Palma and Palm streets. They were given emergency treatments and taken to their homes.

Mrs. Ben Milligan, 579 North Olive street, Orange, and a Mrs. Andrian were slightly hurt at 7 p. m. when cars driven by Milligan and a man giving the name of La Porta, collided at Broadway and Clementine streets.

SUPERVISORS HALT PHEASANT HUNTING

Adopting the ordinance as an emergency measure the supervisors yesterday closed Orange county to the hunting of pheasants for even the five days allotted under the state game laws. The state declared an open season for five days, starting November 15, on the game birds.

The ordinance, as adopted yesterday was made an emergency measure to preserve public peace. According to the measure "there is an insistent demand in the county for the protection of wild pheasants and if hunting them is permitted serious trouble may result."

The measure also pointed out that an effort is being made in this county to breed these birds and permit them to propagate and if hunters are allowed to shoot them, even for five days, it would result in the total destruction of the present supply.

confined to relief allowances in the form of work relief agencies."

The Civil Works Administration will be financed jointly by funds from the public works, federal emergency relief and states, cities, counties and towns will be required to meet their share of the program.

President Roosevelt believes that this bold stroke will mean that at least two-thirds of the families in the country now on relief rolls will be placed on a self sustaining basis.

Relief Rolls

Approximately 3,000,000 families now are on relief rolls, and approximately 2,000,000 adult members of these families are earning relief in the form of wages on "made work" projects.

At the same time it was revealed that since April, 1,500,000 families have been taken off relief rolls through a speeding up of industry. In September alone, 250,000 families were made self-sustaining.

In connection with the whole picture of the domestic economic situation, the White House also revealed that statistics for the week ending Oct. 25 showed a slight rise in the price of farm commodities with the exception of hides and leathers and a fractional drop in the cost of retail foods.

The administration believes that the placing of these millions of men in jobs will suffice until the expected spring upturn in business which generally begins around February.

LIONS TO OBSERVE OLD TIMERS DAY

Tomorrow's luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club at James cafe will feature "Old Timers Day," when all former members of the club will be special honor guests, according to announcement today by Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, past president of the club, and chairman of the committee for this annual event.

Invitations have been extended to all former Lions living in this vicinity and indications are that a large number of them will be on hand to enjoy the program. It is hoped that all past presidents of the club will be present, so that a group picture of them can be taken for the club records, Rowland said.

PASTOR TO TALK FOR BREAKFASTERS

The Rev. Albert Kelley, minister of the United Presbyterian church, will be the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Orange County Breakfast club tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock in James' cafe, it was announced today by Barney J. Koster, program chairman.

The speaker of the day will be introduced by the Rev. Harry Owings, former club president, who will be in charge of the program. J. Leslie Steffensen will sing several solos as the entertainment feature of the meeting.

Dr. C. D. Ball, pioneer resident of Santa Ana and the Breakfast club, will bring as a guest Col. Harry Mathews, member of old Company L, California National Guards, who probably will be called upon for a brief talk.

TRUSTEES IN STAND AGAINST TENURE LAW

W. M. Burke, member of the Santa Ana board of education, reported to that group last night that at a meeting of the committee of the State School Trustees' association, held Saturday, that group agreed to be bound by a resolution adopted urging repeal of the teachers' tenure law.

Burke said that members of the committee, representing the trustees group, will attend the meeting next Saturday of a special committee representing the trustees, California Teachers' association and state board of education, pledged to present the trustees' association resolution.

According to Burke the committee meeting in Los Angeles last Saturday has been asked by the state board of education to perfect plans for repealing the teachers' tenure law and securing passage of provisions for dismissal of teachers only by unanimous vote of the board of education or by a majority vote plus the approval of the superintendent of schools.

It has been discovered by the committee that an independent group composed largely of unemployed teachers in California is circulating an initiative petition for the absolute repeal of the teachers' tenure law without providing anything in its place. These petitions are bein circulated both in Northern and Southern California in the expectation of getting the proposal on the ballot at the next general election, it is said.

DEALERS OBJECT TO IMPRESSION GIVEN

Emphasizing that their protest to the city council demanded that a furniture dealer on Spurgeon street be forced to identify himself as a dealer, four furniture store heads announced today that they would continue their fight against alleged unfair practices.

A letter to the council Monday night asked why a business license had been granted to anyone selling furniture in a residence zone. It said the public should be protected by forcing the dealer to correct his advertising and not convey the impression that he was a private citizen sacrificing furniture because he was moving away. The letter was signed by owners of the DuBois Furniture company, W. B. Hampton Furniture company, V. L. Brown Furniture store and the Luers Furniture store.

Clippings exhibited by the dealers revealed that the dealer being criticized used his residence address and emphasized the necessity of selling out. They pointed out that there was no attempt to force anyone to quit business but that in fairness to business firms, no one should be allowed to conduct a business in a residence zone.

New Westminster Building Sold To Santa Ana Woman

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 8.—The large building at the southwest intersection of Huntington Beach boulevard and Seventeenth street in New Westminster has been purchased by Mrs. Emily I. Allerman, of Santa Ana. The sale of the building was completed by the Ed L. Hensley Realty company. M. Parmlee, Long Beach man, was the former owner.

The same day the sale was completed, Mrs. Allerman signed a three-year lease with C. H. Day and K. A. Ritchey for the cafe at the corner. The cafe, which has been operated the past year by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall, was vacated by them the last of the week and their equipment was purchased by the new proprietors. Mr. and Mrs. Hall moved to their former home in Garden Grove.

Mr. Day is a Huntington Beach man and he and his wife will reside at the corner of Sixteenth and Cederwood streets, New Westminster. Ritchey is a Long Beach man and will remain in that city.

PUBLIC DANCES AT LEGION HALL TO BE STOPPED

Startling conditions which prevailed in Orange on streets adjacent to the American Legion clubhouse when public dances were staged in that building by Ray Minnix, who leased the clubhouse for these events on Wednesday and Saturday nights, were revealed at a meeting of the Orange city council yesterday when "a number of residents of that city appeared before the body to make a verbal protest against the dances which they declared brought intolerable drinking in their wake. A written protest was filed with the city clerk last month and was signed by 29 persons.

Residents of the district with one exception were unanimous in stating that so far as they knew, the dances themselves had been conducted in an orderly manner. Objections to the affairs were made on the grounds that many of the crowd attending were drinking to excess on the streets. Minnix had been summoned to appear to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

A counter petition, signed by 49 Legionnaires asking that the dances be continued, was filed by the American Legion, which it developed, received a large part of its income in rentals from Minnix who had been paying the Legion $75 a month for some months past. The petition was read by City Clerk T. H. Elijah.

To Stop Dances

At the close of the session Minnix agreed to close the dances after the one next Saturday night, stating that he did not care to hold them if the conditions outlined resulted.

Chief of Police B. F. Richards declared that the few police employed at night by the city of Orange could not leave the rest of the city unpatrolled on Wednesdays and Saturdays to police the streets adjacent to the dances. The liquor situation is going to get worse, he said, and will be materially worse in a short time, as it is almost impossible to care for a situation where liquor is carried in hip pockets.

It was brought out that Minnix had two officers, paid by himself and deputized by the Orange police department to keep order.

Nearby residents were offered drinks, it was declared, during the hearing, and one woman was told to go in the house if she did not want to drink, it was asserted. Testimony showed nearly all arrests made for intoxication last month were made on the streets near the dances.

W. O. Hart, representing the building committee of the Orange Legion, said that if conditions described existed, the residents of the neighborhood had been patient and if conditions could not be changed the dances should be eliminated. It was not the intention of the committee, he said, to subject anyone to such annoyance. He suggested establishing parking zones on Chapman avenue in the business district for dancers' cars. He said that his statement was not an official statement from the building board.

Gain Notoriety

Councilman A. H. Heim, said people in other cities have been asking why Orange allows such a condition to exist. He said there was no money for extra officers to police the dances.

It was asserted that the Orange Legion was not responsible for the dances in any way and that Minnix had done all possible to conduct them in an orderly way. Former Mayor W. E. Clement suggested the employment of officers to police the dances as an unemployment measure. Mayor Clyde Watson presided at the meeting and the council room was crowded, the overflow standing in the halls during the proceedings.

Mrs. Louise Dittmer, 176 South Lemon street, told council members that conditions in the neighborhood were impossible on nights dances were held owing to the great amount of drunnenness and the noise made by the revelers, not in the hall, she said, but in parked cars and on the streets.

Mrs. J. Patrick, a resident of the vicinity, declared that she had reported the dances as a nuisance several times, once to the sheriff's office. Because of the excessive drinking her grandchildren, she declared, were obliged to pick their way through their own yard over piles of whiskey bottles thrown by persons attending the dances. Mrs. F. G. Ober, 163 South Lemon street, stated that it was impossible to rent her apartments near the clubhouse owing to the noise on these nights.

Residents Shocked

Mrs. J. C. Rose, wife of the pastor of the Free Methodist church, at the corner of Lemon street and Almond avenue, said that one of the serious objections to the dances was the traspassing on private property. She said the church porch had been decorated with whiskey bottles and that indecent language used in the parker cars had shocked residents of the vicinity. Other dances held by the Legion and other groups did not disturb people of the neighborhood, she said.

Gustav Bethke, 216 South Lemon street, stated that trucks were parked in the neighborhood the nights of the dances and that while he did not see drinking among the crowds around them, bottles were found in the vicinity afterward. Flowers and lawns were ruined by trespassers, he said.

Mrs. J. T. McInnis protested against the dances, declaring that girls in her Sunday school class had related startling stories which they had gleaned from others. She said that she came to make an individual appeal for a clean city and that although she was president of the Orange Woman's club, she did not represent that organization. It was brought out that children of the neighborhood were collecting the bottles and selling them, sometimes sampling the remaining contents.

LOCAL LIQUOR LAWS WILL BE ENFORCED HERE

Over-anxious citizens desiring to celebrate the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment will be liable to all existing local, county and state ordinances until December 6 when the Twenty-first amendment goes into effect, it was emphasized today by city and county officials.

City Attorney Clyde Downing said today that although local option and ordinances would be swept away in December, there was no change until that time.

When the new amendment takes effect, the state board of equalization will have full power in issuing licenses for the sale and manufacture of wine, beer and liquor. Local police will only have jurisdiction regarding "nuisances" or abuses of licenses, sanitation or police regulations, it was pointed out.

"The fact that voters have indicated their desire to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and have, in fact, repealed it does not mean that the bars will be let down immediately in this county," District Attorney S. B. Kaufman said this morning.

He advised that people should not misunderstand the situation at this time. While repeal is assured, through the result of elections held yesterday in six states, the situation will remain unchanged in Orange county until December 5 when the repeal is actually effective.

Until the date the repeal amendment becomes effective rigid enforcement of present liquor laws in the county will continue. "It is just as unlawful to have intoxicating liquors today as it was yesterday," Kaufman said, "and possession of liquor, its transportation and use will continue to be unlawful until the date the repeal amendment becomes effective."

Sheriff Logan Jackson said today that he had not been advised of changes in laws and would continue to have his men enforce existing laws. The sheriff said that with repeal, his office would be restricted in liquor matters to the apprehension of drunken or reckless drivers and arresting intoxicated persons on public thoroughfares.

Await Action

When voters of California adopted Amendment Two, with the repeal of the Wright act, all local option and prohibitory laws were wiped out, effective when repeal was voted in the United States. The state constitution provides, however, that cities and counties are granted full power to adopt and enforce police and sanitary regulations. Both city and county however, must await action of the equalization board before the question "Who can sell?" is answered.

District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles announced today that he and other district attorneys of the state would continue their drive on drunken drivers.

"The repeal of the Eighteenth amendment leaves only one major law on the statute books of California covering the use and manufacture of liquor under which persons may be prosecuted for a felony. This law is the statute prohibiting the driving or operation of an automobile while intoxicated. It will be the duty of this office to continue the prosecution of such offenses as vigorously as in the past. We will continue to regard drunk drivers as potential murderers."

New Westminster Building Sold To Santa Ana Woman

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 8.—The large building at the southwest intersection of Huntington Beach boulevard and Seventeenth street in New Westminster has been purchased by Mrs. Emily I. Allerman, of Santa Ana. The sale of the building was completed by the Ed L. Hensley Realty company. M. Parmlee, Long Beach man, was the former owner.

The same day the sale was completed, Mrs. Allerman signed a three-year lease with C. H. Day and K. A. Ritchey for the cafe at the corner. The cafe, which has been operated the past year by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall, was vacated by them the last of the week and their equipment was purchased by the new proprietors. Mr. and Mrs. Hall moved to their former home in Garden Grove.

Mr. Day is a Huntington Beach man and he and his wife will reside at the corner of Sixteenth and Cederwood streets, New Westminster. Ritchey is a Long Beach man and will remain in that city.

Local Briefs

Stricken by a heart attack Mrs. Adella Anderson, former Santa Ana resident, passed away at Lake Elsinore yesterday, according to word received today by friends. She was the wife of Howard Anderson, retired farmer. Funeral services will be conducted at Lake Elsinore Friday at 2 p. m.

PUBLIC DANCES AT LEGION HALL TO BE STOPPED

Startling conditions which prevailed in Orange on streets adjacent to the American Legion clubhouse when public dances were staged in that building by Ray Minnix, who leased the clubhouse for these events on Wednesday and Saturday nights, were revealed at a meeting of the Orange city council yesterday when a number of residents of that city appeared before the body to make a verbal protest against the dances which they declared brought intolerable drinking in their wake. A written protest was filed with the city clerk last month and was signed by 29 persons.

Residents of the district with one exception were unanimous in stating that so far as they knew, the dances themselves had been conducted in an orderly manner. Objections to the affairs were made on the grounds that many of the crowd attending were drinking to excess on the streets. Minnix had been summoned to appear to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

A counter petition, signed by 49 Legionnaires asking that the dances be continued, was filed by the American Legion, which it developed, received a large part of its income in rentals from Minnix who had been paying the Legion $75 a month for some months past. The petition was read by City Clerk T. H. Elijah.

To Stop Dances

At the close of the session Minnix agreed to close the dances after the one next Saturday night, stating that he did not care to hold them if the conditions outlined resulted.

Chief of Police B. F. Richards declared that the few police employed at night by the city of Orange could not leave the rest of the city unpatrolled on Wednesdays and Saturdays to police the streets adjacent to the dances. The liquor situation is going to get worse, he said, and will be materially worse in a short time, as it is almost impossible to care for a situation where liquor is carried in hip pockets.

It was brought out that Minnix had two officers, paid by himself and deputized by the Orange police department to keep order.

Nearby residents were offered drinks, it was declared, during the hearing, and one woman was told to go in the house if she did not want to drink, it was asserted. Testimony showed nearly all arrests made for intoxication last month were made on the streets near the dances.

W. O. Hart, representing the building committee of the Orange Legion, said that if conditions described existed, the residents of the neighborhood had been patient and if conditions could not be changed the dances should be eliminated. It was not the intention of the committee, he said, to subject anyone to such annoyance. He suggested establishing parking zones on Chapman avenue in the business district for dancers' cars. He said that his statement was not an official statement from the building board.

Gain Notoriety

Councilman A. H. Heim, said people in other cities have been asking why Orange allows such a condition to exist. He said there was no money for extra officers to police the dances.

It was asserted that the Orange Legion was not responsible for the dances in any way and that Minnix had done all possible to conduct them in an orderly way. Former Mayor W. E. Clement suggested the employment of officers to police the dances as an unemployment measure. Mayor Clyde Watson presided at the meeting and the council room was crowded, the overflow standing in the halls during the proceedings.

Mrs. Louise Dittmer, 176 South Lemon street, told council members that conditions in the neighborhood were impossible on nights dances were held owing to the great amount of drunnenness and the noise made by the revelers, not in the hall, she said, but in parked cars and on the streets.

Mrs. J. Patrick, a resident of the vicinity, declared that she had reported the dances as a nuisance several times, once to the sheriff's office. Because of the excessive drinking her grandchildren, she declared, were obliged to pick their way through their own yard over piles of whiskey bottles thrown by persons attending the dances. Mrs. F. G. Ober, 163 South Lemon street, stated that it was impossible to rent her apartments near the clubhouse owing to the noise on these nights.

Residents Shocked

Mrs. J. C. Rose, wife of the pastor of the Free Methodist church, at the corner of Lemon street and Almond avenue, said that one of the serious objections to the dances was the trespassing on private property. She said the church porch had been decorated with whiskey bottles and that indecent language used in the parker cars had shocked residents of the vicinity. Other dances held by the Legion and other groups did not disturb people of the neighborhood, she said.

Gustav Bethke, 216 South Lemon street, stated that trucks were parked in the neighborhood the nights of the dances and that while he did not see drinking among the crowds around them, bottles were found in the vicinity afterward. Flowers and lawns were ruined by trespassers, he said.

Mrs. J. T. McInnis protested against the dances, declaring that girls in her Sunday school class had related startling stories which they had gleaned from others. She said that she came to make an individual appeal for a clean city and that although she was president of the Orange Woman's club, she did not represent that organization. It was brought out that children of the neighborhood were collecting the bottles and selling them, sometimes sampling the remaining contents.

LOCAL LIQUOR LAWS WILL BE ENFORCED HERE

Over-anxious citizens desiring to celebrate the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment will be liable to all existing local, county and state ordinances until December 6 when the Twenty-first amendment goes into effect, it was emphasized today by city and county officials.

City Attorney Clyde Downing said today that although local option and ordinances would be swept away in December, there was no change until that time.

When the new amendment takes effect, the state board of equalization will have full power in issuing licenses for the sale and manufacture of wine, beer and liquor. Local police will only have jurisdiction regarding "nuisances" or abuses of licenses, sanitation or police regulations, it was pointed out.

"The fact that voters have indicated their desire to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and have, in fact, repealed it does not mean that the bars will be let down immediately in this county," District Attorney S. B. Kaufman said this morning.

He advised that people should not misunderstand the situation at this time. While repeal is assured, through the result of elections held yesterday in six states, the situation will remain unchanged in Orange county until December 5 when the repeal is actually effective.

Until the date the repeal amendment becomes effective rigid enforcement of present liquor laws in the county will continue. "It is just as unlawful to have intoxicating liquors today as it was yesterday," Kaufman said, "and possession of liquor, its transportation and use will continue to be unlawful until the date the repeal amendment becomes effective."

Sheriff Logan Jackson said today that he had not been advised of changes in laws and would continue to have his men enforce existing laws. The sheriff said that with repeal, his office would be restricted in liquor matters to the apprehension of drunken or reckless drivers and arresting intoxicated persons on public thoroughfares.

Await Action

When voters of California adopted Amendment Two, with the repeal of the Wright act, all local option and prohibitory laws were wiped out, effective when repeal was voted in the United States. The state constitution provides, however, that cities and counties are granted full power to adopt and enforce police and sanitary regulations. Both city and county however, must await action of the equalization board before the question "Who can sell?" is answered.

District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles announced today that he and other district attorneys of the state would continue their drive on drunken drivers.

"The repeal of the Eighteenth amendment leaves only one major law on the statute books of California covering the use and manufacture of liquor under which persons may be prosecuted for a felony. This law is the statute prohibiting the driving or operation of an automobile while intoxicated. It will be the duty of this office to continue the prosecution of such offenses as vigorously as in the past. We will continue to regard drunk drivers as potential murderers."

FARM BUREAU OFFICIAL BALKS PLAN TO GET QUICK ACTION ON LOAN REQUESTS

Efforts of local business and financial leaders to assist the national farm relief program in Orange county by speeding up and liberalizing Federal land loans in this district struck a stone wall last night, when it was authoritatively stated by its secretary, R. D. Fiaherty, that the Farm Bureau did not want action as contemplated, as it has adopted a policy of "watching and waiting" until December 1.

As a result, a meeting called to consider ways and means of aiding distressed farmers in securing quicker loans, adjourned without taking any action.

Inasmuch as the farmers themselves, for whom relief is sought, did not desire added efforts at this time to speed up farm loans, according to this expression from their own organization, there seemed little occasion for city businessmen to become exercised about the matter, according to B. 2. McKinney, who made the motion to adjourn without taking action, which was carried unanimously.

Action Planned

The gathering, held at the Bowers Memorial Museum, had been called by Mayor Paul Witmer as a result of widespread demands for quicker and more liberal loans by the Federal Land bank at Berkeley for Orange county farmers, and the motion to adjourn was made after Fiaherty, secretary and manager of the Farm Bureau, had repeatedly declared he did not favor additional agitation, as it was the policy of his organization to watch the situation until December 1, in the hope that loans will be coming through by that time in satisfactory manner.

Flaherty recounted the history of efforts to secure Federal land loans in this county since May, and the repeated objections which had to be overcome, including the claims of salt water intrusion near the coast and too great pumping lift in the interior of the county, in addition to many other minor objections. Finally, however, these objections were all overcome, he said, and the Federal land bank agreed to make loans in Orange county.

In reply to a question as to how many Federal farm loans had been granted to date in Orange county, R. A. Kloess of the Abstract and Title Guaranty company replied, "four or five." Of these, none exceeded $500 per acre, it was said, and the average was about $350 per acre.

In his remarks, Flaherty frequently referred to C. A. Palmer, agent of the Federal Land bank in Orange county, and Farm Bureau director, who, he said, has sent in some 260 applications for loans from Orange county, aggregating approximately two million dollars.

Various angles of the farm loan situation were explained and discussed, the speakers including Witmer, Flaherty, McKinney, J. F. Burke, Frank Was, W. B. Williams, and others.

Very Few Loans Made

Comment was made upon the fact that the farm loan bill was signed early in May, and in the intervening five months there have been only "four or five" loans granted in Orange county, leading some to the conclusion that this territory was being discriminated against.

Nine Orange county men have been appointed as appraisers, it was reported, for work in this and other counties, and on Nov. 1 there was a total of 365 appraisers on the job in the four states under jurisdiction of the Berkeley bank, with 60 more in training, and 53 additional recommended for employment. In answer to a question, Flaherty declared that the Farm Bureau has nothing to do with the appointment of appraisers.

The Federal land bank is authorized to loan up to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the property, it was brought out, and the Loan Commissioner is empowered to make an additional loan of not to exceed $5000. The total of these two loans so far granted in Orange county does not exceed $500 per acre, it was said, one loan of $7000 upon a 14-acre grove being referred to, in which $4500 was the Federal loan and $2500 known as the "commissioner's loan." According to the law, the total loan shall not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised value, it was declared.

Objection was made to the apparent method of appraisal, whereby no loan has been granted to exceed $500 per acre, because this does not take into consideration the high productivity of some of the Orange county valencia groves, and such a rule would deny relief to hundreds of farmers who need it most, and who already have mortgages against their property of from $500 to $1000 per acre.

If anything is to be done to speed up and increase the total of farm loans in Orange county through direct appeal to the president, it should be undertaken at once, between now and January 1, it was pointed out by Burke, as such appeal would likely get attention now from the chief executive. After January 1, Congress will be in session and the president will be engrossed in so many matters that delay will be dangerous, and results might not be obtained until next summer, Burke pointed out.

BAN DANCING IN COUNTY'S BEER PARLORS

Beer parlors in Orange county that are permitting patrons to dance, in violation of the county dance hall ordinance, will be given one chance to abandon this man and Jackson there are four licensed dance halls in the unincorporated area. Many beer parlors and cafes where beer is served, however, permit their patrons to dance to music provided by either radio or phonograph.

Kaufman and Jackson appeared before the board and, after laying the situation before the supervisors, asked if that group wanted the dance hall license law enforced rigidly. Willard Smith, chairman of the board declared, "We passed the dance hall license ordinance and it seems that there is nothing to do but enforce it."

Kaufman said that many of the beer parlors objected to obtaining the dance permit on the grounds that regular dances were not conducted. They claimed that the only dancing was when a patron turned on the radio or phonograph for a short time.

The board told Kaufman that it would be up to him to interpret the meaning of the law. Kaufman said that in the future the law would be interpreted to mean that if dancing is permitted in a resort at any time a license must be obtained. Operators of such places will receive one notice from the district attorney as soon as reported by the sheriff. Continued violation will mean arrest.

violation and failing will be arrested. This statement was made to the board of supervisors yesterday jointly by District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Sheriff Logan Jackson.

Under the county dance hall ordinance a permit must be obtained for public dances, a license fee must be paid and deputy sheriffs employed to maintain order. According to Kauf-

URGE VOTERS TO SUPPORT PROPOSED BOND ISSUE FOR EXTENSIVE WORK AT HARBOR

Urging Orange county voters to support the Newport Harbor improvement project, Lew Wallace, Newport Beach, submitted a report outlining the proposed project which was adopted by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County at a monthly meeting last night in the Social clubhouse, San Clemente.

Harry Hale, Placentia, questioned Wallace regarding whether or not if the harbor district is formed, it will be possible to raise more money than the $640,500 which would be raised at the bond issue, if voted on favorably.

Wallace declared that it would not be possible for the harbor district to raise additional money through the district machinery after the bond issue. He said the board of supervisors can prevent this. Maintenance, he said, would be taken care of by the government. The money proposed to be raised by the county, he said, would not be used unless the government appropriation of $1,194,941 is at hand.

The report was supplemented with an explanation of the proposed development plan, using a map. Sale of dredged materials he said, would furnish revenue for the county, in addition to increased revenues through taxation on anticipated increased valuation of the harbor area and taxes on the yachts which are expected to come to the county harbor. He said about $561,000 would be spent on direct labor and an additional amount through indirect labor.

V. D. Johnson, Orange, urged residents of Orange county to vote the bonds, declaring the county never will get another opportunity to get the federal aid for the project.

AUTO DEALERS TO MEET AT S. A. COUNTRY CLUB

Every new and used car dealer in Orange county has been urged to attend a meeting Thursday night at the Santa Ana Country club where full details of the new national and state codes regulating automotive matters will be explained, it was announced today by Harry D. Riley, secretary of the Orange County Automotive Trades association.

Riley has just completed a week's tour of Southern California to acquaint the 25 automotive associations with the new codes. He said that ignorance of the new restrictions will not excuse violations and that prosecutions and enforcement of the rules will be quick and drastic through state and district attorneys. The Thursday meeting will open with a banquet at 6:30 p. m. The discussion will open at 7:30 p. m.

Formation of a master group comprising all the Southern California associations is being completed under direct supervision of Riley, who was given full power at a recent meeting in Los Angeles. Of the 4567 automotive firms operating in this section, 74 per cent are enrolled i nthe organizations and do more than 80 per cent are enrolled in the group is called the Allied Automotive Industries of Southern California, Inc. and will co-operate with the northern section. A meeting will be held in Los Angeles Sunday to elect officers and approve by-laws.

Riley announced that the state commissioner had informed him that the new state codes would be effective about November 15 and will continue the regulations of the national code, which was effective October 3. Complaints will be handled through the individual association offices by means of compliance committees in each craft. Reports of these small groups will be considered by the board of directors and then referred to the proper state and county authority for prosecution.

The executive committee of the county association will meet at 8 o'clock tonight and the board of directors on Thursday. Tractor dealers met last night at the Stanley Keirsey garage in Anaheim while the used parts and wreckers craft met Monday night. Riley will give talks in San Diego tomorrow, Thursday.

FARM BUREAU OFFICIAL BALKS PLAN TO GET QUICK ACTION ON LOAN REQUESTS

Efforts of local business and financial leaders to assist the national farm relief program in Orange county by speeding up and liberalizing Federal land loans in this district struck a stone wall last night, when it was authoritatively stated by its secretary, R. D. Flaherty, that the Farm Bureau did not want action as contemplated, as it has adopted a policy of "watching and waiting" until December 1.

As a result, a meeting called to consider ways and means of aiding distressed farmers in securing quicker loans, adjourned without taking any action.

Inasmuch as the farmers themselves, for whom relief is sought, did not desire added efforts at this time to speed up farm loans, according to this expression from their own organization, there seemed little occasion for city businessmen to become exercised about the matter, according to B. 2. McKinney, who made the motion to adjourn without taking action, which was carried unanimously.

Action Planned

The gathering, held at the Bowers Memorial Museum, had been called by Mayor Paul Witmer as a result of widespread demands for quicker and more liberal loans by the Federal Land bank at Berkeley for Orange county farmers, and the motion to adjourn was made after Flaherty, secretary and manager of the Farm Bureau, had repeatedly declared he did not favor additional agitation, as it was the policy of his organization to watch the situation until December 1, in the hope that loans will be coming through by that time in satisfactory manner.

Flaherty recounted the history of efforts to secure Federal land loans in this county since May, and the repeated objections which had to be overcome, including the claims of salt water intrusion near the coast and too great pumping lift in the interior of the county, in addition to many other minor objections. Finally, however, these objections were all overcome, he said, and the Federal land bank agreed to make loans in Orange county.

In reply to a question as to how many Federal farm loans had been granted to date in Orange county, R. A. Kloess of the Abstract and Title Guaranty company replied, "four or five." Of these, none exceeded $500 per acre, it was said, and the average was about $350 per acre.

In his remarks, Flaherty frequently referred to C. A. Palmer, agent of the Federal Land bank in Orange county, and Farm Bureau director, who, he said, has sent in some 260 applications for loans from Orange county, aggregating approximately two million dollars.

Various angles of the farm loan situation were explained and discussed, the speakers including Witmer, Flaherty, McKinney, J. F. Burke, Frank Was, W. B. Williams, and others.

Very Few Loans Made

Comment was made upon the fact that the farm loan bill was signed early in May, and in the intervening five months there have been only "four or five" loans granted in Orange county, leading some to the conclusion that this territory was being discriminated against.

Nine Orange county men have been appointed as appraisers, it was reported, for work in this and other counties, and on Nov. 1 there was a total of 365 appraisers on the job in the four states under jurisdiction of the Berkeley bank, with 60 more in training, and 53 additional recommended for employment. In answer to a question, Flaherty declared that the Farm Bureau has nothing to do with the appointment of appraisers.

The Federal land bank is authorized to loan up to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the property, it was brought out, and the Loan Commissioner is empowered to make an additional loan of not to exceed $5000. The total of these two loans so far granted in Orange county does not exceed $500 per acre, it was said, one loan of $7000 upon a 14-acre grove being referred to, in which $4500 was the Federal loan and $2500 known as the "commissioner's loan." According to the law, the total loan shall not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised value, it was declared.

Objection was made to the apparent method of appraisal, whereby no loan has been granted to exceed $500 per acre, because this does not take into consideration the high productivity of some of the Orange county valencia groves, and such a rule would deny relief to hundreds of farmers who need it most, and who already have mortgages against their property of from $500 to $1000 per acre.

If anything is to be done to speed up and increase the total of farm loans in Orange county through direct appeal to the president, it should be undertaken at once, between now and January 1, it was pointed out by Burke, as such appeal would likely get attention now from the chief executive. After January 1, Congress will be in session and the president will be engrossed in so many matters that delay will be dangerous, and results might not be obtained until next summer, Burke pointed out.

BAN DANCING IN COUNTY'S BEER PARLORS

Beer parlors in Orange county that are permitting patrons to dance, in violation of the county dance hall ordinance, will be given one chance to abandon this man and Jackson there are four licensed dance halls in the unincorporated area. Many beer parlors and cafes where beer is served, however, permit their patrons to dance to music provided by either radio or phonograph.

Kaufman and Jackson appeared before the board and, after laying the situation before the supervisors, asked if that group wanted the dance hall license law enforced rigidly. Willard Smith, chairman of the board declared, "We passed the dance hall license ordinance and it seems that there is nothing to do but enforce it."

Kaufman said that many of the beer parlors objected to obtaining the dance permit on the grounds that regular dances were not conducted. They claimed that the only dancing was when a patron turned on the radio or phonograph for a short time.

The board told Kaufman that it would be up to him to interpret the meaning of the law. Kaufman said that in the future the law would be interpreted to mean that if dancing is permitted in a resort at any time a licensee must be obtained. Operators of such places will receive one notice from the district attorney as soon as reported by the sheriff. Continued violation will mean arrest.

Under the county dance hall ordinance a permit must be obtained for public dances, a license fee must be paid and deputy sheriffs employed to maintain order. According to Kauf-

URGE VOTERS TO SUPPORT PROPOSED BOND ISSUE FOR EXTENSIVE WORK AT HARBOR

Urging Orange county voters to support the Newport Harbor improvement project, Lew Wallace, Newport Beach, submitted a report outlining the proposed project which was adopted by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County at a monthly meeting last night in the Social clubhouse, San Clemente.

Harry Hale, Placentia, questioned Wallace regarding whether or not if the harbor district is formed, it will be possible to raise more money than the $640,500 which would be raised at the bond issue, if voted on favorably.

Wallace declared that it would not be possible for the harbor district to raise additional money through the district machinery after the bond issue. He said the board of supervisors can prevent this. Maintenance, he said, would be taken care of by the government. The money proposed to be raised by the county, he said, would not be used unless the government appropriation of $1,194,941 is at hand.

The report was supplemented with an explanation of the proposed development plan, using a map. Sale of dredged materials he said, would furnish revenue for the county, in addition to increased revenues through taxation on anticipated increased valuation of the harbor area and taxes on the yachts which are expected to come to the county harbor. He said about $561,000 would be spent on direct labor and an additional amount through indirect labor.

V. D. Johnson, Orange, urged residents of Orange county to vote the bonds, declaring the county never will get another opportunity to get the federal aid for the project.

A meeting will be held in Los Angeles Sunday to elect officers and approve by-laws.

Riley announced that the state commissioner had informed him that the new state codes would be effective about November 15 and will continue the regulations of the national code, which was effective October 3. Complaints will be handled through the individual association offices by means of compliance committees in each craft. Reports of these small groups will be considered by the board of directors and then referred to the proper state and county authority for prosecution.

The executive committee of the county association will meet at 8 o'clock tonight and the board of directors on Thursday. Tractor dealers met last night at the Stanley Keirsey garage in Anaheim while the used parts and wreckers craft met Monday night. Riley will give talks in San Diego tomorrow, Thursday.

LOAN SITUATION OUTLINED FOR COUNTY C. OF C.

Outlining the farm credit loan situation in Orange county, W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, reported for the agricultural committee at a meeting of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County last night in San Clemente.

The meeting was opened with an addres sof welcome given by Mrs. Eleanore Clark, San Clemente, which was responded to by O. T. Stephens, La Habra. The next meeting will be held December 12 in the Newport Harbor Yacht club, with a boat ride planned for delegates around the harbor prior to the dinner meeting.

Cory pointed out that efforts have been made to consolidate federal loan agencies with the result that there are now three general organization functions, The Federal Land Bank, he said, is for long time loans to farmers, represented in Orange county by Agent C. A. Palmer.

The Cooperative bank, Cory said, loans only to cooperative associations and some cooperatives in Orange county have taken advantake of these loans. The Rural Credit corporation and Crop and Seed loans are short time loans on crops, he explained. A meeting was scheduled for today to discuss details of forming an organization for Orange county to obtain loans.

Cory reported that in the wheat allotment program, 75 per cent of the wheat in Orange county has been signed up in the program. He explained that the grower received 28 cents a bushel on 54 per cent of the 1933 crop, is required to reduce his acreage in 1934 and 1935 not to exceed 20 per cent, obtains market price for his wheat and 28 cents a bushel on 54 per cent of his production.

TWO POOL HALL OPERATORS GET LICENSES BACK

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—C. G. Snyder and Clarence Pinckham, pool hall operators whose licenses were revoked three weeks ago on complaint of Chief of Police James Pearson, because they had permitted gambling in their places, were granted their licenses by the city council last night on their promise to abide by the city ordinances. Both operate pool halls on South Spadra road.

First reading of an ordinance granting to the Santa Fe railroad right-of-way for a spur track to serve the packing houses was given.

The application was made several weeks ago and was continued until the paper could be prepared. The purpose is to prepare to serve the Orangethorpe and other packing houses that are off the tracks a short distance.

Uncle of Santa Ana Woman Dies

Mrs. Walter Vandermast today received word of the death of her uncle, W. B. Thompson, at Harvey, Ill.

Mr. Thompson was a brother of the late R. J. Thompson, who was a resident of Santa Ana. Thompson and his wife wintered in Santa Ana for a number of years and were well known locally.

Mrs. Vandermast believed the death of her uncle to be quite sudden and unexpected as she received word from him about a week ago and at that time was in good health.

Baptist Class In Dinner Next Week

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Plans were made to hold a husband's night party next week when members of the Christian Home Makers' class of the Baptist Sunday school met for an all-day session yesterday with Mrs. Sally Watson, of Placentia.

The affair will be a covered dish dinner. The exact time and place are not arranged.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Dear Editor:

We students of Santa Ana junior college have heard a saber-rattling speech that is enjoyed by so many. I believe that the parents of those students should know the nature of a policy as it was outlined by a representative of the American Legion.

It was advocated that there should be compulsory military training in the schools of America. His reason for this is that the student would be instructed in the noble art of killing and therefore would beat the other fellow to it.

He showed the students how certain individuals glorified themselves on the battle field by killing their fellowmen—the more killed the greater the glory. We students were supposed to get a loyal, patriotic thrill out of this—to foster a yearning to spill the blood of some fellowman.

This Legionnaire pictured war as a thrill to delight and to master its art should be eagerly sought by the students. He keynoted the patriotism that caused the people to war. (I wonder if it is patriotism to bind one's posterity to pay the cost of a war which they did not start and received no gain.)

We students learned a new definition of freedom of speech. In freedom of speech is included anything that may be said provided that it does not disagree with the Legion. We students learned that our teachers are too liberal (we never knew it before) and they should not say what they think. He mentioned a case in Los Angeles where a woman school teacher was said to have attended a communist meeting and to have made statements. He stated that one activity the Legion devotes its time to is the suppression of such liberality of thought. Whether in the class room or outside, therefore, by their influence, this teacher lost her job and will never get another.

Are the parents sending students to school to learn how to think or what to think? These teachers are supposed to use their knowledge unstintedly in teaching the student to be a self reasoning human being. Who are better qualified to teach these students than our educated school teachers?

If the parents of these students are not sending their students to school to learn how to think and to discern the truth from the false, why on earth do they have intelligent teachers to appeal to the student's reasoning? They should replace these teachers who teach facts (as far as they are allowed) with Legionnaires who draw pensions thereby sawing the parents the salary of the educated teachers and at the same time providing appeals to the passions and emotions instead of the common sense of the students.

—A STUDENT.

FREE SPEECH, CONSEQUENCES OF REPEAL, PHILOSOPHY ARE TOPICS AT FORUM MEETING

Defense of free speech, condemnation of schools where free discussion is "taboo," the status of affairs with prohibition repealed and Dr. Frederick Roman's comprehensive review of philosophies underlying communism and fascism were among the features of the weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Forum held last night before a capacity audience in the Temple theater.

Considerable discussion centered around a question from the floor regarding lack of free speech in Germany and the United States. One speaker cynically quoted Homer Chaillaux, state American Legion commander and junior college speaker yesterday, to the effect that as long as people talk about things that the majority agrees with, that is free speech but when someone disagrees with the common belief, he is exceeding his rights as a citizen.

A Santa Ana High school student was enthusiastically applauded when he sympathized with teachers who do not dare to come out and speak their true beliefs in the classroom. He scored the Legion for wishing to put in effect a policy that no one should speak unless he agreed with the Legion. Chaillaux was also quoted regarding a Glendale high school teacher who was discharged through Legion efforts because she "was not afraid to talk" and criticized the government.

Urges Use of Ballot

Dr. Roman concluded this subject with the observation that no country is perfect and there is a great deal of freedom left in speech, press and action. He urged his listeners to assume the responsibility for leadership and said that the ballot box was the best weapon to use.

One of Dr. Roman's chief points of discussion during the current events hour was the effect of the repeal of prohibition.

He read from the New Republic magazine that both wet and dry leaders now admitted that bootlegging will continue as before and it is doubtful if the aim to eliminate the bootlegger can ever succeed, Statistics were quoted that drunkenness was already on the increase in New York City and elsewhere and that gangsters were joining to force the consumption of beer and other beverages.

"Whiskey will not be made strong for awhile to allow the new drinkers and young people to become accustomed to it," Dr. Roman said. "It is generally agreed that there was less drinking during prohibition and that there will be a marked increase in the near future."

Quoting from the Christian Century, the speaker mentioned the fact that liquor advertising was barred from the mails in dry states.

Schools of Thought

Dr. Roman opened his talk on "Philosophy of Communism" with a graphic interpretation of the beliefs of the leading early philosophers and the effect of each on modern political trends. He said that philosophy was too involved a subject to explain at length before a forum audience but that a fundamental understanding was necessary to comprehend the significance of communism, fascism, socialism and democracy.

"There are three schools of thought we must understand," Dr. Roman said. "One is composed of empiricists who believe that experience is the source of knowledge. Another contains the rationalists who depend on reason and logic while the third is the intuitionist who denies experience or reasoning."

The speaker said that communism was the opposite or antithesis of fascism and neither allowed freedom. He predicted that both will finally be overthrown with no intimation of what will result. The early stages of political thought were traced through the writings of Karl Marx, Hegel, Bishop Berkeley, Locke and Kant by the speaker.

Having "laid his foundation" for a discusion of communism, Dr. Roman said he would continue the subject at a later meeting.

Carl D. Thompson, authority on public ownership from Chicago, has been invited by Mayor Paul Witmer and other civic officials to be the speaker at the Forum next Tuesday and will speak on "Roosevelt and Reconstruction," Dr. Roman will conduct the current events section as usual on that occasion.

COUNTY QUIET ON VOTING OF REPEAL

Celebrations of the voting yesterday in other states to repeal th Eighteenth amendment, which resulted in securing the necessary number to qualify repeal, evidently were not numerous in Orange county. A check of county jail records revealed that only one man was incarcerated from early Monday night until this morning.

Adell anVkeirsbuick, 46, Barber City, who was jailed for drunkenness and disturbing the peace, at 8 p. m., beat his wife and children and drove them into the street yesterday, officers said. His wife, scantily clad, was forced to go to the home of neighbors. Vankeirsbuick was arrested on the same charges several weeks ago, officers said. Arraigned this morning, he pleaded not guilty and had a jury trial set for November 16 at 10 a. m. in justice court.

With the slump in arrests, the jal populaton dropped from the hgh mark of 218 on Monday to 210 last night.

SANTA ANA CANYON FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Fire which broke out in the Santa Ana canyon, a few miles over the Riverside county line Monday afternoon was entirely extinguished late last night. The fire was controlled and extinguished after the district had been patrolled by crews from the Corona and the San Juan Capistrano C. C. C. camps which had been sent in relays for fire fighting and patrol duty from the time the blaze started until the last ember was extinguished.

According to Joe Scherman, forest ranger of Orange county, approximately 40 acres were burned over, the greater part of which was located along the Santa Ana river bottom. The fire was under control Monday night. State trucks from Corona and Orange were sent to the scene of the fire.

Court Notes

Jose Luis Chavez, charged with non-support of a minor child, has been released from jail without bond by Judge James Allen and will appear in court on November 10.

Richard L. Boyd, serving a 25-day sentence for petty theft, paid the $36 balance of his $50 fine and was released from the county jail yesterday.

---

Marvin O'Malley, federal prisoner charged with using the mails to defraud, obtained his release from the county jail yesterday by posting $3000 bond.

---

John Sharkey, charged with drunkenness, was given a 15-day suspended jail sentence by Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday on condition that he does not drink liquor in six months.

---

Three men were sentenced for speeding in police court yesterday. Lloyd Miller, 1040 West Third street, paid a $10 fine, Dallas Merrill, Seven Oaks, paid a $5 fine and Charles H. Cook, 1701 South Van Ness street, paid an $8 fine.

---

Mrs. Frank Hosola, paid a $1 fine in police court yesterday for overtime parking.

BARITONE TO GIVE CONCERT FRIDAY

Thomas La Johnson, "California's Golden Voiced Negro baritone," will be featured in a recital to be presented at the First M. E. church Friday at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the First M. E. Epworth league, it was announced today by Roy Seaver, president.

The recital will feature pure Negro melodies and dialect readings. A silver offering will be taken at the recital here Friday night.

London policemen are to be trained in the work of firemen so that they may be able to face the risk of rescuing persons from burning buildings; they are already required to have a practical knowledge of first aid, car driving, swimming and life saving.

U. S. Will Award Leavenworth Job

Announcement was made today by Frank Cannon, secretary of the U. S. civil service board of examiners at the Santa Ana post office, that applications would be received by the civil service commission until November 24, for the position of assistant psychologist for duty in the United States public health service at Leavenworth penitentiary. The salary ranges from $2600 to $3100 per year, less certain deductions.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—A birthday dinner was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Magnusson on West Chapman avenue Monday evening in honor of the former's niece, Miss Edith Magnusson, of Bell. A yellow and orchid color scheme was carried out in table decorations. Tall yellow tapers graced the table while the nut cups were of orchid. The centerpiece was a lovely birthday cake surrounded by tiny candles.

Guests included Mrs. Eva Magnusson and daughters, Edith and Eleanor, of Bell, the Misses Lucille Allen and Ruth Allen.

"WHITE WOMAN" ON AT BROADWAY TODAY

"White Woman," featuring Carole Lombard, Charles Laughton, Charles Bickford and Kent Taylor, is the attraction starting today at the Broadway theater. It will show through tomorrow night.

The theme of a white woman, caught in the tropics through a marriage which she is forced to make, makes a remarkable story of the Malay jungles.

Short subjects include Andy Clyde, comedy, "His Weak Moment"; "A Bundle of Blues," with Duke Ellington, a cartoon entitled "The Village Blacksmith," and a news reel.

LOAN SITUATION OUTLINED FOR COUNTY C. OF C.

Outlining the farm credit loan situation in Orange county, W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, reported for the agricultural committee at a meeting of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County last night in San Clemente.

The meeting was opened with an addres sof welcome given by Mrs. Eleanore Clark, San Clemente, which was responded to by O. T. Stephens, La Habra. The next meeting will be held December 12 in the Newport Harbor Yacht club, with a boat ride planned for delegates around the harbor prior to the dinner meeting.

Cory pointed out that efforts have been made to consolidate federal loan agencies with the result that there are now three general organization functions, The Federal Land Bank, he said, is for long time loans to farmers, represented in Orange county by Agent C. A. Palmer.

The Cooperative bank, Cory said, loans only to cooperative associations and some cooperatives in Orange county have taken advantake of these loans. The Rural Credit corporation and Crop and Seed loans are short time loans on crops, he explained. A meeting was scheduled for today to discuss details of forming an organization for Orange county to obtain loans.

Cory reported that in the wheat allotment program, 75 per cent of the wheat in Orange county has been signed up in the program. He explained that the grower received 28 cents a bushel on 54 per cent of the 1933 crop, is required to reduce his acreage in 1934 and 1935 not to exceed 20 per cent, obtains market price for his wheat and 28 cents a bushel on 54 per cent of his production.

TWO POOL HALL OPERATORS GET LICENSES BACK

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—C. G. Snyder and Clarence Pinckham, pool hall operators whose licenses were revoked three weeks ago on complaint of Chief of Police James Pearson, because they had permitted gambling in their places, were granted their licenses by the city council last night on their promise to abide by the city ordinances. Both operate pool halls on South Spadra road.

First reading of an ordinance granting to the Santa Fe railroad right-of-way for a spur track to serve the packing houses was given.

The application was made several weeks ago and was continued until the paper could be prepared. The purpose is to prepare to serve the Orangethorpe and other packing houses that are off the tracks a short distance.

Uncle of Santa Ana Woman Dies

Mrs. Walter Vandermast today received word of the death of her uncle, W. B. Thompson, at Harvey, Ill.

Mr. Thompson was a brother of the late R. J. Thompson, who was a resident of Santa Ana. Thompson and his wife wintered in Santa Ana for a number of years and were well known locally.

Mrs. Vandermast believed the death of her uncle to be quite sudden and unexpected as she received word from him about a week ago and at that time was in good health.

Baptist Class In Dinner Next Week

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Plans were made to hold a husband's night party next week when members of the Christian Home Makers' class of the Baptist Sunday school met for an all-day session yesterday with Mrs. Sally Watson, of Placentia.

The affair will be a covered dish dinner. The exact time and place are not arranged.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Dear Editor:

We students of Santa Ana junior college have heard a saber-rattling speech that is enjoyed by so many. I believe that the parents of those students should know the nature of a policy as it was outlined by a representative of the American Legion.

It was advocated that there should be compulsory military training in the schools of America. His reason for this is that the student would be instructed in the noble art of killing and therefore would beat the other fellow to it.

He showed the students how certain individuals glorified themselves on the battle field by killing their fellowmen—the more killed the greater the glory. We students were supposed to get a loyal, patriotic thrill out of this—to foster a yearning to spill the blood of some fellowman.

This Legionnaire pictured war as a thrill to delight and to master its art should be eagerly sought by the students. He keynoted the patriotism that caused the people to war. (I wonder if it is patriotism to bind one's posterity to pay the cost of a war which they did not start and received no gain.)

We students learned a new definition of freedom of speech. In freedom of speech is included anything that may be said provided that it does not disagree with the Legion. We students learned that our teachers are too liberal (we never knew it before) and they should not say what they think. He mentioned a case in Los Angeles where a woman school teacher was said to have attended a communist meeting and to have made statements. He stated that one activity the Legion devotes its time to is the suppression of such liberality of thought. Whether in the class room or outside, therefore, by their influence, this teacher lost her job and will never get another.

Are the parents sending students to school to learn how to think or what to think? These teachers are supposed to use their knowledge unstintedly in teaching the student to be a self reasoning human being. Who are better qualified to teach these students than our educated school teachers?

If the parents of these students are not sending their students to school to learn how to think and to discern the truth from the false, why on earth do they have intelligent teachers to appeal to the student's reasoning? They should replace these teachers who teach facts (as far as they are allowed) with Legionnaires who draw pensions thereby sawing the parents the salary of the educated teachers and at the same time providing appeals to the passions and emotions instead of the common sense of the students.

—A STUDENT.

FREE SPEECH, CONSEQUENCES OF REPEAL, PHILOSOPHY ARE TOPICS AT FORUM MEETING

Defense of free speech, condemnation of schools where free discussion is "taboo," the status of affairs with prohibition repealed and Dr. Frederick Roman's comprehensive review of philosophies underlying communism and fascism were among the features of the weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Forum held last night before a capacity audience in the Temple theater.

Considerable discussion centered around a question from the floor regarding lack of free speech in Germany and the United States. One speaker cynically quoted Homer Chailiaux, state American Legion commander and junior college speaker yesterday, to the effect that as long as people talk about things that the majority agrees with, that is free speech but when someone disagrees with the common belief, he is exceeding his rights as a citizen.

A Santa Ana High school student was enthusiastically applauded when he sympathized with teachers who do not dare to come out and speak their true beliefs in the classroom. He scored the Legion for wishing to put in effect a policy that no one should speak unless he agreed with the Legion. Chailiaux was also quoted regarding a Glendale high school teacher who was discharged through Legion efforts because she "was not afraid to talk" and criticized the government.

Urges Use of Ballot

Dr. Roman concluded this subject with the observation that no country is perfect and there is a great deal of freedom left in speech, press and action. He urged his listeners to assume the responsibility for leadership and said that the ballot box was the best weapon to use.

One of Dr. Roman's chief points of discussion during the current events hour was the effect of the repeal of prohibition.

He read from the New Republic magazine that both wet and dry leaders now admitted that bootlegging will continue as before and it is doubtful if the aim to eliminate the bootlegger can ever succeed, Statistics were quoted that drunkenness was already on the increase in New York City and elsewhere and that gangsters were joining to force the consumption of beer and other beverages.

"Whiskey will not be made strong for awhile to allow the new drinkers and young people to become accustomed to it," Dr. Roman said. "It is generally agreed that there was less drinking during prohibition and that there will be a marked increase in the near future."

Quoting from the Christian Century, the speaker mentioned the fact that liquor advertising was barred from the mails in dry states.

Schools of Thought

Dr. Roman opened his talk on "Philosophy of Communism" with a graphic interpretation of the beliefs of the leading early philosophers and the effect of each on modern political trends. He said that philosophy was too involved a subject to explain at length before a forum audience but that a fundamental understanding was necessary to comprehend the significance of communism, fascism, socialism and democracy.

"There are three schools of thought we must understand," Dr. Roman said. "One is composed of empiricists who believe that experience is the source of knowledge. Another contains the rationalists who depend on reason and logic while the third is the intuitionist who denies experience or reasoning."

The speaker said that communism was the opposite or antithesis of fascism and neither allowed freedom. He predicted that both will finally be overthrown with no intimation of what will result. The early stages of political thought were traced through the writings of Karl Marx, Hegel, Bishop Berkeley, Locke and Kant by the speaker.

Having "laid his foundation" for a discussion of communism, Dr. Roman said he would continue the subject at a later meeting.

Carl D. Thompson, authority on public ownership from Chicago, has been invited by Mayor Paul Witmer and other civic officials to be the speaker at the Forum next Tuesday and will speak on "Roosevelt and Reconstruction." Dr. Roman will conduct the current events section as usual on that occasion.

COLLEGE GROUP TAKES PART IN CHURCH SERVICE

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—College night was observed last night at the Christan church where the 50th anniversary of the church is being observed. Music for the evening included organ selections by Miss Leota Ingle and vocal solos by Miss Helen Smith, daughter of the vice president of the California Christian college.

Short speeches were given by several young men of the college. C. F. Cheverton, president of the college, spoke on the subject, "Golden Joys in Sharing Christ." He told his story of the founding of the church and showed the marked progress it has made. Devotionals were led by the Rev. James Fisk, pastor of the El Modena Friends church.

Tonight's service will be one of fellowship with the Christian churches of Orange county, with the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the Christian church of Santa Ana, preaching. Large groups from other churches are expected to attend.

OFFICERS FOR GIRL RESERVE CABINET NAMED

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—A junior cabinet of Girl Reserve clubs of the community was organized here Tuesday night, when officers of the groups met to plan recognition services for the year. The date for the recognition service was set for the vesper hour on November 26 at the First Presbyterian church.

Officers were elected for the cabinet which was formed as an interclub group and Norma Craft of the eighth grade club was elected president, Vivian Stanley, of the Villa Park club, vice president, Mary Cagle, seventh grade club, secretary and Gwindola Markham, chairman of the recognition service committee.

The meeting was opened with a 5:30 o'clock supper served in the Girl Reserve room at the high school with several advisors of clubs present. These were Mrs. George Kamp of Villa Park; Mrs. Henry Joost, of the seventh grade club, Miss Bernice Vestal, sixth grade club, and Miss Lavina Compton, eighth grade advisor and Girl Reserve secretary.

The newly organized cabinet will meet Friday night at the Villa Park school with one representative at large from each club, to complete further details of the recognition service. Meetings of the cabinet are to be held the First Tuesday of each month.

Those present last night other than the advisors were the president of the Villa Park club, Gwindola Markham; Vivian Stanley, vice president; Louise Shadowen, secretary and Janet Sutherland, treasurer; Lulu Hutchins, president of the eighth grade club, Norma Craft, vice president; Stella Heaton, secretary ,and Marceline Moore, treasurer; Mary Cagle, president of the seventh grade club, Betty Doncaster, secretary, and Emily Joost, treasurer; Verna Belle Maroney, president of the sixth grade group; Ruth Disbennett, vice president; Shirley Valentine, secretary, and Constance Jenkins, treasurer.

TWO TRACTS GO TO ACREAGE; LICENSE REFUND IS DENIED

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—Adjourning until November 20, members of the Orange city council closed a session yesterday devoted to a large amount of routine business in the course of which approval was given to a request for the reversion of two sub-divisions to acreage. One tract, No. 965 is 660 by 660 feet and is located between Chapman avenue and Maple avenue and between Batavia street and Parker street and is the property of Louis Koth.

The other tract, No. 963 is the property of Fred Struck and G. W Struck and lies between Main and Lime streets and Maple avenue and Acacia avenue. It is 705 feet by approximately 275 feet. It was brought out that no lots had been sold from the subdivisions and that no streets had been dedicated.

A request was received from the State Association of Architects to employ well qualified local architects whenever possible on city buildings. No action was taken on the request as Mayor Watson stated that erection of city buildings was not anticipated at this time. The city will not enter a float in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, it was decided following the reading of a letter from J. W. Kendall of the Pasadena parade committee.

A claim filed by H. B. Chandler of the Orange inn and the Orange Taxi service for the return of $26 in license fees paid between April 1, 1930 and October 1, 1933, was not granted. Chandler claimed that according to a city ordinance where two businesses are conducted from one place by the same person, but one license is required and that during the period named, he had paid licenses on both businesses. City Attorney H. L. Dearing held that Chandler should have registered a protest at the time he paid the licenses.

Following protests on the public dances conducted in the Legion clubhouse, the operator, Ray Minnix, agreed to close the dances. Protests were made on drinking outside the building.

The House of Lords, England, may transact certain business when there are only three members present, not necessarily including the Lord Chancellor.

LECTURE ON INDIA SET FOR THURSDAY

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—A lecture will be given in the Immanuel hall Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the subject, "Missions in India." The address will be given by the Rev. W. E. Kraemer, who has been a missionary in India for the past three years. The public is welcome to attend. There will be no charges.

PROGRAM HELD BY MEMBERS OF CLUB SECTION

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—The lobby of the Woman's clubhouse was filled with beautiful flowers and potted plants as the members of the First Economic section met yesterday afternoon for their monthly meeting. The beautiful decorations were in keeping with the theme, "Flowers."

Mrs. Fred Alden, a member of the First Garden section of the Woman's club, gave an interesting talk on how to make a garden attractive, telling how a lovely garden should be like an outdoor living room, expressing the personality of the owner.

Miss Elizabeth Loury gave two vocal solos, "Thank God for a Garden," by Teresa Del Riego, and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," by Ernest Ball. She was accompanied by Miss Miriam Powell. Both of the singers and the speaker, Mrs. Alden, were presented with bouquets of flowers.

During a short business meeting over which the section president, Mrs. W. H. Lowry, presided, plans were made for a Christmas party to be held in the form of a luncheon, with the following women on the committee on arrangements: Mrs. W. O. Higgins, Mrs. Lillian Bishop, Mrs. J. E. Prentice, Mrs. Lucy Robinson, Mrs. G. W. Wood and Mrs. Henry Meier.

Roll call was answered by current events, after which Mrs. N. J. Whitney read a poem by Edgar A. Guest, "The Gentle Gardener."

At the close of a delightful afternoon, refreshments in keeping with the autumn season were served on individual trays appropriately decorated with favors expressing the theme of Thanksgiving. Hostesses in charge of the afternoon were Mrs. W. A. Huscroft, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. F. H. Mellor, and Mrs. J. P. Boring.

Those present were Mrs. M. E. Livingston, Mrs. R. N. Boyer, Mrs. A. R. Fernald, Mrs. William Rohrs, Mrs. W. H. Lowry, Mrs. W. A. Huscroft, Mrs. J. P. Boring, Mrs. F. H. Mellor, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. Alfred Higgins, Mrs. Henry Meier, Mrs. C. L. Benson, Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mrs. O. M. Coate, Mrs. N. J. Whitney, Mrs. J. Westfall, Mrs. W. T. Syester, Mrs. L. W. Hemphill, Mrs. G. W. Wood, Mrs. L. E. Robinson, Mrs. L. L. Bishop, Mrs. W. O. Higgins, Mrs. T. W. Condon, Mrs. Fred Alden, Mrs. Alfred Leech, Mrs. George Curtis, Mrs. Charles Smiley, Miss Emma Corsan and Mrs. C. W. Coffey.

Mrs. Ed. Windolph Hostess To Club

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—Kiotim club members were guests yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ed Windolph, South Pepper street. A social time was concluded with the serving of refreshments on individual trays. Pink and white chrysanthemums were used in decorating.

Plans were made for the Christmas meeting, to be held December 5 in the home of Mrs. B. M. Huff, 143 South Shaffer street.

A special guest at the meeting was Mrs. Maude Warren. Members present included Mrs. B. M. Huff, Mrs. L. E. Rails, Mrs. Theo Starkey, Mrs. C. W. Pulley and Mrs. Windolph.

SECTION HOLDS LUNCHEON AND BRIDGE PARTY

ORANGE, Nov. 5.—Furthering their plans for a program to be presented January 15 at a general meeting of Orange Woman's club, members of the club's Second Household Economics section met yesterday in the home of Mrs. M. O. Ainsworth, East Chapman avenue.

Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, Mrs. J. T. McInnis and Mrs. F. A. Blake are on the committee arranging for the January entertainment.

Yesterday's business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. A. W. Fullerton, followed a covered dish luncheon served at noon. Hostesses were Mrs. Ahlesworth, Mrs. Guy Richards and Mrs. Gwen Thompson, using roses for decorations.

Bridge was played, with Mrs. Ernest Ross and Mrs. Catherine Steele scoring high and low.

Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. B. J. Fletcher, Mrs. Walter Kogler and Mrs. R. C. Burkett. Members present were Mesdames M. O. Ainsworth, C. C. Bonebrake, Mabel Coburn, Mabel Drumm, May Dennis, May Edwards, A. W. Fullerton, Dolores Goodwin, John Hirst, Ada Johnson, J. T. McInnis, Ernest Ross, Cora Schooley, Catherine Steele, Gwen Thompson, Guy Richards, Harrietta Heath and Adelaide Adair.

Plans were made for the section's Christmas party, to be held December 12 in the clubhouse. Exchange of gifts will be a feature of the holiday meeting.

COLLEGE GROUP TAKES PART IN CHURCH SERVICE

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—College night was observed last night at the Christan church where the 50th anniversary of the church is being observed. Music for the evening included organ selections by Miss Leota Ingle and vocal solos by Miss Helen Smith, daughter of the vice president of the California Christian college.

Short speeches were given by several young men of the college. C. F. Cheverton, president of the college, spoke on the subject, "Golden Joys in Sharing Christ." He told his story of the founding of the church and showed the marked progress it has made. Devotionals were led by the Rev. James Fisk, pastor of the El Modena Friends church.

Tonight's service will be one of fellowship with the Christian churches of Orange county, with the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the Christian church of Santa Ana, preaching. Large groups from other churches are expected to attend.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL OPENS SOON

ORANGE, Nov. 8.—The Red Cross roll call will commence here on Armistice day and will extend to Thanksgiving day, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Robert B. Johnson, who will head the roll call in this city.

ANAHEIM BOY SCOUT GROUP REORGANIZED

Complete reorganization of the Anaheim district of the Orange County Boy Scout Council was effected at a meeting in the Pickwick Hotel, Anaheim, Monday night which was attended by every troop sponsoring organization and civic group in Anaheim. Scout Executive Harrison E. White was an honored guest.

Reorganization resulted in the naming of Dr. R. M. Walz as the new commissioner for the district. He will be assisted by Ed Mills and M. W. Martinet on the commissioner's cabinet.

Judge Frank Tausch, Charles Pearson and J. W. Newton were named on the finance committee. Clyde Childers, Fred Weisel and Evan Alsip on the camping committee, Kenneth Peck on the court of honor committee, S. F. Hilgenfeld on the troop organization, health and safety committee and Judge Tausch and Harry Pearson as a special committee to have charge of the big Camporal planned.

Mel Gauer, chairman of the district, presided and outlined reorganization plans in line with the national council rules. Scoutmasters, guests of the evening, outlined troop activities. Harold Keirsey, president of the county council, spoke on the activities of the council. R. M. Seamans, council commissioner, spoke on the need for more manpower in scout work.

Judge Tausch reported the campaign to raise funds for Boy Scout work as successful, with $600 of the $750 quota for Anaheim already raised.

CHIROPRACTORS OF COUNTY MEET HERE

The regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Chiropractic association was held last evening at the home of the president, Dr. J. W. Hancock, 1101 North Ross street.

Following the business session Dr. E. J. Olds of Los Angeles addressed the meeting on "Technique."

The guests present included Dr. M. A. Blossom, Hollywood; Dr. E. V. Mills and Dr. E. E. Lewarton of Grand View sanitarium, Whittier; and Dr. H. M. Carlson, Huntington Beach.

An 11 o'clock dinner was served to the 30 guests.

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

LAG

The Roosevelt administration is now paying the penalty for over-exuberant ballyhoo.

Almost all the criticisms at present being directed at the New Deal hark back to the tall claims made for the recovery program in the early days.

The administration hasn't made 100 per cent good on many of these claims and in some instances hasn't even started.

For all the blurbing President Roosevelt was not responsible. Mindful of the early days of the Hoover administration as checked by the late ones Mr. Roosevelt insisted from the start he was no miracle man.

Unfortunately the fervent subordinates around him kept picturing the President as the adoring bride does her brand new hubby: "He can do anything."

Six million men weren't back at work by Labor Day. They aren't back yet for that matter. Hundreds of banks are still closed. Commodity prices and wages aren't in tune. The farmer is demanding price-fixing and inflation — "or else."

It's true, though, that somewhere between 3,600,000 and 4,000,000 people have found re-employment.

This fact is bound to make itself felt eventually from top to bottom. The rub is that is takes so much time.

At the moment the administration has set its publicity chorus to counseling patience.

It will be pointed out from every angle that when a jobless man gets back to work at last he isn't going right down for a new suit of clothes. Neither will he replace the time-worn sofa in the parlor next day.

His first thought has to be his debts. He must square himself with the loyal friends and kind-hearted tradesmen who carried him through the lean period.

It is estimated a six-month lapse should be allowed before materially increased purchasing power is felt.

The lag in production figures will be attributed in part to the general over-production indulged in by industries before they signed codes.

This argument won't wash down with the 9,000,000 facing winter without jobs. It should bear some weight with the more fortunate.

It's amusing the way the boys brought their hammers out the minute William Randolph Hearst led the way and gave them his papers for a zylophone.

For months Washington hotel lobbies have been stuffed with manufacturers, business men, etc., willing to damn the administration for hours at a time if only you'd put it in print yourself.

Now they speak right up for themselves. Note the National Association of Manufacturers.

PROTESTANTS

There are any number of legitimate complaints. Don't mistake that.

Take the case of the Insulation Institute. It embraces the manufacturers of composition boarding and the like.

Recently the Civilian Conservation Corps called for bids on a big batch of this material to insulate the winter camps of the forest army against the cold.

When the bids were opened, two firms—one from the West and one from the mid-West—had the low figures. Neither had signed codes.

The Quartermaster Corps, regardless, awarded the contract to them on the old government theory of the lowest bid. On review officials of the C. C. C. turned them down for lack of Blue Eagles. The Army stood pat and insisted these companies should get the order.

Indignantly members of the Insulation Institute met in Chicago and voted to come here in a body.

The code adherents offered affidavits to NRA that the winning companies were chiseling plenty on hours and wages. The man tney talked to said NRA was busy making codes, not enforcing them.

Next the protestants turned to the White House. After hearing their case the White House sent them back to NRA. For a while there was a further impasse.

Finally the president of one big company said he was glad to get this point of view as he was interested in 26 other codes. Another big shot said he was a piker, being interested in only 16 other codes.

The NRA official asked if this was a threat. The second man to speak asked that a stenographer be called. He dictated a statement of position.

It must have been something of a position. About 7 o'clock that evening members of the Institute were advised by 'phone the chiseling bids were out.

DUCKING

A man who has made a living by press-agenting Congressmen approached a friend recently and asked for a job to tide him over until Congress reassembled.

"Why don't you go up on Capitol Hill and line up some prospects?" the friend countered. "Half the members of Congress are back in town."

"I know," replied the unfortunate. "I've been up there. But they're hiding away from their constituents. They don't want their names in the paper."

That 39-page booklet put out by the Republican National Committee entitled "Let's Look at the Record" proved to be a best seller. . . . Three days after this blast against the administration was made public, G. O. P. headquarters were limiting applicants to one copy each and putting in an order to print 5000 to 10,000 more. . . . Former Senator Jim Watson of Indiana is a shrewd politician who always knows what kind of an issue to hop on for the maximum publicity. . . . He is now defending the freedom of the press. . . . Which makes one wonder what has become of Rep. Fred Britten of Illinois who loved and held the spotlight in the Republican days. . . . When a reporter would ask him how a given story concerning the Congressman had been received, he would answer: "Dee-licious."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

SHIFT

The quarterback seems to have called a new version of the Rockne shift on the gold policy play.

Consider the ball-carriers who are substituting for Professor Warren. Professor Sprague, George Harrison and Fred Kent of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, and possibly Henry Bruere will tote the dollar down the field of foreign exchange. All four are sound-money men and favor stabilization. Naming them to execute Warren's theories is like putting Rabbi Wise in charge of Hitler's pogrom.

Observe the Federal Reserve Bank's statement that its gold buying will be done secretly at the moment when publicity is supposed to act as mainspring in driving the dollar down and prices up. Observe further that the Federal Reserve Bank has no billion-dollar equalization fund to play with.

What's it all about? Informed New Yorkers will tell you that the shift means four important developments.

1. The Warren doctrine of raising commodity prices by jacking the gold price is already conceded to be a flop and will be abandoned as a practical measure. Of course it would hardly be politic to say so out loud just yet.

2. A few gold purchases will be made abroad as a gesture but they will be very small and nothing will be done to arouse official European resentment.

3. De facto stabilization—perhaps only temporary—is not far away as a matter of informal agreement with England and possibly France.

4. Price-fixing and silver are the medicines next in line to be tried. Nobody here gives price-fixing a chance of sustained success but it seems to be indicated as straight up the farmers' alley. New York expects the farmers to get primary consideration for the next couple of months.

GOLD

No domestic gold producers were trampled in the rush to sell their metal to the R. F. C. at the various prices that have been officially announced. In fact there is some doubt here that any gold has been sold to the R. F. C. at all. One gold mine officer puts it: "What's the use of selling today when you know you'll get a better price tomorrow?"

HOARDERS

The sudden rise of the gold price in the London market was not due to any official purchases on our part. It is attributed by insiders to a revival of large-scale gold hoarding. Most of it seems to be European in origin but several Americans who had acquired sterling exchange by exporting commodities are taking more than an academic interest.

Local owners of silver stocks and silver mines are rubbing their hands and anticipating a visit from Santa Claus in the near future.

Most of the high minded propaganda about the benefits of revalorizing silver are rated by local authorities as strictly the bunk. They say we couldn't break into the Indian market with dynamite if silver were ten dollars an ounce. Nor can they see China putting on a buy-now campaign for our benefit. The personal profits from a domestic speculative rise are something else again.

Rumors as to the precise form of silver boosting to be adopted are plentiful hereabouts at a nickel a gross. One of the commonest says the British will make another token payment on their December debt installment in silver. That can happen—if we want it to and are willing to meet British ideas on stability.

AIDS

Wall Street notes with anguish that James Rand and R. E. Wood (of Sears Roebuck) are mentioned as conferring with the President in the capacity of "credit and finance aids." The conservatives say all that is needed to confound confusion is to put the Committee for the Nation in charge of monetary policy. But they are comforted by what look like press agent tracks on the story.

Investment bankers have decided to admit stock brokers to their association for the first time in history. The official reason is a united front against restrictive legislation. Insiders intimate a better reason is the anemic state of the I B A's exchequer.

Travelers on the Trans-Siberian Railway in mid-October report Soviet troop trains bound east passing day and night every forty-five minutes.

Japanese insiders report that mobilization against Russia has begun. The reservists have been warned to stand by. Censorship on this as news is absolute. It was impossible to transmit anything on it by cable.

Litvinoff's visit is likely to synchronize with major events. He will be even more closely guarded while here than the President.

SIDELIGHTS

The Federal Reserve is still printing notes which say on their face that they are redeemable in gold on demand at the Treasury. . . . Seems as if the Federal Reserve should have heard the news by now. . . . Dissolution of the First National security affiliate leaves the Guaranty Co. as the last survivor of its race. . . . This one will head for the last round-up before long.

STATE FAIR BACK AGAIN AT WALKER

Truth aids fiction in "State Fair," the prize novel by Phil Stong on which the all-star picture of the same name is based.

The story concerns the loves and adventures of four members of a farm family at a midwest state fair, and Stong is intimately acquainted with his characters and locale. He was raised in a rural community such as he describes in his book and as a newspaper reporter "covered" many state fairs.

The characters played by Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Frank Craven, Louise Dresser and Victor Joy are fictional but they represent authentic types.

"State Fair" comes to Walker's State theater today and Thursday on a return engagement.

Jangled nerves sap your vitality

Every time you let jangled nerves get the best of you... Every time you bang the door off its hinges, or "want to scream," you're taking it out of yourself.

Door banging, screaming and such antics are rude to say the least, and make your family and your friends uncomfortable... But — most important, each fit of temper you give way to is sapping your own vitality, making the next tantrum easier, ruining your health, your digestion, your disposition.

Watch your nerves. Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

STATE FAIR BACK AGAIN AT WALKER

Truth aids fiction in "State Fair," the prize novel by Phil Stong on which the all-star picture of the same name is based.

The story concerns the loves and adventures of four members of a farm family at a midwest state fair, and Stong is intimately acquainted with his characters and locale. He was raised in a rural community such as he describes in his book and as a newspaper reporter "covered" many state fairs.

The characters played by Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Frank Craven, Louise Dresser and Victor Joy are fictional but they represent authentic types.

"State Fair" comes to Walker's State theater today and Thursday on a return engagement.

J. F. Demers, 117 West Fifth street, had his automobile stolen from Sixth and Broadway, he reported to police.

Nine fire extinguishers were stolen from the Chancellor-Confield-Midway oil lease at Olinda between October 28 and November 6, company officials reported to the sheriff's office yesterday.

United States Deputy Marshal Frank Besser has brought two federal prisoners to the county jail. They were Charles Edward Craig, Los Angeles, and E. L. King, 25, Los Angeles.

Good-bye COLD!

When This Famous Remedy Gets on the Job!

It's just too bad for a cold when you take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. For this famous tablet soon has the cold on its way. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine acts quickly and decisively because it is expressly a cold remedy and because it gets at a cold from the inside.

Complete relief is had with Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine because it is a complete treatment. It does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is courting danger. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 60c. Ask for it by the full name and resent a substitute.—Adv.

Jangled nerves sap your vitality

Every time you let jangled nerves get the best of you... Every time you bang the door off its hinges, or "want to scream," you're taking it out of yourself.

Door banging, screaming and such antics are rude to say the least, and make your family and your friends uncomfortable... But — most important, each fit of temper you give way to is sapping your own vitality, making the next tantrum easier, ruining your health, your digestion, your disposition.

Watch your nerves. Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

FROM INDIANS' RESERVATION

From the reservation of the Stanford Indians many fine football players will invade Southern California Saturday for the annual battle of north and south at the Coliseum. Below are two of "Tiny" Thornhill's best bets. Bob Hamilton, blocking halfback, is the man about to get away a forward pass. The other athlete is Al Nergard, right end, and a fine defensive man.

BELL TO START AT RIGHT HALF NEXT SATURDAY

Uncovering superior blocking without sacrificing speed or power, Coach Bill Cook of Santa Ana's Dons today had discovered a new backfield which he will employ against Chaffey junior college at Ontario Saturday.

The latest arrangement—different from any used this season—transfers "Porky" Bell, most effective blocker on the team, from left to right halfback. Harry McInteer, excellent on defense, returns to the starting lineup at left half. Wilburn Anderson, chunky regular who has been operating at Bell's new position, shifts to fullback, where he turned in a million-dollar performance in scrimmage yesterday. Santa Ana's quarterback will be Harold Welty. He has been nursing an injured shoulder and ankle, but with a few layers of adhesive tape will be in condition.

Alternating with Welty and Anderson at quarter and full, respectively, will be two of Coach Cook's most impressive freshmen, Ray Hapes and Bob Mitchell.

Bell's removal from inside half does not weaken this position to any extent, since Clair Preininger, a fine blocker, will be available to alternate with McInteer. At outside half Bell will be aided by Bob Phipps. Other reserves still on the squad are "Red" McDaniel, Junior Hurley and Alex Clark.

Horace Ritner, 195-pound end, has been shifted to tackle to build up Santa Ana's reserve strength. Temporarily forced out of his running guard position by Sammy Tucker, former Saint quarterback, Loren Lukens has been transferred to standing guard to compete with Ray Nowotny, 207-pound regular.

Injured Miles Norton, regular tackle, has not been in suit since Saturday's game with Citrus, but has been watching drill from the sidelines and will be all right for the Chaffey struggle.

Bruce Handy and Ray Hoar are waging a spirited battle at center. One of the best defensive men on the squad, Handy also has improved his passing, and will open against Chaffey. Hoar, who passed the ball more skillfully than Handy, is due for considerable service.

Big Ten Ban On Pasadena Game Stands

YALE DUE FOR SEVERE LACING FROM GEORGIA

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Georgia, one of the unbeaten teams of the South, is coming up here Saturday to play the Yales, as they are known among the Piping Rock set, and without a doubt, the Yales will be lucky if they get out of the place with their undergarments.

This is not an idle surmise. It is a statement of fact based on my observation of Southern football as indulged in by these rabid gentlemen to whom football seems to do strange things, giving them a wild light in the eye and an alarming air of high purpose.

You have to be a little better than the average Southern team or you won't win. In fact, you have to be a little better than the average Southern team or it's liable to run you right out the rear entrance. To be more explicitly, they make you win from them legitimately, as the East, the Coast and other sections will agree. The South itself might even guardedly admit this. It didn't get that way on diffidence.

The coast's experience is based on Alabama's theatrical finish that beat Washington by a point and a few other saddening momentoes, including the time that Georgia Tech chased Riegels almost over the wrong goal. Mine is based on what I've seen of Southern football, both up here and down there.

There was the occasion, for instance, when a Georgia captain was asked how his team felt on the eve of another meeting with the Yales and, speaking in what seemed to be a very marked manner, he said:

"Mister, maybe we're going to lost this football game. But, mister, we'll be in there fighting not only for Georgia but for Southern football."

There was also the time when a very mediocre Georgia team, not quite happy in the Notre Dame routine then as Yale isn't today, met a very good Alabama team at Birmingham in 1926. The result was not a ball game; it rapidly became a steeplechase, with Alabama running up more than thirty points and Georgia fighting back as well as it might.

On the ensuing kickoff, I looked for Georgia to reach the inevitable decision that, after all, maybe this wasn't to be its day. Instead, it went down under the ball like a lot of maniacs, shouting as it came in a strange tongue. I gave up after that.

Georgia didn't. It scored within three minutes, fluking out a late touchdown that seemed to me to have no bearing on anyone's life, at the time, a few Alabama men nearby appeared to be muttering a little darkly about something but I thought this could not be. However, down in the city later the whole town was talking about Alabama's "tough luck." Georgia had scored against Alabama and it seemed they just couldn't get over it.

It is for these and several other reasons that the Yales may look for an embarrassing afternoon at New Haven Saturday, perhaps even as embarrassing as the moment that overtook your correspondent that night as he headed north from Birmingham and, at the soliciation of a couple of strangers, attempted to expound the Warner system.

Your correspondent was well launched on the features of this system, including what was wrong with it, when he happened to take note of an old gentleman ooking at him quizically over a pair of bow-rimmed. spectacles, the old gentleman was Glenn Scobie Warner but, at that, he was very nice about everything. He didn't even tell me what was wrong with me.

Gaels Puncture Fordham Winning Streak

RECALL WINTERBURN WORDS

Ex-Card Coach Questioned Maturity of His Frosh

HERSHBERGER INJURES ARM

When "Chuck" Winterburn was renewing old acquaintances here last spring, he dropped words of wisdom worth remembering now that Southern California and Stanford are getting ready to mix again....Saint coach in '25, chunky "Chuck" graduated to Stanford the next season as "Pop" Warner's assistant. Last year, Winterburn coached the Indians' undefeated freshmen who, as sophs now, have given Stanford followers new hope for a victory oper Troy.

Winterburn already had signed to accompany Warner to Temple U., so he could speak of Stanford with unbridled force.

"I coached those freshmen and I know what they can do," said Winterburn. "They are mighty good boys, but it's cruel to expect so much of them their first season in varsity football. Bob Hamilton is the one man I should say can hold his own with U. S. C. Hamilton is a finished football player. When he puts on a block, it's a block. Grayson, Moscrip and the rest are fine prospects—but they're a year or so away."

Santa Ana's Herb Covington was first string guard on the undefeated Arizona freshman football team which won the state championship this year. Maurice Bergeman of Brea-Olinda, Dave Wynne of San Diego and John Schneyer of Roosevelt Hi were other California boys on the team. Covington is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Covington, 1014 West Sixth street.

Arthur L. Nunn, Fullerton junior college mentor, has become an interior decorator....He has plastered the walls of his two-by-four office with pictures of the five Yellowjacket squads he has coached. But there is no trace of evidence that Nunn turned out a championship lightweight team for Fullerton high school '27.

The collection includes such players as Jim McCormick, California end; Frank Del Giorgio, Loyola tackle; "Chil" and Bob Hezmalhalch, former Tempe stars; Bill Peterson, end, present U. C. baseball player; Eddie Holston, U.S C. diver, and others. Yet—there is no sign of the most promising player Nunn coached—Floyd Vaughan, Pittsburgh shortstop, who played end on the championship lightweight team.

Merritt Bush, 1932 Fullerton high school graduate, has earned a regular berth on the University of Chicago eleven....."Lefty" Deems, "Droopy" Masterson, Barton Smith and several other Long Beach junior college players, hold down regular end berths on the same team....Ed Thompson, 1932 Indian grid captain, is also at Chicago.

Charles ("Rusty") Ledbetter, all-County league fullback at Brea-Olinda last year, is destined for more than athletic fame at Stanford. The Brea red-head is an aggressive, line-smashing back, who tackles his books just as hard as rival ball carriers. Led better wants to be a Rhodes scholar.

Francis Lemon, manager of the Fullerton Merchants, fast northern Orange county sandlot nine, has gone into a huddle with Willard Hershberger of the New York Yanks. They are working out a plan whereby Fullerton youngsters will be able to get the latest dope on the national pastime.

Hershberger recently caught for the Merchants and when he attempted to throw out a runner at second discovered that his soup bone wasn't all it used to be....Hershy consulted a specialist and found that Art Shires had twisted his arm too much....However, it is believed his arm will be normal by spring training time.

BILL SPAULDING VINDICATED BY BRUIN SEASON

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Sixty percent through their schedule, the Bruins of Westwood have vindicated Coach William H. Spaulding's pre-season statement that his charges would play the best football in U. C. L. A.'s history.

The record shows no victories against conference opposition, but the Bruins have produced a sparkling offense and the same dependable defense which has made them noe of the hardest teams on the coast to score against.

The factors in better football have been greater experience, more reserves, a more versatile attack—especially on the ground—and the best cooperative spirit Westwood has known.

Cheshire, on the basis of his record as a sophomore, may well attain all-American honors before he graduates. He weighs but 163 but he's tough and has the mental and physical equipment to play fine football.

He is perhaps the leading Bruin passer, and certainly the finest kicker and ball carrier in first string ranks. His punting is eclipsed only by that of William Murphy, sophomore quarter, who will make his debut against the U. S. Marines at San Diego this week after being on the hospital list since September.

FULLERTON TO PLAY BURBANK ON FRIDAY

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Fullerton's Indians will clash with Burbank here Friday in the last football game of the high school season. Neither the Fullerton junior college nor the high school lightweight have any remaining home games.

The Braves will be without the services of Sam Miller, smashing fullback, when they tangle with the former Foothill league foe. Coach Don Cruickshank suspended Miller from the squad yesterday for alleged training rule infractions. This disciplinary move may effect the offensive punch of the Fullerton eleven.

Leo Burns will likely replace Miller in the backfield. It was Burns, who started in place of Miller in recent contests.

Athletic relations between the two schools will be renewed with Friday's game. The Indians, as members of the Foothill league, defeated Burbank, 21-6, in 1929 when Floyd Vaughan, now a Pittsburgh shortstop; John McElheny, Wendell Pickens and Willie McVeigh engineered the foothill leaguer's downfall.

Though Coach Cruickshank has not seen the Burbank eleven in action this season, it is not believed that the Indians will have any difficulty in winning. Having taken Loyola, 33 to 0, after tough battles with Santa Ana and Covina, the Braves show considerable strength.

SWALLOWED SIGNALS

When "Pop" Warner was coaching at Carlisle, he sent a signal out to his quarterback in the form of three pebbles in a water bucket. Before the quarterback could get to the water a husky Indian guard drank most of it and two of the pebbles. The resulting play, instead of being an end run as intended, turned out to be a line smash.

PENNSYLVANIA LIFTS BAN ON SUNDAY SPORTS

BY PAT ROBINSON
(INS Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Pennsylvania may not realize it, but the fact is the state by repealing its Sunday "blue laws" yesterday, automatically voted several of Connie Mack's brightest stars onto the auction block, put thousands of dollars in the coffers of the Athletics, Phillies and Pirates and cost the Brooklyn Dodgers a fortune through the loss of extra Sunday games they used to play with the Phils and Pirates.

Mack was generally supposed to be ready to sell "Lefty" Grove, Mickey Cochrane, George Earnshaw and Max Bishop only in the event there would be no Sunday baseball, the theory being that he could get out of the red only by selling them.

A close friend of Mack's told the writer today the converse is true. Mack will be more ready, said he, to sell his stars now that he can have Sunday games.

"Here's the situation," said this man, who is one of the best known characters in baseball. "Mack realizes that no ball player except Babe Ruth ever drew an extra dollar at the gate. Neither Grove nor anybody else except Ruth is worth a dime as a drawing card.

"But with nothing to do on Sunday afternoons, Mack knows thousands will come out to the ball park—not to see Grove or Cochrane, particularly, but just to see a ball game.

"Mack knows, too, that all of these men mentioned as for sale are definitely on the down grade. Grove hasn't many more years of usefulness and neither has Cochrane or Bishop. Therefore, why not get plenty for them while the getting is good?

"If he can get $100,000 or $150,000 for them—and you can forget that bunk about Grove alone being sold for a quarter of a million—he will have just so much velvet.

"He can get more than that through Sunday ball games even without them, so why continue to lay out heavy sugar in pay checks for men he doesn't need?"

The writer admits the force of the argument but wnoders how well the Athletics would continue to draw on Sundays with a losing team and how well would they draw on the road on weekdays.

In any event, it's a sure bet the A's, Phils and Pirates will make thousands by Sunday ball regardless of where they are in the standings. And it's just as certain the Dodgers will be hard hit through the loss of many Sunday dates, now that the Pirates and Phils can play in their own back yard.

U. C. INCONSISTENCY PERPLEXES INGRAM

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Bill Ingram sighed today and cast about for a way to make his University of California football men play up to their highest standard against Washington here Saturday.

Ingram said he couldn't understand how a team could look so good as his Golden Bears did against St. Mary's and U. S. C., and so bad as they did against Washington State and U. C. L. A.

"It isn't that they make mistakes at any time," said Bill sadly. "They never play bad football. They are good football players, but they don't play with any spirit some times."

He then concluded that if they lack spirit against the Huskies they will take a beating.

There were several little rays of sunshine on the practice field who haven't been seen much lately, namely "Chili" Bertoli, Floyd Blower and Jack Brittingham.

Bertoli, who started the season as California's best back, has recovered from injuries enough so that he may play against the Huskies.

The others are completely whole again, Blower regaining his powerful stride in the backfield and Brittingham mussing up plays from his end position as he did against St. Mary's.

ARIZMENDI WHIPS SHEA AT OLYMPIC

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—(UP)—"Baby" Arizmendi re-scaled the heights he lost in recent months last night by pounding out a decisive victory over Eddie Shea, veteran Chicago featherweight, in 10 rounds at the Olympic.

Jack Dempsey, referee, had an easy time deciding on the winner. From the outset, the Mexican battler pushed the fight, hanging up round after round with a double-barreled attack that completely subjugated the slower moving, methodical Shea.

FORDHAM'S GATE TO APPROACH $500,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Does good football pay?

Graduate Manager Jack Coffey of Fordham today oars in with an emphatic yes. Fordham's total gates, says Coffey, will run between $400,000 and $500,000 this season and that's not small change.

FOOTBALL CAMPS

(By United Press)

PALO ALTO—Contradictory reports came from the camp of the Stanford Indians today as Coach "Tiny" Thornhill prepared his men for their big battle with U. S. C. Saturday at Los Angeles. One report said Bobby Grayson, the Indians' best back, was on crutches. Another that Grayson would call signals; a third that the Portland boy would be seen at his regular fullback post.

BERKELEY—Coach Bill Ingram was "experimenting" again today, keeping a backfield combination that would provide speed with power in California's meeting with Washington here Saturday.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—In secret practice sessions Coach Lon Stiner sought today to inject a scoring punch into his Oregon State team. Stiner wanted a more powerful attack for the big game with University of Oregon Saturday.

LOS ANGELES—Bob Erskine's appearance in the U. S. C. lineup against Stanford Saturday remained a mooted question today. It seemed virtually certain his tackle duties would be shouldered by "Brick" Bright. Coach Howard Jones said his "personal opinion" was that Erskine would not play.

LOS ANGELES—Bill Murphy, second-stringer, was placed in line today for a call as starting quarterback when U. C. L. A. collides with the Marines at San Diego Saturday.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Ed Casey, Harvard coach, today said his team had an even chance to take the Army Saturday. He bases his hopes on the fact that the Crimson has shown steady improvement on defense in recent practice sessions.

HANOVER, N. H.—Bill Morton, former All-America quarterback in his day at Dartmouth, had Bill Clark in hand again today for some special instruction in the finer points of kicking. Dartmouth counts on Clark's educated toes to keep Princeton back on its heels.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Noble Kizer was easing the battered Purdue eleven aion gtoday as the Boilermakers worked on defensive preparations for Notre Dame. Fred Hecker, fullback, took no part in the limbering up drill last evening.

NOTRE DAME, Ind.—John Young is almost certain choice to start against Purdue in the Notre Dame backfield in place of Ray Brancheau, injured regular. Other cripples not expected to be in shape are Dominic Valro and Fred Solari. The Irish were driven indoors yesterday by snow.

SURVEYING CURRENT SPORTS IN COMPANY WITH M'LEMORE

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Our own football round-up:

Before the Rutgers, Lafayette and N. Y. U. games, Coach Andy Kerr of Colgate began and ended all skull drills with "watch their off-tackle play, because it's a bear.... When the Tulane game was upcoming and Andy started warning his men of the Greenies' off-tackle play, Guard Blum piped up and said, "Say Andy, if that tackle play is such a magnificent thing, why don't you give it to us?"

Ellis Shannon, former Auburn end, now teaches aviation to the Chinese in Hanchow....Credit for the invention of the spinner play is given to Judge Wally Steffens of Carnegie Tech....The first time it was tried the ball-carrier went over Adam Walsh, Notre Dame center, for 20 yards....N. Y. U. hasn't scored on Fordham in four years, and it's even money the Violets won't accomplish the feat Saturday....Bill Ingram, a nephew of California's "Navy Bill", is the ace halfback at Lawrenceville....

Washington scribes who saw Tennessee turn back George Washington are willing to go on record that Beattie Feathers, Volunteer halfback, is good enough for any man's All-America....Dick Harlow, Western Maryland coach, is a bird lover and is about to give off a book on his hobby....St. Mary's players are of the opinion that Fordham will take Oregon State, the team that tied the mighty Trojans of U. S. C.....Noble Kizef, the man everybody says is going to succeed "Hunk" Anderson, will be in a bit of a spot Saturday when his Purdue Boilermakers play Notre Dame....

FROM INDIANS' RESERVATION

From the reservation of the Stanford Indians many fine football players will invade Southern California Saturday for the annual battle of north and south at the Coliseum. Below are two of "Tiny" Thornhill's best bets. Bob Hamilton, blocking halfback, is the man about to get away a forward pass. The other athlete is Al Nergard, right end, and a fine defensive man.

BELL TO START AT RIGHT HALF NEXT SATURDAY

Uncovering superior blocking without sacrificing speed or power, Coach Bill Cook of Santa Ana's Dons today had discovered a new backfield which he will employ against Chaffey junior college at Ontario Saturday.

The latest arrangement—different from any used this season—transfers "Porky" Bell, most effective blocker on the team, from left to right halfback. Harry McInteer, excellent on defense, returns to the starting lineup at left half. Wilburn Anderson, chunky regular who has been operating at Bell's new position, shifts to fullback, where he turned in a million-dollar performance in scrimmage yesterday. Santa Ana's quarterback will be Harold Welty. He has been nursing an injured shoulder and ankle, but with a few layers of adhesive tape will be in condition.

Alternating with Welty and Anderson at quarter and full, respectively, will be two of Coach Cook's most impressive freshmen, Ray Hapes and Bob Mitchell.

Bell's removal from inside half does not weaken this position to any extent, since Clair Preininger, a fine blocker, will be available to alternate with McInteer. At outside half Bell will be aided by Bob Phipps. Other reserves still on the squad are "Red" McDaniel, Junior Hurley and Alex Clark.

Horace Ritner, 195-pound end, has been shifted to tackle to build up Santa Ana's reserve strength. Temporarily forced out of his running guard position by Sammy Tucker, former Saint quarterback, Loren Lukens has been transferred to standing guard to compete with Ray Nowotny, 207-pound regular.

Injured Miles Norton, regular tackle, has not been in suit since Saturday's game with Citrus, but has been watching drill from the sidelines and will be all right for the Chaffey struggle.

Bruce Handy and Ray Hoar are waging a spirited battle at center. One of the best defensive men on the squad, Handy also has improved his passing, and will open against Chaffey. Hoar, who passed the ball more skillfully than Handy, is due for considerable service.

Big Ten Ban On Pasadena Game Stands

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Michigan, Purdue and all other Big Ten teams were eliminating today from consideration for the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day, when Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten commissioner of athletics, revealed that the faculty representatives of the conference had voted last May not to alter the rule against post-season games.

YALE DUE FOR SEVERE LACING FROM GEORGIA

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Georgia, one of the unbeaten teams of the South, is coming up here Saturday to play the Yales, as they are known among the Piping Rock set, and without a doubt, the Yales will be lucky if they get out of the place with their undergarments.

This is not an idle surmise. It is a statement of fact based on my observation of Southern football as indulged in by these rabid gentlemen to whom football seems to do strange things, giving them a wild light in the eye and an alarming air of high purpose.

You have to be a little better than the average Southern team or you won't win. In fact, you have to be a little better than the average Southern team or it's liable to run you right out the rear entrance. To be more explicitly, they make you win from them legitimately, as the East, the Coast and other sections will agree. The South itself might even guardedly admit this. It didn't get that way on diffidence.

The coast's experience is based on Alabama's theatrical finish that beat Washington by a point and a few other saddening momentoes, including the time that Georgia Tech chased Riegels almost over the wrong goal. Mine is based on what I've seen of Southern football, both up here and down there.

There was the occasion, for instance, when a Georgia captain was asked how his team felt on the eve of another meeting with the Yales and, speaking in what seemed to be a very marked manner, he said:

"Mister, maybe we're going to lost this football game. But, mister, we'll be in there fighting not only for Georgia but for Southern football."

There was also the time when a very mediocre Georgia team, not quite happy in the Notre Dame routine then as Yale isn't today, met a very good Alabama team at Birmingham in 1926. The result was not a ball game; it rapidly became a steeplechase, with Alabama running up more than thirty points and Georgia fighting back as well as it might.

On the ensuing kickoff, I looked for Georgia to reach the inevitable decision that, after all, maybe this wasn't to be its day. Instead, it went down under the ball like a lot of maniacs, shouting as it came in a strange tongue. I gave up after that.

Georgia didn't. It scored within three minutes, fluking out a late touchdown that seemed to me to have no bearing on anyone's life, at the time, a few Alabama men nearby appeared to be muttering a little darkly about something but I thought this could not be. However, down in the city later the whole town was talking about Alabama's "tough luck." Georgia had scored against Alabama and it seemed they just couldn't get over it.

It is for these and several other reasons that the Yales may look for an embarrassing afternoon at New Haven Saturday, perhaps even as embarrassing as the moment that overtook your correspondent that night as he headed north from Birmingham and, at the soliciation of a couple of strangers, attempted to expound the Warner system.

Your correspondent was well launched on the features of this system, including what was wrong with it, when he happened to take note of an old gentleman looking at him quizically over a pair of bow-rimmed spectacles, the old gentleman was Glenn Scobie Warner but, at that, he was very nice about everything. He didn't even tell me what was wrong with me.

Gaels Puncture Fordham Winning Streak

RECALL WINTERBURN WORDS

HERSHBERGER INJURES ARM

When "Chuck" Winterburn was renewing old acquaintances here last spring, he dropped words of wisdom worth remembering now that Southern California and Stanford are getting ready to mix again....Saint coach in '25, chunky "Chuck" graduated to Stanford the next season as "Pop" Warner's assistant. Last year, Winterburn coached the Indians' undefeated freshmen who, as sophs now, have given Stanford followers new hope for a victory oper Troy.

Winterburn already had signed to accompany Warner to Temple U., so he could speak of Stanford with unbridled force.

"I coached those freshmen and I know what they can do," said Winterburn. "They are mighty good boys, but it's cruel to expect so much of them their first season in varsity football. Bob Hamilton is the one man I should say can hold his own with U. S. C. Hamilton is a finished football player. When he puts on a block, it's a block. Grayson, Moscrip and the rest are fine prospects—but they're a year or so away."

Santa Ana's Herb Covington was first string guard on the undefeated Arizona freshman football team which won the state championship this year. Maurice Bergeman of Brea-Olinda, Dave Wynne of San Diego and John Schneyer of Roosevelt Hi were other California boys on the team. Covington is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Covington, 1014 West Sixth street.

Arthur L. Nunn, Fullerton junior college mentor, has become an interior decorator....He has plastered the walls of his two-by-four office with pictures of the five Yellowjacket squads he has coached. But there is no trace of evidence that Nunn turned out a championship lightweight team for Fullerton high school '27.

The collection includes such players as Jim McCormick, California end; Frank Del Giorgio, Loyola tackle; "Chil" and Bob Hezmalhalch, former Tempe stars; Bill Peterson, end, present U. C. baseball player; Eddie Holston, U.S.C. diver, and others. Yet—there is no sign of the most promising player Nunn coached—Floyd Vaughan, Pittsburgh shortstop, who played end on the championship lightweight team.

Merritt Bush, 1932 Fullerton high school graduate, has earned a regular berth on the University of Chicago eleven....."Lefty" Deems, "Droopy" Masterson, Barton Smith and several other Long Beach junior college players, hold down regular end berths on the same team....Ed Thompson, 1932 Indian grid captain, is also at Chicago.

Charles ("Rusty") Ledbetter, all-County league fullback at Brea-Olinda last year, is destined for more than athletic fame at Stanford. The Brea red-head is an aggressive, line-smashing back, who tackles his books just as hard as rival ball carriers. Led better wants to be a Rhodes scholar.

Francis Lemon, manager of the Fullerton Merchants, fast northern Orange county sandlot nine, has gone into a huddle with Willard Hershberger of the New York Yanks. They are working out a plan whereby Fullerton youngsters will be able to get the latest dope on the national pastime.

Hershberger recently caught for the Merchants and when he attempted to throw out a runner at second discovered that his soup bone wasn't all it used to be....Hershy consulted a specialist and found that Art Shires had twisted his arm too much....However, it is believed his arm will be normal by spring training time.

FULLERTON TO PLAY BURBANK ON FRIDAY

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Fullerton's Indians will clash with Burbank here Friday in the last football game of the high school season. Neither the Fullerton junior college nor the high school lightweight have any remaining home games.

The Braves will be without the services of Sam Miller, smashing fullback, when they tangle with the former Foothill league foe. Coach Don Cruickshank suspended Miller from the squad yesterday for alleged training rule infractions. This disciplinary move may effect the offensive punch of the Fullerton eleven.

Leo Burns will likely replace Miller in the backfield. It was Burns, who started in place of Miller in recent contests.

Athletic relations between the two schools will be renewed with Friday's game. The Indians, as members of the Foothill league, defeated Burbank, 21-6, in 1929 when Floyd Vaughan, now a Pittsburgh shortstop; John McElheny, Wendell Pickens and Willie McVeigh engineered the foothill leaguer's downfall.

Though Coach Cruickshank has not seen the Burbank eleven in action this season, it is not believed that the Indians will have any difficulty in winning. Having taken Loyola, 33 to 0, after tough battles with Santa Ana and Covina, the Braves show considerable strength.

SWALLOWED SIGNALS

When "Pop" Warner was coaching at Carlisle, he sent a signal out to his quarterback in the form of three pebbles in a water bucket. Before the quarterback could get to the water a husky Indian guard drank most of it and two of the pebbles. The resulting play, instead of being an end run as intended, turned out to be a line smash.

BILL SPAULDING VINDICATED BY BRUIN SEASON

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Sixty percent through their schedule, the Bruins of Westwood have vindicated Coach William H. Spaulding's pre-season statement that his charges would play the best football in U. C. L. A.'s history.

The record shows no victories against conference opposition, but the Bruins have produced a sparkling offense and the same dependable defense which has made them noe of the hardest teams on the coast to score against.

The factors in better football have been greater experience, more reserves, a more versatile attack—especially on the ground—and the best cooperative spirit Westwood has known.

Cheshire, on the basis of his record as a sophomore, may well attain all-American honors before he graduates. He weighs but 163 but he's tough and has the mental and physical equipment to play fine football.

He is perhaps the leading Bruin passer, and certainly the finest kicker and ball carrier in first string ranks. His punting is eclipsed only by that of William Murphy, sophomore quarter, who will make his debut against the U. S. Marines at San Diego this week after being on the hospital list since September.

SIGN GIANT TO BOX LOUGHRAN ON NOV. 18

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—After waiting for five years, Broadway fight fans are at last to have a look at Ray Impellitierre in action. He is matched today to fight Tommy Loughran Nov. 22.

Ray is 22, stands 6 feet 7 in his sox and when trained down real fine tonnages about 265. Many boxing critics who have seen him bounce several ring stars around in the gym are convinced he is the coming heavyweight champion.

PENNSYLVANIA LIFTS BAN ON SUNDAY SPORTS

BY PAT ROBINSON
(INS Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Pennsylvania may not realize it, but the fact is the state by repealing its Sunday "blue laws" yesterday, automatically voted several of Connie Mack's brightest stars onto the auction block, put thousands of dollars in the coffers of the Athletics, Phillies and Pirates and cost the Brooklyn Dodgers a fortune through the loss of extra Sunday games they used to play with the Phils and Pirates.

Mack was generally supposed to be ready to sell "Lefty" Grove, Mickey Cochrane, George Earnshaw and Max Bishop only in the event there would be no Sunday baseball, the theory being that he could get out of the red only by selling them.

A close friend of Mack's told the writer today the converse is true. Mack will be more ready, said he, to sell his stars now that he can have Sunday games.

"Here's the situation," said this man, who is one of the best known characters in baseball. "Mack realizes that no ball player except Babe Ruth ever drew an extra dollar at the gate. Neither Grove nor anybody else except Ruth is worth a dime as a drawing card.

"But with nothing to do on Sunday afternoons, Mack knows thousands will come out to the ball park—not to see Grove or Cochrane, particularly, but just to see a ball game.

"Mack knows, too, that all of these men mentioned as for sale are definitely on the down grade. Grove hasn't many more years of usefulness and neither has Cochrane or Bishop. Therefore, why not get plenty for them while the getting is good?

"If he can get $100,000 or $150,000 for them—and you can forget that bunk about Grove alone being sold for a quarter of a million—he will have just so much velvet.

"He can get more than that through Sunday ball games even without them, so why continue to lay out heavy sugar in pay checks for men he doesn't need?"

The writer admits the force of the argument but wnoders how well the Athletics would continue to draw on Sundays with a losing team and how well would they draw on the road on weekdays.

In any event, it's a sure bet the A's, Phils and Pirates will make thousands by Sunday ball regardless of where they are in the standings. And it's just as certain the Dodgers will be hard hit through the loss of many Sunday dates, now that the Pirates and Phils can play in their own back yard.

U. C. INCONSISTENCY PERPLEXES INGRAM

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Bill Ingram sighed today and cast about for a way to make his University of California football men play up to their highest standard against Washington here Saturday.

Ingram said he couldn't understand how a team could look so good as his Golden Bears did against St. Mary's and U. S. C., and so bad as they did against Washington State and U. C. L. A.

"It isn't that they make mistakes at any time," said Bill sadly. "They never play bad football. They are good football players, but they don't play with any spirit some times."

He then concluded that if they lack spirit against the Huskies they will take a beating.

There were several little rays of sunshine on the practice field who haven't been seen much lately, namely "Chili" Bertoli, Floyd Blower and Jack Brittingham.

Bertoli, who started the season as California's best back, has recovered from injuries enough so that he may play against the Huskies.

The others are completely whole again, Blower regaining his powerful stride in the backfield and Brittingham mussing up plays from his end position as he did against St. Mary's.

The other football clubs in the Coast Conference seem to have whittled the Trojans down to their size this year . . . with the season almost over, there was very little difference in scores between winners and losers . . . here are four sample games: Southern California 6, California 0; Washington 6, Stanford 0; Oregon 7, U. C. L. A. 0; Oregon State 2, Washington 0. . . . In those four games a point was scored every 10 minutes.

"Bucky" Harris thinks Eddie Morgan and Bill Cissell will improve the Red Sox defense considerably . . . it seems both these athletes are due for a good year. . . . There has been some good kicking this year, but until a better one comes along this corner will have to stick to Rocketing Ralph Kercheval of Kentucky.

FORDHAM'S GATE TO APPROACH $500,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Does good football pay?

Graduate Manager Jack Coffey of Fordham today oars in with an emphatic yes. Fordham's total gates, says Coffey, will run between $400,000 and $500,000 this season and that's not small change.

FOOTBALL CAMPS

(By United Press)

PALO ALTO—Contradictory reports came from the camp of the Stanford Indians today as Coach "Tiny" Thornhill prepared his men for their big battle with U. S. C. Saturday at Los Angeles. One report said Bobby Grayson, the Indians' best back, was on crutches. Another that Grayson would call signals; a third that the Portland boy would be seen at his regular fullback post.

BERKELEY—Coach Bill Ingram was "experimenting" again today, keeping a backfield combination that would provide speed with power in California's meeting with Washington here Saturday.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—In secret practice sessions Coach Lon Stiner sought today to inject a scoring punch into his Oregon State team. Stiner wanted a more powerful attack for the big game with University of Oregon Saturday.

LOS ANGELES—Bob Erskine's appearance in the U. S. C. lineup against Stanford Saturday remained a mooted question today. It seemed virtually certain his tackle duties would be shouldered by "Brick" Bright. Coach Howard Jones said his "personal opinion" was that Erskine would not play.

LOS ANGELES—Bill Murphy, second-stringer, was placed in line today for a call as starting quarterback when U. C. L. A. collides with the Marines at San Diego Saturday.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Ed Casey, Harvard coach, today said his team had an even chance to take the Army Saturday. He bases his hopes on the fact that the Crimson has shown steady improvement on defense in recent practice sessions.

HANOVER, N. H.—Bill Morton, former All-America quarterback in his day at Dartmouth, had Bill Clark in hand again today for some special instruction in the finer points of kicking. Dartmouth counts on Clark's educated toes to keep Princeton back on its heels.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Noble Kizer was easing the battered Purdue eleven aion gtoday as the Boilermakers worked on defensive preparations for Notre Dame. Fred Hecker, fullback, took no part in the limbering up drill last evening.

NOTRE DAME, Ind.—John Young is almost certain choice to start against Purdue in the Notre Dame backfield in place of Ray Brancheau, injured regular. Other cripples not expected to be in shape are Dominic Valro and Fred Solari. The Irish were driven indoors yesterday by snow.

ARIZMENDI WHIPS SHEA AT OLYMPIC

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—(UP)—"Baby" Arizmendi re-scaled the heights he lost in recent months last night by pounding out a decisive victory over Eddie Shea, veteran Chicago featherweight, in 10 rounds at the Olympic.

Jack Dempsey, referee, had an easy time deciding on the winner. From the outset, the Mexican battler pushed the fight, hanging up round after round with a double-barreled attack that completely subjugated the slower moving, methodical Shea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Our own football round-up:

Before the Rutgers, Lafayette and N. Y. U. games, Coach Andy Kerr of Colgate began and ended all skull drills with "watch their off-tackle play, because it's a bear.... When the Tulane game was upcoming and Andy started warning his men of the Greenies' off-tackle play, Guard Blum piped up and said, "Say Andy, if that tackle play is such a magnificent thing, why don't you give it to us?"

Ellis Shannon, former Auburn end, now teaches aviation to the Chinese in Hanchow....Credit for the invention of the spinner play is given to Judge Wally Steffens of Carnegie Tech....The first time it was tried the ball-carrier went over Adam Walsh, Notre Dame center, for 20 yards....N. S. C.....Noble Kizer, the man everybody says is going to succeed "Hunk" Anderson, will be in a bit of a spot Saturday when his Purdue Boilermakers play Notre Dame....

Warburton? He's Just Another S. C. Back To Stanford

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 8.—(INS) — "Cotton" Warburton, the 147-pound flash of the Trojans, holds no terror for Stanford.

"We'll play him just as any other back Saturday," Coach Tiny Thornhill of the Cardinals said today.

BOARD FILES OBJECTION TO ITS ACTION

Protesting recent action of the Santa Ana board of education in employing an "outside firm of architects" for supervision of a portion of the proposed reconstruction of school buildings to comply with state requirements, a resolution, signed by representatives of five business organizations was received and filed by the board last night, with no action.

The resolution was read at a special meeting of the school board just after Frederick Eley, Santa Ana architect who also was employed for part of the architectural work, had informed the board that he did not believe that he could handle the job at the price of his bid.

At a recent meeting of the school board when architects were employed for the work Eley said that he would do his portion of the work for eight per cent of the cost of reconstruction work and six per cent of the cost on new work. The board employed him at the price to be paid Allison and Allison for similar work on the high school group, or eight and seven per cent respectively.

Under state requirements the work must be supervised by an architect and structural engineer. Eley at the time of his employment assured the board that he would employ an engineer that would meet state requirements. Last night he said that prices charged by engineers were greater than the amount he would receive for the work and that if he took the job at the rate agreed upon he would lose money. J. E. Allison, representing Allison and Allison, was present at last night's meeting and told the board that his firm maintained a structural engineer and the present contract rates were acceptable.

It was agreed between the board members and Eley that he continue his efforts to find a satisfactory engineer for a few days and that action on his contract be delayed while he made his search.

The petition that was presented protesting employment of outside architects and engineers was signed by Walter Swanberger for the Santa Ana Merchant's association; Otto Haan for the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; Frederic Sanford for the Orange County Builders' exchange; Allison Honer, General Contractors' association; and Phil Brown for the Business Men's association.

In the petition, employment of outside architects was protested on the grounds that "all things being equal local architects should be employed." Following reading of the petition W. M. Burke, member of the board, declared, "I too favor employment of local architects, 'all things being equal' but it has just be demonstrated here that all things are not equal and for that reason I move that the resolution submitted here be received, considered and filed."

REPORTS GIVEN AT DINNER IN CHURCH

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—Family night was observed at the Methodist Episcopal church Monday evening, with a pot luck dinner served at 6:30 o'clock to 140 persons. The dinner was followed by general business conducted by the official board after which the general superintendent of the Sunday school, Percy Prior, talked on work of the various departments and introduced the teachers.

Reports were given by superintendents of the departments as follows: Adults, Ralph Chaffee; Boys' division of the young people, L. L. Doig; girls' division, Velda Barnes; intermediate, Miss Pearl Crutchfield; junior, Mrs. E. P. Williams; primary, Miss Myrtle Ziegler; beginners, Mrs. A. A. Schnitger.

Ladies' Aid, Mrs. J. M. Chilson; home society, Mrs. J. O. Arkley; foreign society, Mrs. G. R. Reyburn; music departments, Irvine German; Young People's league, George Crane; high school league, Miss Joy Schnitger; junior league, Avery Howell.

The meeting closed by the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the church, giving an explanation of the evangelistic program for the whole leading up to Easter.

Savanna School Group In Social

HANSEN, Nov. 8.—At an informal party held recently in the home of Mrs. Jennie Romoff in Anaheim the members of the Savanna school board and their wives were entertained by the teachers of the two grammar schools in the Savanna district.

Games were enjoyed during the evening, with Mrs. King Rutledge winning the first prize of a serving set, and Mr. Rutledge receiving the consolation prize. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening.

Acting as co-hostesses were Mrs. Twill Reed, Mrs. Helen Reid, Miss Betty Gould, Mrs. Lois Jewel and Mrs. Jennie Romoff, teachers in the Stanton school, and Miss Nina Duden, Mrs. Helene Scheruman and Mrs. Dorothy Denniss, Savanna school teachers.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. King Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Lukens, Eurick Denniss, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gillison and Mr. and Mrs. L. Adams.

New Low Priced Reo Models Have Shifting Device

When Chief Engineer H. T. Thomas and his crew of experts at the Reo factory designed the famous self-shifting mechanism which is a feature of the latest Reo motor cars, he had in mind primarily the sole purpose of relieving drivers from the troubles and annoyances of hand gear-shifting according to W. W. Woods, Reo dealer.

In actual, practical operation by many thousands of motorists throughout the country, the driving public has learned that a great many other desirable things have been accomplished, he says.

"The numerous safety features," continued Mr. Woods, "are perfectly obvious and have become generally known, but there is another angle which has not been given so much attention. That is the opportunities it has opened up for people, who, for some reason another have never been able to drive before.

"It was especially called to my attention the other day by an analysis in which it was stated that there are literally millions of people in the United States who have never known the pleasure, the convenience or the real health-giving experience of driving their own car, through nervous fear, dread or some other individual characteristic which kept them from mastering the shifting of gears by hand."

OPPOSITION TO PORT PROJECT IS EXPRESSED

PLACENTIA, Nov. 8.—Members of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce expressed opposition to the proposed harbor bond election at their luncheon meeting Tuesday. It was claimed by speakers that the south part of the county failed to support the water bond issue a few years ago and that the harbor district residents could hardly expect support for their project.

Among those who spoke against the project were H. H. Hale, president, and S. James Tuffree.

Louis Jacobsen reported on the state water bonds and said he found that agricultural interests generally are against passage.

Stuart Strathman, secretary, said he felt the harbor needs development but said he does not believe the whole county should be bonded for it.

The Red Cross drive will open Saturday in Placentia. It also was announced that the Boy Scouts' dinner will be held November 24 at the Legion clubhouse.

Mrs. W. P. Treece Dinner Honoree

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 8. — The birthday anniversary of Mrs. W. P. Treece was observed with a turkey dinner given by a friend Mrs. Frank Knouse, at her home at Sixteenth and Pacific avenues, New Westminster. A yellow and black color scheme was used in table decorations and a large anniversary cake with candles centered the table.

The guest list included the honoree and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Treece, and members of their family, Jack Treece, the Misses Lois, Helen, Gloria and Dawn Treece, of this place, and Mrs. Treece's mother, Mrs. A. C. Portz; Mrs. Knouse, sr., mother of the hostess, of Maricopa; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark, parents of the hostess, from Taft, all of whom were friends of Mrs. Treece 21 years ago at Coalinga, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knouse.

ASK CALL FOR BIDS ON COUNTY POLICE RADIO

County Purchasing Agent F. W. Slabaugh was given authority by the board of supervisors yesterday to advertise for bids for equipping the proposed Orange county police radio station. The bids will all be conditional depending on whether or not the Federal Radio Commission approves the county's request for assignment of a wave length and a permit to construct the station.

It is proposed that the county erect and operate a radio station for handling police calls. Service of the station will be available to all police departments in the county and a probable prorating of expense will provide funds for the station's maintenance.

To date the supervisors have experienced a slight difficulty in having a wave length assigned to the local station. The radio commission has indicated a desire to assign the Orange county station to the same wave length now used by the Los Angeles and Pasadena police stations. This would be unsatisfactory to Orange county and in filing the application three wave lengths, including the Pasadena-Los Angeles wave length were designated with the request that one of the alternates be assigned.

P.-T. A. AT MESA HEARS MINISTER

COSTA MESA, Nov. 8—Character can not be bought, it must be caught, stated the Rev. W. I. Lowe, pastor of the local Community church, as he addressed the P.-T.A. in the auditorium of the Main building of the grammar school Tuesday afternoon on the topic, "Character." Of the three C's, culture, citizenship, and character, that the P.-T.A. is featuring in this year's program, the Rev. Mr. Lowe said that character is the greatest. It is the job of the home, the school, and the church to build character into the lives of the children, he said, and the ones responsible for this teaching must have character themselves in order to make a success of teaching it.

The program opened with the audience singing, "America the Beautiful," Mrs. George Sherry presiding at the piano. Mrs. Sherry also gave several short readings, giving a poem as the closing number.

Announcement was made that the December meeting of the P.-T.A. will be a joint session of the associations from the Main building and the Lindbergh school. Mrs. Moss, welfare chairman, was authorized to use the welfare money in her care as she sees fit.

Mrs. R. H. Hill, president of the association, was in charge.

Presiding Elder Guest At Dinner

GREENVILLE, Nov. 8.—Combining the first quarterly meeting of the Greenville circuit of the Methodist church, south, with a pot-luck dinner served in the church parlors, members of the congregations of the Talbert and Greenville churches entertained the presiding elder, Dr. Grover C. ## Party Observes 13th Anniversary

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 8. — A party after school Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington De La Vergne observed the 13th anniversary of their daughter, Virginia De La Vergne. Schoolmates were the invited guests and games preceded the refreshment hour. A green and white color scheme was used by Mrs. De La Vergne. There was a large decorated birthday cake with candles and dainty refreshments were served.

BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 8.—Charles and Harry Lee Schmidt, whose birthday anniversaries occur the same week, were honorees at a family dinner party at which relatives were the invited guests. A yellow and black color scheme was carried out by their mother, Mrs. William Schmidt.

Present were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Goode and son Albert; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goode of Corona, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Joss and son Jackie of Pomona, Harry Lee, Charles and William Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt.

Beach Pow Wow Leads To Better Homes For Tribe

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 8.—The recent pow-wow held on the central beach by Chief Tortez and a band of Cahuila braves from the Santa Rose reservation with their medicine man, Melkish Kilius (Stephen Chalmers, poet and author of this city), may not have been in vain. Monday there was another pow-wow in the American fashion at the wigwam of the writer on Carmelita street. Sitting in the circle were Chief Jack Meyers of major league baseball fame, who is a Santa Rosa Indian, and John W. Dady, superintendent of the Mission Indian agency in Riverside.

Superintendent Dady promised that something would be done to provide shelter for the Cahuila Indians. Last spring the former Indian agent promised that houses, or huts, that didn't leak would be provided, or that the old ones would be mended. Then came a change of administration and the Indians complained to Chalmers, who was taken into the tribe when he used his good offices to save water rights for them, that the "promises had been broken." Chalmers expressed the belief to Chief Tortez and his band that the new "White Father" in the White House, through the new Indian agent (Dady) would straighten things out.

Chalmers said today that through the appointment of John Collier, known for his friendship for the Indians, as commissioner of Indian affairs, President Roosevelt has opened up a new deal for the red man.

JURY FINDS MAN GUILTY ON COUNT OF CARRYING GUN

Theophilo Manriquez, Tustin, was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and resisting an officer following his jury trial yesterday in the Tustin justice court. Judge John Landell of San Juan Capistrano was on the bench in the absence of Judge D. L. McCharles, who is ill.

Manriquez, father of Mrs. Thelma Otero, who makes his home with her on San Juan street, was arrested on October 28 when officers raided the Otero home and confiscated liquor and dispersed guests. Both Manriquez and Mrs. Otero were held in the county jail until Monday. Sentence on Manriquez will be passed tomorrow at 8 a. m.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner prosecuted the case with N. D. Meyers and Morris A. Cain, defense attorneys. The jury was out from 5:15 to 8 p. m. and was composed of Perry Kenyon, Mrs. Dale Crawford, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Gaston Griset, John Kiser, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks, Mrs. Viola Brand, Mrs. Stella M. Farrar, Mrs. Ruth Newman, William C. Drake, Bud Hannaford and Porter G. Luther.

Beatrice Otero, 19, daughter of the home, is in jail for resisting an officer and was arraigned before Judge Landell today. Her mother was on trial today for possession of liquor, on Saturday for contributing to the delinquency of a minor and Monday for sale of liquor.

BUENA PARK STAR OFFICERS ELECTED

BUENA PARK, Nov. 8.—Election of officers occupied the attention of members of the Eastern Star chapter at their regular meeting Monday evening in the Masonic temple. Mrs. Ruth McLaughlin was elected to serve as worthy matron, William McLaughlin, worthy patron; Mrs. Alma Gallagher, associate matron; Herbert Hunt, associate patron; Mrs. Illian Shaw, re-elected secretary; Mrs. Vida Snell, of Cypress, conductress; Miss Loyd Allin, associate conductress.

The installation was set for December 8. A potluck dinner was served previous to the meeting.

PLAN FIRST AID PROGRAM AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 8.—A program, featuring first aid, has been arranged by the American Legion auxiliary, it was announced today by Mrs. Zelma Hostetler, publicity chairman, the first lesson being scheduled for Monday evening, November 13. Frank Crocker, city fire chief, assisted by a trained nurse, will give the first lesson. The course will extend over a period of several months. Mrs. Bessie Pullen, chairman of the disaster and relief committee, will be in charge of the programs.

Mrs. Iris Brown, hospitality chairman to the auxiliary, announces that canned and staple goods will be received now for Thanksgiving gifts. Pumpkin pies and other perishable articles will be received on November 29, the day before Thanksgiving.

No Insurance On Oil Destroyed In Beach City Fire

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8.—No insurance was carried on the five thousand barrels of oil destroyed in the field Tuesday by fire and there was no insurance on the tanks. The loss is about $10,000, according to oil men. The wooden derrick owned by the W. K. Oil company was insured and there was insurance on the derrick equipment. The insurance policy on the W. K. Company oil was allowed to lapse last month as an economy measure pending a better sale of the oil.

Fire men brought the blaze under control early in the morning and by night the fire was completely extinguished. The fire was the second to occur in the vicinity of the big gushers in the town lot field. The gusher wells are all equipped with shutoff valves and in case of fire the wells can be quickly shut in. The great fire hazard is the huge amount of oil in the storage tanks, and the danger when new wells are being brought in. There is less danger of the gusher wells catching fire, once they are harnessed, but if one should get loose and catch fire, the results would be highly disastrous, owing to the close drilling practiced in the field, operators point out.

EASTERN STAR HEADS DINNER HONOR GUESTS

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—Officers of Garden Grove chapter, O. E. S., entertained with a 7 o'clock dinner party recently in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe in Santa Ana in honor of the worthy matron, Mabel Doig, and the worthy patron, W. B. Merchant.

Tables were arranged in a "T" shape and autumn colors were used for decorations.

Court whist was the diversion of the evening. First prizes went to Mrs. Pauline Merchant and Dr. Donald R. E. Waters, while Mrs. Mabel Doig and J. Carlisle Clark were consoled.

Mrs. Emma Kerns, associate matron, on behalf of the officers, presented Mrs. Doig with two twin quilts, and Dr. Waters, associate patron, presented W. B. Merchant with a traveling case.

Mrs. Emma Kearns was in charge of dinner arrangements and Mrs. Alice Keele was in charge of the card games.

Special guests of the evening were L. L. Doig, A. F. Kearns, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gilliogly, of Orange; Mrs. Mae Henry, deputy grand matron, and Charles B. Henry, past patron of the local chapter, while the officers present included Mrs. Mabel Doig, W. B. Merchant, Mrs. Emma Kearns, Donald R. E. Waters, Mrs. Mignon Waters, Mrs. Alice Keele, Mrs. Ethel Schauer, Mrs. Alice C. Smith, Mrs. Anna Haster, Mrs. Pauline Merchant, Miss Clara Carmichael, Mrs. Irma Doosing, Miss Anne Ashley, Mrs. Emma Henry, Miss Marcia Carmichael, Mrs. Camille Nichols, Carlisle J. Clark and Mrs. Ella Wheeler.

Distribute Pork To Beach Needy

LAGUNAN FINDS BUSINESS TONE IN EAST BETTER

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 8.—Stabilization of prices under the NRA has given a better tone to business throughout the mid-west and eastern and south states, according to Councilman Maurice B. McMillan, who returned yesterday with Mrs. McMillan from an automobile trip that took them as far east as Washington, D. C.

The absence of competitive price slashing among the reputable business firms associated under the Blue Eagle codes has given capital more confidence with the result that there are fewer vacant stores, merchants are laying in larger stocks for the winter, employment has increased appreciably and there is more buying in almost all lines of trade, even in the luxury numbers he said.

"Almost the first thing I noticed," said McMillan, "was the absence of the long faces among business men, so painfully evident a year ago. There is very little money—that is cash money—but but everywhere one finds a hopeful expectancy. Whatever may be its faults, if it has any, the NRA has restored a great measure of confidence.

"The last time I was back East, men who has lost money in the financial crash still were worrying about their losses. That phase of the depression seems to have passed. The same men now are accepting their losses as a matter of fact and are looking to the future—just to what goal they cannot tell you. It is mostly a matter of waiting for the situation to clear itself. There is a sort of blind hope, or confidence, in President Roosevelt's recovery program. They are at least not worrying about competitive price-slashing and most of the manufacturers and retailers are living up the codes. Of course there are instances of chiseling, but the great majority of business men honestly are trying to better the situation by working in harmony."

ROYALTY OWNERS CONVENE TONIGHT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8.—Oil royalty owners in the town lot field and all interested in the field are urged to attend the mass meeting at Memorial hall tonight, starting at 7 o'clock. A large attendance is desired.

Fred Law Honor Guest At Dinner

BUENA PARK, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Fred Law entertained with a 6:30 o'clock dinner at her home on East Orangethorpe Monday evening in observance of her husband's birthday.

Hemmerling, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gregor, Mrs. Walter Paules, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Paules, Miss Hazel Paules, of Anaheim; Mrs. Fred Payles and sons, Jack and Junior, and daughter, Beverly; Mrs. Bob Law, of Garden Grove, and Robert, Donald and Marvin Law.

LIST LIBRARY LOANS

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—Loans at the La Habra public library during the month of October totaled 1476. Of this number, 887 were adult fiction books, 177 nonfiction, 249 juvenile books and 186 magazines and periodicals. The library was open 26 days with an average loan of 57 books. Six new adult cards and one juvenile card were issued during the month, bringing the total to 2379 patrons.

BOARD FILES OBJECTION TO ITS ACTION

Protesting recent action of the Santa Ana board of education in employing an "outside firm of architects" for supervision of a portion of the proposed reconstruction of school buildings to comply with state requirements, a resolution, signed by representatives of five business organizations was received and filed by the board last night, with no action.

The resolution was read at a special meeting of the school board just after Frederick Eley, Santa Ana architect who also was employed for part of the architectural work, had informed the board that he did not believe that he could handle the job at the price of his bid.

At a recent meeting of the school board when architects were employed for the work Eley said that he would do his portion of the work for eight per cent of the cost of reconstruction work and six per cent of the cost on new work. The board employed him at the price to be paid Allison and Allison for similar work on the high school group, or eight and seven per cent respectively.

Under state requirements the work must be supervised by an architect and structural engineer. Eley at the time of his employment assured the board that he would employ an engineer that would meet state requirements. Last night he said that prices charged by engineers were greater than the amount he would receive for the work and that if he took the job at the rate agreed upon he would lose money. J. E. Allison, representing Allison and Allison, was present at last night's meeting and told the board that his firm maintained a structural engineer and the present contract rates were acceptable.

It was agreed between the board members and Eley that he continue his efforts to find a satisfactory engineer for a few days and that action on his contract be delayed while he made his search.

The petition that was presented protesting employment of outside architects and engineers was signed by Walter Swanberger for the Santa Ana Merchant's association; Otto Haan for the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; Frederic Sanford for the Orange County Builders' exchange; Allison Honer, General Contractors' association; and Phil Brown for the Business Men's association.

In the petition, employment of outside architects was protested on the grounds that "all things being equal local architects should be employed." Following reading of the petition W. M. Burke, member of the board, declared, "I too favor employment of local architects, 'all things being equal' but it has just be demonstrated here that all things are not equal and for that reason I move that the resolution submitted here be received, considered and filed."

REPORTS GIVEN AT DINNER IN CHURCH

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—Family night was observed at the Methodist Episcopal church Monday evening, with a pot luck dinner served at 6:30 o'clock to 140 persons. The dinner was followed by general business conducted by the official board after which the general superintendent of the Sunday school, Percy Prior, talked on work of the various departments and introduced the teachers.

Reports were given by superintendents of the departments as follows: Adults, Ralph Chaffee; Boys' division of the young people, L. L. Doig; girls' division, Velda Barnes; intermediate, Miss Pearl Crutchfield; junior, Mrs. E. P. Williams; primary, Miss Myrtle Ziegler; beginners, Mrs. A. A. Schnitger.

The meeting closed by the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the church, giving an explanation of the evangelistic program for the whole leading up to Easter.

Savanna School Group In Social

HANSEN, Nov. 8.—At an informal party held recently in the home of Mrs. Jennie Romoff in Anaheim the members of the Savanna school board and their wives were entertained by the teachers of the two grammar schools in the Savanna district.

Games were enjoyed during the evening, with Mrs. King Rutledge winning the first prize of a serving set, and Mr. Rutledge receiving the consolation prize. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening.

Acting as co-hostesses were Mrs. Twill Reed, Mrs. Helen Reid, Miss Betty Gould, Mrs. Lois Jewel and Mrs. Jennie Romoff, teachers in the Stanton school, and Miss Nina Duden, Mrs. Helene Scheruman and Mrs. Dorothy Denniss, Savanna school teachers.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. King Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Lukens, Eurick Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gillison and Mr. and Mrs. L. Adams.

New Low Priced Reo Models Have Shifting Device

When Chief Engineer H. T. Thomas and his crew of experts at the Reo factory designed the famous self-shifting mechanism which is a feature of the latest Reo motor cars, he had in mind primarily the sole purpose of relieving drivers from the troubles and annoyances of hand gear-shifting according to W. W. Woods, Reo dealer.

In actual, practical operation by many thousands of motorists throughout the country, the driving public has learned that a great many oth r desirable things have been accomplished, he says.

"The numerous safety features," continued Mr. Woods, "are perfectly obvious and have become generally known, but there is another angle which has not been given so much attention. That is the opportunities it has opened up for people, who, for some reason another have never been able to drive before.

"It was especially called to my attention the other day by an analysis in which it was stated that there are literally millions of people in the United States who have never known the pleasure, the convenience or the real health-giving experience of driving their own car, through nervous fear, dread or some other individual characteristic which kept them from mastering the shifting of gears by hand."

OPPOSITION TO PORT PROJECT IS EXPRESSED

PLACENTIA, Nov. 8.—Members of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce expressed opposition to the proposed harbor bond election at their luncheon meeting Tuesday. It was claimed by speakers that the south part of the county failed to support the water bond issue a few years ago and that the harbor district residents could hardly expect support for their project.

Among those who spoke against the project were H. H. Hale, president, and S. James Tuffree.

Louis Jacobsen reported on the state water bonds and said he found that agricultural interests generally are against passage.

Stuart Strathman, secretary, said he felt the harbor needs development but said he does not believe the whole county should be bonded for it.

The Red Cross drive will open Saturday in Placentia. It also was announced that the Boy Scouts' dinner will be held November 24 at the Legion clubhouse.

CLUB ENTERTAINED IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—Members of the Monday Afternoon Star club were entertained this week in the home of Mrs. Minnie Lynch at the corner of Pine and Sampson streets, with Mrs. Phyllis Gill, Mrs. Anola Nearing and Mrs. Mary Clark, co-hostesses.

A feature of the afternoon was a shower of canned fruits and jellies for the worthy matron, Mrs. Mabel Doig. Tables were then arranged for bridge. High schore was held by Mrs. Mary Johnson, second high by Mrs. Helen Woodworth and low score by Mrs. Alice C. Smith. Each received an attractive award.

Announcement was made of the stated meeting of the chapter at K. of P. hall in Anaheim Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, when election of officers will take place.

Dainty refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. I. T. Keele, a guest; Mrs. Emma Kearns, Mrs. Ethel Schauer, Mrs. Mabel Doig, Mrs. Alice Keele, Mrs. Mae Henry, Mrs. Dorothy Jentges, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Catherine Paull, Mrs. Helen Woodworth, Mrs. Letty Lee Robbins, Mrs. Ella Wheeler, Mrs. Anna Larson, Mrs. Camille Nichols, Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg, Mrs. Glee Newsom, Mrs. Louise Lake, Mrs. Ema Henry, Mrs. Anna Haster, Miss Clara Carmichael, Mrs. Alice C. Smith, Mrs. Bonnie Forbach, Mrs. Annabel Bryan, Mrs. Mabel Williams, Mrs. Blanche Darling and the hostesses.

School Fair Of P.-T. A. Success

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—The school fair sponsored by the P.-T. A. was a decided success, being attended by over 500 persons. The dart booth proved a popular attraction, while Madam Bozo told fortunes to the inquiring ones. The hotdog stand was a busy place.

An exhibit of vegetables and nuts was most interesting as also was the 4-H club girls' work and the quilt and antique exhibit. The latter, in charge of Mrs. H. T. Keele, contained many rare relics.

Mrs. Harry Jentges won a ham as first prize, while the second prize, a basket of groceries, went to Mrs. Marie Payne. Prizes for cakes were as follows: Women's section, first, Mrs. Graupensperger; second, Mrs. Wray; third, Mrs. Hall; Lincoln school girls, first, Henrieta Leek; second, Barbara Schroff; third, Sadie Campi; Boys' section, first, Junior Allen; second, Richard Williams; third, Leland Harper; Washington school girls, first, Melba Rogers; second, Ruby Stout; third, Ila Lewis.

PHYSICIAN FOR JOBLESS GROUP DIES SUDDENLY

Dr. Richard Foster, 75, physician in Orange county for the past 12 years, died suddenly of an heart attack at his home, 414 East 14th street, yesterday.

Dr. Foster practiced in Westminster area for the past few years but for some time had been acting as physician for the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana, donating his services for the needy families which could not afford medical service in other places.

He was the father of Mabel Whitaker and Raymond Foster, and the grandfather of Richard and Raymond Foster jr. and Dorothy and Leslie Whitaker.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 10 a. m. from the chapel of the Smith and Tuthill Funeral home, Sixth and Broadway, with the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, minister of the Congregational church, officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. W. P. Treece Dinner Honoree

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 8. — The birthday anniversary of Mrs. W. P. Treece was observed with a turkey dinner given by a friend, Mrs. Frank Knouse, at her home at Sixteenth and Pacific avenues, New Westminster. A yellow and black color scheme was used in table decorations and a large anniversary cake with candles centered the table.

The guest list included the honoree and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Treece, and members of their family, Jack Treece, the Misses Lois, Helen, Gloria and Dawn Treece, of this place, and Mrs. Treece's mother, Mrs. A. C. Portz; Mrs. Knouse, sr., mother of the hostess, of Maricopa; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark, parents of the hostess, from Taft, all of whom were friends of Mrs. Treece 21 years ago at Coalinga, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knouse.

ASK CALL FOR BIDS ON COUNTY POLICE RADIO

County Purchasing Agent F. W. Slabaugh was given authority by the board of supervisors yesterday to advertise for bids for equipping the proposed Orange county police radio station. The bids will all be conditional depending on whether or not the Federal Radio Commission approves the county's request for assignment of a wave length and a permit to construct the station.

It is proposed that the county erect and operate a radio station for handling police calls. Service of the station will be available to all police departments in the county and a probable prorating of expense will provide funds for the station's maintenance.

To date the supervisors have experienced a slight difficulty in having a wave length assigned to the local station. The radio commission has indicated a desire to assign the Orange county station to the same wave length now used by the Los Angeles and Pasadena police stations. This would be unsatisfactory to Orange county and in filing the application three wave lengths, including the Pasadena-Los Angeles wave length were designated with the request that one of the alternates be assigned.

P.-T. A. AT MESA HEARS MINISTER

COSTA MESA, Nov. 8—Character can not be bought, it must be caught, stated the Rev. W. I. Lowe, pastor of the local Community church, as he addressed the P.-T.A. in the auditorium of the Main building of the grammar school Tuesday afternoon on the topic, "Character." Of the three C's, culture, citizenship, and character, that the P.-T.A. is featuring in this year's program, the Rev. Mr. Lowe said that character is the greatest. It is the job of the home, the school, and the church to build character into the lives of the children, he said, and the ones responsible for this teaching must have character themselves in order to make a success of teaching it.

The program opened with the audience singing, "America the Beautiful," Mrs. George Sherry presiding at the piano. Mrs. Sherry also gave several short readings, giving a poem as the closing number.

Announcement was made that the December meeting of the P.-T.A. will be a joint session of the associations from the Main building and the Lindbergh school. Mrs. Moss, welfare chairman, was authorized to use the welfare money in her care as she sees fit.

Mrs. R. H. Hill, president of the association, was in charge.

Presiding Elder Guest At Dinner

GREENVILLE, Nov. 8.—Combining the first quarterly meeting of the Greenville circuit of the Methodist church, south, with a pot-luck dinner served in the church parlors, members of the congregations of the Talbert and Greenville churches entertained the presiding elder, Dr. Grover C. Emmons, as their guest.

Those present included Dr. Emmons, of Los Angeles; the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Moody, Edward Moody jr., Mrs. Margaret Knott, of Garden Grove; Miss Florence Schmidt, J. H. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farnsworth and daughter, Joan, Mrs. S. L. Seward, of Talbert; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cole, Mrs. Annie Kuffel, Mrs. M. A. Brockett, Miss T. L. Brockett, Peter Emmett Brockett, Mr. and Mrs. David Jansma and children, Mrs. Ruby Lanterman, Charlotte Lanterman, Stanton Best, Evelyn Shiffer and J. W. Shiffer.

Party Observes 13th Anniversary

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 8. — A party after school Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington De La Vergne observed the 13th anniversary of their daughter, Virginia De La Vergne. Schoolmates were the invited guests and games preceded the refreshment hour. A green and white color scheme was used by Mrs. De La Vergne. There was a large decorated birthday cake with candles and dainty refreshments were served.

BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 8.—Charles and Harry Lee Schmidt, whose birthday anniversaries occur the same week, were honorees at a family dinner party at which relatives were the invited guests. A yellow and black color scheme was carried out by their mother, Mrs. William Schmidt.

Present were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Goode and son Albert; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goode of Corona, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Joss and son Jackie of Pomona, Harry Lee, Charles and William Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt.

Beach Pow Wow Leads To Better Homes For Tribe

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 8.—The recent pow-wow held on the central beach by Chief Tortez and a band of Cahuila braves from the Santa Rose reservation with their medicine man, Mejkish Kiliua (Stephen Chalmers, poet and author of this city), may not have been in vain. Monday there was another pow-wow in the American fashion at the wigwam of the writer on Carmelita street. Sitting in the circle were Chief Jack Meyers of major league baseball fame, who is a Santa Rosa Indian, and John W. Dady, superintendent of the Mission Indian agency in Riverside.

Superintendent Dady promised that something would be done to provide shelter for the Cahuila Indians. Last spring the former Indian agent promised that houses, or huts, that didn't leak would be provided, or that the old ones would be mended. Then came a change of administration and the Indians complained to Chalmers, who was taken into the tribe when he used his good offices to save water rights for them, that the "promises had been broken." Chalmers expressed the belief to Chief Tortez and his band that the new "White Father" in the White House, through the new Indian agent (Dady) would straighten things out.

Chalmers said today that through the appointment of John Collier, known for his friendship for the Indians, as commissioner of Indian affairs, President Roosevelt has opened up a new deal for the red man.

JURY FINDS MAN GUILTY ON COUNT OF CARRYING GUN

Theophilo Manriquez, Tustin, was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and resisting an officer following his jury trial yesterday in the Tustin justice court. Judge John Landell of San Juan Capistrano was on the bench in the absence of Judge D. L. McCharles, who is ill.

Manriquez, father of Mrs. Thelma Otero, who makes his home with her on San Juan street, was arrested on October 28 when officers raided the Otero home and confiscated liquor and dispersed guests. Both Manriquez and Mrs. Otero were held in the county jail until Monday. Sentence on Manriquez will be passed tomorrow at 8 a. m.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner prosecuted the case with N. D. Meyers and Morris A. Cain, defense attorneys. The jury was out from 5:15 to 8 p. m. and was composed of Perry Kenyon, Mrs. Dale Crawford, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Gaston Griset, John Kiser, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks, Mrs. Viola Brand, Mrs. Stella M. Farrar, Mrs. Ruth Newman, William C. Drake, Bud Hannaford and Porter G. Luther.

Beatrice Otero, 19, daughter of the home, is in jail for resisting an officer and was arraigned before Judge Landell today. Her mother was on trial today for possession of liquor, on Saturday for contributing to the delinquency of a minor and Monday for sale of liquor.

PLAN FIRST AID PROGRAM AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 8.—A program, featuring first aid, has been arranged by the American Legion auxiliary, it was announced today by Mrs. Zelma Hostetler, publicity chairman, the first lesson being scheduled for Monday evening, November 13. Frank Crocker, city fire chief, assisted by a trained nurse, will give the first lesson. The course will extend over a period of several months. Mrs. Bessie Pullen, chairman of the disaster and relief committee, will be in charge of the programs.

Mrs. Iris Brown, hospitality chairman to the auxiliary, announces that canned and staple goods will be received now for Thanksgiving gifts. Pumpkin pies and other perishable articles will be received on November 29, the day before Thanksgiving.

No Insurance On Oil Destroyed In Beach City Fire

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8.—No insurance was carried on the five thousand barrels of oil destroyed in the field Tuesday by fire and there was no insurance on the tanks. The loss is about $10,000, according to oil men. The wooden derrick owned by the W. K. Oil company was insured and there was insurance on the derrick equipment. The insurance policy on the W. K. Company oil was allowed to lapse last month as an economy measure pending a better sale of the oil.

Fire men brought the blaze under control early in the morning and by night the fire was completely extinguished. The fire was the second to occur in the vicinity of the big gushers in the town lot field. The gusher wells are all equipped with shutoff valves and in case of fire the wells can be quickly shut in. The great fire hazard is the huge amount of oil in the storage tanks, and the danger when new wells are being brought in. There is less danger of the gusher wells catching fire, once they are harnessed, but if one should get loose and catch fire, the results would be highly disastrous, owing to the close drilling practiced in the field, operators point out.

EASTERN STAR HEADS DINNER HONOR GUESTS

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 8.—Officers of Garden Grove chapter, O. E. S., entertained with a 7 o'clock dinner party recently in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe in Santa Ana in honor of the worthy matron, Mabel Doig, and the worthy patron, W. B. Merchant.

Tables were arranged in a "T" shape and autumn colors were used for decorations.

Court whist was the diversion of the evening. First prizes went to Mrs. Pauline Merchant and Dr. Donald R. E. Waters, while Mrs. Mabel Doig and J. Carlisle Clark were consoled.

Mrs. Emma Kerns, associate matron, on behalf of the officers, presented Mrs. Doig with two twin quilts, and Dr. Waters, associate patron, presented W. B. Merchant with a traveling case.

Mrs. Emma Kearns was in charge of dinner arrangements and Mrs. Alice Keele was in charge of the card games.

Distribute Pork To Beach Needy

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8.—Government pork has arrived here for distribution to needy families. Distribution is being made from the chamber of commerce headquarters by Mrs. Pearl M. Jones. It is being given out only to those holding orders from the county welfare department at Santa Ana.

LAGUNAN FINDS BUSINESS TONE IN EAST BETTER

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 8.—Stabilization of prices under the NRA has given a better tone to business throughout the mid-west and eastern and south states, according to Councilman Maurice B. McMillan, who returned yesterday with Mrs. McMillan from an automobile trip that took them as far east as Washington, D. C.

The absence of competitive price slashing among the reputable business firms associated under the Blue Eagle codes has given capital more confidence with the result that there are fewer vacant stores, merchants are laying in larger stocks for the winter, employment has increased appreciably and there is more buying in almost all lines of trade, even in the luxury numbers he said.

"Almost the first thing I noticed," said McMillan, "was the absence of the long faces among business men, so painfully evident a year ago. There is very little money—that is cash money—but but everywhere one finds a hopeful expectancy. Whatever may be its faults, if it has any, the NRA has restored a great measure of confidence.

"The last time I was back East, men who has lost money in the financial crash still were worrying about their losses. That phase of the depression seems to have passed. The same men now are accepting their losses as a matter of fact and are looking to the future—just to what goal they cannot tell you. It is mostly a matter of waiting for the situation to clear itself. There is a sort of blind hope, or confidence, in President Roosevelt's recovery program. They are at least not worrying about competitive price-slashing and most of the manufacturers and retailers are living up the codes. Of course there are instances of chiseling, but the great majority of business men honestly are trying to better the situation by working in harmony."

ROYALTY OWNERS CONVENE TONIGHT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8.—Oil royalty owners in the town lot field and all interested in the field are urged to attend the mass meeting at Memorial hall tonight, starting at 7 o'clock. A large attendance is desired.

Fred Law Honor Guest At Dinner

BUENA PARK, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Fred Law entertained with a 6:30 o'clock dinner at her home on East Orangethorpe Monday evening in observance of her husband's birthday.

Red roses were used by the hostess on the table and in the living room. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. Hemmerling, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gregor, Mrs. Walter Paules, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Paules, Miss Hazel Paules, of Anaheim; Mrs. Fred Payles and sons, Jack and Junior, and daughter, Beverly; Mrs. Bob Law, of Garden Grove, and Robert, Donald and Marvin Law.

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—Loans at the La Habra public library during the month of October totaled 1476. Of this number, 887 were adult fiction books, 177 non-fiction, 249 juvenile books and 186 magazines and periodicals. The library was open 28 days with an average loan of 57 books. Six new adult cards and one juvenile card were issued during the month, bringing the total to 2379 patrons.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Sonny Barnes, advertising manager of Blakly's department store, marries Dick Reese, a construction superintendent. They keep their marriage secret. Dick opposes Eve's continued employment but she is determined to go on working.

On her wedding night Eve is sent to New York to meet Freda Carter, dress buyer. There Eve meets Theron Blake, who is much attracted by her. She visits Irene Prendiville, a fellow boarder who is playing with married men.

A week later Eve returns to Lake City to find a new city manager, Sims Allen, at the office. Mona is in trouble again.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIII

Tamkinville boasted two hotels but one of them was only open during the tourist season so Dick took Eve to the other, the Hotel Certley. She glanced about the lobby while he signed the register. The walls were of tan plaster and two columns of speckled imitation red granite supported a dingy ceiling. There were two davenports and a few arm chairs upholstered in red mohair. A pair of elk's horns was mounted above the clerk's desk. There was a rubber plant and a row of backs. The backs belonged to men tilted up inside the window who had seen Eve and Dick coming down Center street. Their privilege of watching the comings and goings in Center street was granted to guests of the Hotel Certley. Indeed, it was the sole diversion of many forced to stay over the week-end.

Eve and Dick were transported to the third floor by a rickety elevator in a lacy iron cage. The row of backs turned as the elevator door clanked and a row of faces watched them disappear. Eve regarded Dick worriedly. As the bellboy led the way to the far end of the corridor Dick hoisted with the number of pieces of carpeting in different colors and designs on that floor. There were nine, he noted. "As an area wears out it is replaced instead of buying enough for the entire floor."

Later they walked up Center street and mingled with the crowd. Tamkinville was the "market town" for ranchers and whole families as well as young couples drove in from the hills for Saturday shopping and the movies.

Eve selected a tiny white restaurant for their evening meal because of the fresh dotted, ruffled curtains hung in the window. Nothing on the menu appealed to them, however, and they waited a long time while the proprietor went to the butcher shop to purchase chicken. He had assured them "It would be no trouble at all" to serve the chicken on the half hour, but when they finally were served, minus cracked ice, Eve and Dick found them lukewarm instead of cold and both felt they had learned a lesson.

"The Pink." Tamkinville's leading store, offered Saturday specials in women's and men's apparel. Eve was surprised to note how up-to-date the stock was. She managed to have a chat with the dress buyer who was sent to New York each year and Eve was immediately temporarily engrossed by the women's alert manner and thorough knowledge of her field.

Afterward Eve and Dick dropped in at a motion picture theater. So busy had they been lately that a movie seemed to involve a luxurious expenditure of time. When the lights went up a young lad offered Eve a fan. Eve remarked to the girl beside him, "Right nice room they have here." But Dick, after an impatient glance about him stated, "They wanted no money building this place." Later he and Eve mounted the stairs to look at the balcony and Dick rapped along the wall. "Cheap construction here all right," he whispered. "But all pleasing to the average eye—very pleasing. They have enough fire exits, anyway," he added.

Eve felt like a person somewhat detached from herself as they wandered back to the Certley. Nva a familiar face in sight, the townspeople often turning their heads to look as she and Dick passed, the utter simplicity of the business life, the leisurely pace. A feeling began to steal over Eve that perhaps Bixby's was not as important to the world as she had imagined it to be.

"Dick," she said later as they lay awake in their hotel room, the lights out, shades up and rays from the Center street are light filtering through the Nottingham lace curtains, "Dick—I feel so peaceful."

"That's why I brought you here, you little kitten. You were all tangled up in a ball of yarn."

The next morning Eve discovered the Copper Bell Antique Shoppe.

"Oh—what a cute set of corner shelves!" Eve exclaimed. "How I'd love to have it for our dining room."

Dick responded with his noncommittal "H-m, a what-not." Eve glanced up at him quickly. "You don't like it," she accused. "Why, Dick? What's wrong with it?" she persisted.

"Well," Dick explained reluctantly, "it's not really old—fifty years, perhaps. That wouldn't matter, though, if it were good of its kind, but it isn't. Late Victorian—too late. Cheap machine carving."

"For the present—if we could afford it—this what-not bench would be a more useful piece for us, Pennsylvania Dutch. The open shelves above would display plates and brica-a-brac as well or better than the what-not and the cupboard below would provide useful storage space."

"But it's so frightfully shabby," Eve objected.

"It could be painted any color you'd like," answered Dick simply. "Well, it would be nice," agreed Eve. "Nicer than the what-not. But you needn't be so sniffy about that. Corner shelves are fashionable again."

Dick was unperturbed. "Some of those things are graceful and pretty," he conceded. "Aunt Bloromda had one with spool turnings. Probably has it stowed away in the attic. We'll see sometime when we're down east."

"And do look at this, Dick," Eve tugged at his arm and drew him to a corner of the shop to look at a chest of drawers. "Oh, Dick, we ought to have this. You can't say it's not old.

Dick surveyed the piece but without enthusiasm. "Knobs fastened on with wood screws. Put together with wood pins. About a hundred years," he estimated its age. "Perhaps more. And a good job of veneering. The bracket feet and the carved acanthus leaves on the posts are rather unusual. And it has a serpentine top drawer. Not bad."

"Not bad," Eve mocked him. "Is that the most praise you can give it? Don't you think we might buy it, Dick? This and the the water bench and that cute little stand over there—the one with two drawers and drop leaves."

Dick looked. "The cute little stand' is buried apple wood," he said. "It probably would set us back the price of two months' rent."

But Eve would not let her enthusiasm be dampened. She pounced upon a pair of candlesticks in sparkling yellow glass. The shop was in the form of a fish, labarinting itself gracefully on the chair. "Oh—" she exclaimed, "aren't these simply darling, Dick?"

Dick grinned tolerantly. "Can't say that they are," he returned. "Never could see anything particularly darling about a dolphin—or any other fish, for that matter." He picked up one of the pair, looked at the price mark and set it down with great care. "Fifty dollars for the pair!" he ejaculated. "Not darling, they're at least dear," he conceded. Eve looked at him reproachfully. He knew she hated puns.

"Well, anyway, we simply must get that little spinning-wheel for the bay window. I've always wanted a spinning-wheel," Eve coaxed.

Dick's mother had had a flax-wheel like the one in question. But when the furnishings of his boyhood home had been auctioned off no one regarded it of any value. Dick, the only one who had felt any sentimental regard for it, was to make his life anew in other cities and thus was unable to keep either that or the old rosewood organ his mother had played. He purchased the spinning wheel for Eve and they loaded it in the rumble seat.

Eve had jotted down prices and the name of the shop. It was the fashionable thing now to have at least one room with antique furnishings or reproductions of antiques.

"I'll just send for some of those pieces I admired a little later," she whispered to the proprietor as she left.

TELLS BOARD AUDITORIUM IS HELD UNSAFE

J. E. Allison of the firm of Allison and Allison, architects, employed by the Santa Ana board of education to direct reconstruction of damaged high school buildings, told board members last night that the report of state architects and engineers retained by the board to determine extent of damage done Santa Ana schools by the earthquake, brands the auditorium as unsafe and also indicates the necessity of reconstructing the major portion of the high school buildings. Board members declare they have not been able to get a copy of the report. Allison also said that he did not believe that there is a school in California that could be approved under the new state code without some work being done.

Following Allison's statement, it was decided by the board to have the state engineers go ahead with their inspection of Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop Junior High schools and the Hoover and Wilson grammar schools. State engineers who have been making the inspection of Santa Ana school buildings had been asked to delay, temporarily, their work on the four buildings until notified by the board. With the definite order to continue their work there will be but five frame buildings eliminated from the inspection. The buildings not to be inspected are Logan, Fremont, Jefferson, Delhi and Lincoln schools. State engineers said that frame buildings would not require this inspection service.

The board felt that it would not be proper to ask the people to vote on the proposal until it would be possible to inform them definitely as to the cost of the proposed work.

Suggestion of George Wells, chairman of the board, that an advisory committee of citizens be appointed by the school board to advise with board members relative to reconstruction problems was turned down without a vote when W. M. Burke, Dr. Margarete Baker and Rolla Hays opposed the plan.

Burke said that calling on an advisory committee of citizens would look as though the school board were attempting to evade its responsibility and place it on the shoulders of a group of citizens. He pointed out that the school board is responsible for the safety of the students and upon the board, alone, must fall the responsibility of deciding what buildings must be reconstructed and what buildings do not need this safeguard. He said that he believed that the school board should depend upon the state architect and engineer for advice. Hays and Dr. Baker concurred with Burke in his opinion, and the matter was not voted upon.

The board also indicated last night that it is undecided as to whether or not the money necessary for reconstruction of the school buildings shall be obtained under the fees bill adopted at the last session of the state legislature, or through a bond election and later sell the bonds to the federal government.

BIRTHDAY

SCHOOL LOAN PLAN NOT TO BE ON BALLOT

Santa Ana's board of education proposed plan whether or not the board shall borrow funds from the state for reconstruction of school buildings damaged in the earthquake will not be on the ballot for the special election scheduled for December 19.

Decision not to place the issue on the ballot at that time was reached last night at a special meeting of the board. Reasons for the action were that the board will not be able to prepare data necessary for the election by the December date and could not get it on the ballot without increasing the number of election officers.

Assistant District Attorney W. F. Meston informed the board that under election laws three election officials on each board are permitted to handle only four propositions. Increase of that number will necessitate additional members on the board.

An application will be filed with the state, immediately, however, for apportionment of funds for reconstruction work, it was decided. This application will ask for a sufficiently large sum with the understanding that when the actual cost of reconstruction is know, only the amount actually required will be taken.

The board felt that it would not be proper to ask the people to vote on the proposal until it would be possible to inform them definitely as to the cost of the proposed work.

Suggestion of George Wells, chairman of the board, that an advisory committee of citizens be appointed by the school board to advise with board members relative to reconstruction problems was turned down without a vote when W. M. Burke, Dr. Margarete Baker and Rolla Hays opposed the plan.

COUNTY C. OF C. OPPOSES STATE WATER PROJECT

A resolution expressing opposition to the Sisk-Welch water plan of Central Valley water plan, was adopted in San Clemente last night by members of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, with but two dissenting votes cast.

The resolution, similar to the one adopted by the water committees of the Associated and Farm Bureau, was offered by O. E. Steward, chairman of the Associated water committee.

Opposition ballots were cast by Thomas Murphine, San Clemente, and O. T. Stephens, La Habra, both members of the Southern Economic Council which went on record as favoring the water project, which will be voted on at the December 19 election.

Ralph McFadden, president, drew fire from Stephens and Rose Shafer, Tustin, for remarking that La Habra, Fullerton, Anaheim, and Phil Stanton, highway commissioner, are members of the governor's family, pointing out that Governor Rolph ordered all state employes to support the plan. "Some men work for cash and others for glory," he said.

Both Stephens and Shafer called McFadden's remarks "bad taste." Stephens rose to a point of order and moved for a vote that the president was out of order. Members, however, voted to support McFadden.

Introducing the resolution, Steward declared that Southern California sympathized with water needs and is not opposed to the district favored in the election to solve their own problems as is done in this section. He said it might be possible for state agencies to contribute for the support of the district.

Officers and members of the Brea P. T. A. will be the hostess group tomorrow afternoon for the Fourth District when the monthly business meeting of that body is held in the auditorium of the Brea-Olinda Union High school. Registration will open at the school at 9 o'clock. Luncheon will be served in the high school cafeteria at 1 o'clock.

Speakers scheduled are Dr. W. Ballantine Henley, lecturer in the school of government in the University of Southern California; Miss Helen Heffernen, chief of elementary education and rural schools of California; Mrs. Leo B. Hodges of Los Angeles, state president of the Southern Division, L. E. Russell of the Orange county health department, and Mrs. D. D. Campbell, district legislative chairman, who will lead in a legislative study at 10:15 a. m.

Some Characteristics of a Progressive School" will be the topic of the talk to be given by Miss Hodges in charge. Dr. Henley will be the only speaker to be heard after the luncheon hour.

Mrs. Gene Marvin, fourth district president, of Anaheim, will preside.

SERVICE STATION OPERATORS TO MEET

Salesmanship and general business conditions will be the topic of the meeting of the Orange county division of the petroleum code authority club in the Southern Counties Gas company assembly hall, 207 West Second street, next Monday night, it was announced today by George H. Platt, secretary.

All members of the club, made up of independent service station operators and which now has a membership of 208, according to Platt, as well as any service station operators interested, are invited to attend.

Objectives of the club, Platt said, are to secure better business conditions, help the government with the NRA program and local authorities in enforcing the laws against substitution of "hot" gas and oils.

WARNINGS ON FROST START NOVEMBER 14

In a telephone message today from Pomona to the office of Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, Floyd Young, director of the fruit-frost service of the weather bureau, stated that the daily frost forecasts will begin November 14 at 5 p. m. over radio station KNX. The only exception to this schedule is that on Wednesday, November 15 and November, the frost report will come over the air at 7:00 p. m. instead of 5 p. m., Young said.

Wahlberg said in connection with the announcement he wished to remind Orange county growers who have fruit or orchard thermometers to test that they should be in the hands of the packing house this week, carefully wrapped and labeled. They will be collected on November 13 from all packing houses at La Habra, Fullerton, Placentia, Yorba Linda, Olive, Anaheim and Garden Grove. On November 17 they will be picked up from the houses at Orange, Tustin and Santa Ana. No testing will be done after these dates, Wahlberg said.

Programs have been arranged in three Farm Centers for the presentation of the latest developments in the fruit-frost service. Garden Grove Farm Center meets at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Women's clubhouse; Tustin Farm Center at Woodward building in Tustin, 7:30 p. m., November 22, and La Habra Farm Center at Washington school, 7:30 p. m., November 27. Either Young or Mr. Rathbone will address these meetings.

Gold Star Parents To Be Guests At Veteran Meeting

Gold Star mothers and fathers, as well as mothers and fathers of ex-service men, will be the honored guests of Jack Fisher Chapter No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, at a special meeting to be staged in the Getty Hall, 619 East Fourth street, at 8 o'clock tonight.

Harry S. Pickard, commander of the chapter, who announced the meeting, also announced that he will furnish transportation for those parents who will communicated with him by telephone.

Entertainment will be furnished by the well known musical instructor, Holly Leah Vivell. Light refreshments will be served.

New Books Issued By J. C. Shop

Thomas E. Williams, director of printing at the Santa Ana Junior college print shop, was busy today finishing the latest product of the college Fine Arts Press, a biographical narrative of the life of John Sweet, a pioneer in education in California.

The book is bound in beveled edge boards, covered with burlap and tan cloth, and is profusely illustrated with early photographs from the file of the state department of education. Chapter head illuminations and decorative initials were drawn by Miss Mary Louise Wallace, assistant to Williams.

The book, Williams pointed out, "is not only a biography of one pioneer in California education, but is also a recital of the growth of the educational system in California."

Still another historical document, "Navajo Weaving," is in preparation Williams announced and will be the fourth publication from the press this year. It will be available November 15.

The book deals with Indian rug making by Charles Avery Amsden, who has spent several years in Indian work and research for the Southwest Museum in Los Angeles. It is being published with the cooperation of the museum.

The junior college press was chosen for the work by the museum because of the success with other works of the same nature.

MORE ENTRIES RECEIVED FOR LEGION PARADE

Additional entries are being received daily for the fifteenth annual Orange county Armistice day parade to be held in Orange the 11th, it was reported today by R. C. Steele, general chairman of the Armistice day committee for the host post.

The parade will be more than two miles long and will be made up of a large number of riding units, floats and marching units, Steele said. One of the latest entries to be received was from the California Lancers, while several riding academies of the county also plan units. There will be an open unit for unattached riders, it was announced.

One of the most colorful entries so far received is a float being prepared by the Lions clubs of Orange county, entitled "Fruit of the Golden West," which will represent both early and present California. One portion of it will be a desert scene and the other will show a modern home surrounded by orange trees.

Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Earle Barnes, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries Dick Rader, a construction superintendent. They keep their marriage secret. Dick opposes Eve's continued employment but she is determined to go on working.

On her wedding night Eve is sent to New York to meet Freda Carter, dress buyer. There Eve meets Theron Reece, who is much attracted by her. She visits Irene Prentiss, former schoolmate who is playing the stock market.

A week later Eve returns to Lake City to find a new copy writer, Mona Allen, at the office. Mona is a trouble-maker.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIII

Tamkinville boasted two hotels but one of them was only open during the tourist season so Dick took Eve to the other, the Hotel Cortley. She glanced about the lobby while he signed the register. The walls were of tan plaster and two volumns of speckled imitation red granite supported a dingy ceiling. There were two davenports and a few arm chairs upholstered in red mohair. A pair of elk's horns was mounted above the clerk's desk. There was ra rubbe plant and a row of backs. The backs belonged to men lined up inside the window who had seen Eve and Dick coming down Center street. This privilege of watching the comings and goings in Center street was granted to guests of the Hotel Cortley. Indeed, it was the sole diversion of many forced to stay over the week-end.

Eve and Dick were transported to the third floor by a rickety elevator in a lacy iron cage. The row of backs turned as the elevator door clanked and a row of faces watched them disappear. Eve registered extreme hauteur. As the bellboy led the way to the far end of the corridor Eve noted with interest the number of pieces of carpeting in different colors and designs on that floor. "Thrift here," she noted. "As an area wears out it is replaced instead of buying enough for the entire floor."

Later they walked up Center street and mingled with the crowd. Tamkinville was the "market town" thereabouts and whole families as well as young couples drove in from the hills for Saturday shopping and the movies.

Eve selected a tiny white restaurant for their evening meal because of the fresh dotted, ruffled curtains hung in the window. Nothing on the menu appealed to them, however, and they waited a long time while the proprietor went to the butcher shop to purchase clams. He had assured them "it would be no trouble at all" to serve the clams on the half shell, but when they finally were served, minus cracked ice, Eve and Dick found them lukewarm instead of cold and both felt they had learned a lesson.

"The Fair," Tamkinville's leading store, offered Saturday specials in women's and men's apparel. Eve was surprised to note how up-to-date the stock was. She managed to have a chat with the dress buyer who was sent to New York each year and Eve was immediately impressed by the woman's alert manner and thorough knowledge of her field.

Afterward Eve and Dick dropped in at a motion picture theater. So busy had they been lately that a movie seemed to involve a luxurious expenditure of time. When the lights went up a young lad sitting next to Eve remarked to the girl beside him, 'Right nice room they have here." But Dick, after an appraising glance about him stated. "They wasted no money building this place." Later he and Eve mounted the stairs to look at the balcony and Dick rapped softly along the wall. "Cheap construction here all right," he whispered. "But all pleasing to the average eye—very pleasing. They have enough fire exits, anyway," he added.

Eve felt like a person somewhat detached from herself as they wandered back to the Cortley. Not a familiar face in sight, the townspeople often turning their heads to look as she and Dick passed, the utter simplicity of the business life, the leisurely pace. A feeling began to steal over Eve that perhaps Bixby's was not as important to the world as she had imagined it to be.

"Dick," she said later as they lay awake in their hotel room, the lights out, shades up and rays from the Center street arc light filtering through the Nottingham lace curtains, "Dick—I feel so peaceful."

"That's why I brought you here, you little kitten. You were all tangled up in a ball of yarn."

The next morning Eve discovered the Copper Bell Antique Shoppe.

"Oh—what a cute set of corner shelves!" Eve exclaimed. "How I'd love to have it for our dining room."

Dick responded with his noncommittal "H-m, a what-not." Eve glanced up at him quickly. "You don't like it," she accused. "Why, Dick? What's wrong with it?" she persisted.

"Well," Dick explained reluctantly, "it's not really old—fifty years, perhaps. That wouldn't matter, though, if it were good of its kind, but it isn't. Late Victorian—too late. Cheap machine carving.

"For the present—if we could afford it—this water bench would be a more useful piece for us. Pennsylvania Dutch. The open shelves above would display plates and bric-a-brac as well or better than the what-not and the cupboard below would provide useful storage space."

"But it's so frightfully shabby," Eve objected.

"It could be painted any color you'd like," answered Dick simply.

"Well, it would be nice," agreed Eve. "Nicer than the what-not. But you needn't be so sniffy about that. Corner shelves are fashionable again."

Dick was unperturbed. "Some of these things are graceful and pretty," he conceded. "Aunt Sophronia had one with spool turnings. Probably has it stowed away in the attic. We'll see sometime when we're down east."

"And do look at this, Dick," Eve tugged at his arm and drew him to a corner of the shop to look at a chest of drawers. "Oh, Dick, we ought to have this. You can't say it's not old.

Dick surveyed the piece but without enthusiasm. "Knobs fastened on with wood screws. Put together with wood pins. About a hundred years," he estimated its age. "Perhaps more. And a good job of veneering. The bracket feet and the carved acanthus leaves on the posts are rather unusual. And it has a serpentine top drawer. Not bad."

"Not bad," Eve mocked him. "Is that the most praise you can give it? Don't you think we might buy it, Dick? This and the the water bench and that cute little stand over there—the one with two drawers and drop leaves."

Dick looked. "The 'cute little stand' is burled apple wood," he said. "It probably would set us back the price of two months' rent."

But Eve would not let her enthusiasm be dampened. She pounced upon a pair of candlesticks in sparkling yellow glass. The staff was in the form of a fish, balancing itself gracefully on its chin. "Oh—" she exclaimed, "aren't these simply darling, Dick?"

Dick grinned tolerantly. "Can't say that they are," he returned. "Never could see anything particularly darling about a dolphin—or any other fish, for that matter." He picked up one of the pair, looked at the price mark and set it down with great care. "Fifty dollars for the pair!" he ejaculated. "If not darling, they're at least dear," he conceded. Eve loked at him reproachfully. He knew she hated puns.

"Well, anyway, we simply must get that little spinning-wheel for the bay window. I've always wanted a spinning-wheel," Eve coaxed.

Dick's mother had had a flax-wheel like the one in question. But when the furnishings of his boyhood home had been auctioned off no one regarded it of any value. Dick, the only one who had felt any sentimental regard for it, was to make his life anew in other cities and thus was unable to keep either that or the old rosewood organ his mother had played. He purchased the spinning wheel for Eve and they loaded it in the rumble seat.

Eve had jotted down prices and the name of the shop. It was the fashionable thing now to have at least one room with antique furnishings or reproductions of antiques.

"I'll just send for some of those pieces I admired a little later," she whispered to the proprietor as she left.

Beware the Cough or Cold That Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion.—Adv.

CHURCH CLUBS FRATERNAL WOMEN-SOCIETY-THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Typographical Group Has Hard Times Party

Presiding as successful hostesses at a hard times party, members of the Women's Auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical union entertained with a benefit affair recently in M. W. A. hall.

A committee headed by Mrs. J. W. Jones and composed of Mesdames William Lawrence, W. H. Fields, Carl Fisher and J. A. Smith, had arranged all details of the affair. Tables were placed for a variety of games and contests.

Prizes in bridge were won by Mrs. R. L. Stauffer and J. W. Jones, who scored high. Little Miss Betty Jean Fisher and Mr. Fisher scored high in cootie contests. Clever costumes worn by Mrs. Fisher and by E. E. Frisby merited special prize awards.

Refreshments served at long tables in the dining room brought the pleasant evening to a close.

Mrs. J. H. Patison, 1705 West Washington avenue, is to be hostess at the next business meeting of the Auxiliary, scheduled for Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Progressive Dinner Compliments Two Pledges

Arranged in compliment to the Misses Vivian Rogers and Velma Allen, pledges to Sigma Tau Psi, was the progressive dinner party with which members of the sorority entertained Saturday night.

The first course, a delicious salad, was served in the home of Miss Louise Leck, 122 South Ross street, where Mexican sunflowers and other appointments were in keeping with an autumnal theme. The group went to the home of Miss Alyce Majors, 1811 North Flower street, for an Italian dinner, served to the accompaniment of bright colored fruits and tapers.

Rich tones of the Thanksgiving season were further observed in decorations in the home of Miss Alice Hanson, 2468 Riverside Drive, where the dessert course was served before sorority members and guests left to spend the remainder of the evening at the Rendezvous, Balboa.

Wives of Elks Respond With Enthusiasm to Party Plans

Delightful plans for a succession of monthly bridge teas for wives and friends of Santa Ana Elks, are being entertained following the success of the opening function, held Monday afternoon in the friendly atmosphere of the social rooms at the Elks clubhouse. Wives of officers were hostesses, assisted by Mrs. A. G. Flagg, social chairman, the group comprising Mesdames Harry Hyde, Robert E. Walker, R. F. Currie, E. R. Majors, Milburn Harvey, V. L. Motry, Earl Abbey, Harold Brown and Donald Jerome.

Interest felt in resuming these teas, was expressed by various guests in the popular way of sending flowers, so the hostesses had an assortment of lovely blossoms at their command when it came to decorating. Mrs. James Harding, Mrs. Fred Newcomb, jr. and Mrs. Motry were among those showing such thoughtfulness, and florist friends sent one artistic basket.

So general was the response to social plans, that 21 tables were required for bridge players, some of whom chose contract while others remained true to auction. Three lovely prizes were provided, Mrs. James Harding winning that awarded among contract players, Miss Strabling winning in the auction group, and Mrs. Raymond Crum the door prize.

Bolton-Cesena Wedding Is Charming Event In Whittier

At high noon Sunday, November 5, in Church of God, Whittier, Miss Thelma Cesena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Cesena, Whittier, became the bride of Everett Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bolton, 906 East Third street, Santa Ana. The Rev. Hale H. Means, pastor of the church, officiated. For the ceremony the church was decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums, ferns and white sweetpeas.

The bride wore a blue satin frock and carried deep pink roses. She was attended by Miss Audrey Belnap, a classmate. Mr. Bolton was assisted by Bud Hamilton.

Following the single ring service, a wedding luncheon was served in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton then left for a week's stay at Palm Springs. Upon their return they will make their home in Santa Ana where Mr. Bolton is employed with the Brock Glass company. He is a graduate of the high school of his former home, Fort Smith, Ark. His bride completed her course in the Whittier schools. In the last few weeks preceding her marriage, she was incentive for a succession of showers and parties at which she received a large number of lovely gifts to be used in the home to be established in this city.

Bridge Club Enjoys Dinner Session

Hospitalities of the past week included a dinner party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wright, 2320 Riverside drive, with bridge club members as guests at the pleasant event.

Mounds of bright-hued fruit centered small tables at which guests were seated during the dinner hour, the menu having been served buffet style. In keeping with the seasonal theme was the harvest tray of fruits awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nisson for scoring in the card games which followed the dinner.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wright were club members, Messrs and Mesdames Fred Newcomb, O. N. Robertson, Harry Westover, Clarence Nisson, and special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Loren G. Moore.

Telegrams Reach Here Announcing Birth Of Baby Son

Telegrams reaching various Santa Ana relatives and friends this week, apprised them of the happy news of the arrival on Monday, November 6, of a little son to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hugh Campbell of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Campbell was Miss Mollie Cobey Mosher, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mosher, 1428 Spurgeon street, and Mr. Mosher is accepting warm congratulations from a host of friends upon his first grandson. Mrs. Mosher went north several weeks ago for an extended visit with her son-in-law and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have lived in Seattle since shortly after their marriage three years ago. Mr. Campbell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Campbell of that city, is associated with Karr and Gregory, a prominent law firm of Seattle.

Union Members Plan Convention for Monday

Completing plans for a conference to be held all day Monday, November 13 in First Christian church beginning at 10 a. m., members of Santa Ana W. C. T. U. held a profitable session yesterday in the church. Mrs. Effie Nicholson, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Amy Evans.

The Rev. Helen Byrnes, general secretary of the Young People's Branch of the National W. C. T. U. will be the speaker and leader of the conference. She is in Southern California for a short time before returning east, and is conducting two meetings in Orange county. The Monday meeting will serve the southern half of the county, while on Tuesday the northern county meeting will be held at Fullerton.

The public, and young people especially, are invited to attend the conference. All are to bring sandwiches, covered-dishes and table service for a covered-dish luncheon to be served at noon in the dining room of the church.

Speaker for yesterday afternoon was H. G. Nelson, principal of Julia Lathrop Junior High school, who spoke on "Religious Education," topic for the day. Mrs. A. A. Jones was in charge of the program.

Song service was led by Mrs. Emma Wilson; the Rev. T. W. Ringland, pastor of the United Brethren church gave a short talk; Mrs. Mellie Vance gave a summary of her recent trip to Maryland and other eastern points; Mrs. Torgenson, ensign of the Salvation Army led devotionals.

Highlights of the recent state convention in Hollywood were given by Mrs. Kate Kettle, Miss Emily Cox, Mrs. Alma Kellogg, Mrs. Mina Tidball, Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, Mrs. A. A. Jones and Mrs. N. H. Leonard.

The Union voted to send the Young Crusader, a publication, to each principal of the 14 schools in Santa Ana.

The next meeting will be held December 5, with "Soldiers and Sailors" as the program topic, in charge of Mrs. Anna Scott.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters, 1605 East Fourth street, have returned from a trip east. Mrs. Walters left here in September, going to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, then to Jefferson City, Mo., and to Iowa and Nebraska to visit relatives. Mr. Walters left later in the autumn joining Mrs. Walters at Central City, Nebr. He was in time to participate in pheasant and duck hunting.

Mrs. W. A. West, president of the local parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West, accompanied by Mesdames Raymond Crum, Herbert Bray and W. D. Ellis, last night visited Rudecinda parlor in San Pedro.

John D. Rinard, Pasadena avenue, Tustin, returned home this week from Chicago, Ill., where he visited the Century of Progress exposition, and Ada, Okla., where he enjoyed an extended visit. He was away for nearly three months.

Announcements

Ebell Modern Literature section will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Wilbur Barr, entertaining in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Barr, 1608 North Main street. Mrs. Sam Kraemer of Placentia will be introduced and will read "The Autumn Crocus," an English play by Dorothy Gladys Smith.

Daughters of Union Veterans having white or yellow flowers for the Armistice day float are requested to notify Mrs. Olive Willard, telephone 1347J or Mrs. Edith Moore, 1914W before Friday.

Reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. E. G. Warner, 2883W not later than Monday noon.

Announcement was made today that Miss Val Stark, regional director of Girl Scouts, will be in this community November 21 and November 24 to conduct a leader's course for all county workers and to confer with the Santa Ana Community Girl Scout committee on work for the next year. The place of meeting will be announced later.

At tomorrow afternoon's reception and exhibition of paintings by Evylena Nunn Miller, former Santa Ana artist, to be held from 2 to 4 o'clock in Bullock's lecture auditorium, Los Angeles, the Woman's club of Hollywood will act as hostess organization. These weekly receptions are open to the public, and many Santa Anans are planning to be present tomorrow. Program features will include an illustrated chalk talk by Sarah Bixby Smith, author, and violin numbers by Ruth Paddock accompanied by Pauline Cohen. She will play "Spanish Dance" by Granados-Kreisler; "La Caricceuse" by Elgar, and similar selections. The Women Painters of the West will direct the afternoon program.

Co-hostesses Welcome First Travelers At Luncheon

Extending a pleasant hospitality to their club sisters of Ebell First Travel section, Mrs. A. W. Ames and Mrs. H. C. Dawes of Los Angeles, were luncheon hostesses Monday in the home of Mrs. Ames, 823½ North Sycamore street.

Quantities of chrysanthemums in all colors and varieties were used to brighten the home, and the smaller and more delicately colored blossoms added charm to the tables where the Travelers enjoyed a delicious autumn menu.

It was with much interest that reading was resumed in the afternoon of the Harry Carr book, "Old Mother Mexico," this forming the study program.

Mrs. Ames and Mrs. Dawes had as their guests, Mesdames L. C. Carden, M. F. Heathman, Charles Kendall, E. B. Smith, William M. Smart and L. L. Shaw. There were three absent members, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. J. L. Dryer and Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave.

Church Societies

Girl Scouts Present Program for Club Members

Some idea as to the scope of the Girl Scout movement was given members of Santa Ana Woman's club yesterday afternoon when they met as guests of Mrs. R. C. Harris, 2036 North Main street. The hostess, who is leader of Troop No. 2, and more than 20 Girl Scouts of the city presented an entertainingly informative program on their activities.

The business interval which occupied the group during the first part of the afternoon was in charge of the president, Mrs. M. M. Wells. Mrs. Margaret Ahern and Mrs. William Whitehead were named delegates and Mrs. Frank Ey and Mrs. Jacob Bohlander, alternatives, to the Southern district convention to be held at La Jolla November 14, 15 and 16. Eleven other members of the local club are planning to attend the conclave.

It was announced that the Social section of the club will meet November 28 with its leader, Mrs. R. C. Harris; that the Philanthropic section has postponed indefinitely its plans for a party. Mrs. E. M. Waycott, leader of the Drama section, suggested plans for Christmas entertainment, proposing to do something for aged inmates at Orange County hospital.

Mrs. R. A. McMahon was welcomed as a new member of the club. Reports on the recent county convention held at Buena Park were given by Mesdames R. G. Carman, James McCracken and William Whitehead. Members made plans to go on the county tour of Laguna Beach today, visiting the Art Gallery and various studios.

Scout Program

Opening the program Mrs. Harris gave a history of scouting, telling of how Mrs. Juliet Low first brought Girl Scouting to America. Girls of the troop sang "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree," "Puffer Billies" and "One Little Thumb" under the leadership of Phyllis Bemis. Miss Dorothy Tedford, an Eaglet Scout, talked on the organization of scouting, telling of the various tests to be passed.

Mildred Kemper of Troop No. 1 talked on activities at Camp Rokili this past summer, displaying baskets, spatter prints and a tin can oven made by the girls. A play, "The Writing of the Girl Scout Laws" was presented. In the cast were Frances Was, Phyllis Bemis, Elaine Wilkins, Marjorie Randall, Mary Taylor, Jacqueline Bradford, Peggy Halloway, Mary Cory, Lillian Smith.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Dinner

Casaba-Mint Cocktail
Veal Pot Pie—
4 Tbsps. meat and gravy, vegetables ad lib.
1 small baked potato
Clear tea with lemon and saccharine.
Calory total, 435.

Tart . . . tangy . . . cool . . . and appetizing! All superlatives, descriptive, of the culinary charm of today's cocktail.

Casaba melon ranks with the last rose of summer. Dice or cut into small balls enough to serve the required number. Add lemon juice, chipped ice and just enough sugar to high-light flavors, then, with careful hand add from 1 to 3 drops of peppermint extract. Three drops will flavor a quart of the cocktail mixture, so you see what I mean by using a careful hand.

Veal stew or veal pot pie . . . it's all the same, only the last has a lid of baking powder biscuit.

Buy a breast of veal, strip off the stringy membrane, cut into small squares, dust with salted flour and brown quickly in a little fat, cover with hot water, season with chopped onion and a green pepper, salt and pepper, then simmer until the meat is tender. Thicken the gravy a tiny bit, cover top with thin rounds of biscuit dough, and bake in a hot oven.

For vegetables, use diced carrots and celery cooked together, and a can of peas. They go in after the gravy has been thickened.

Steamed Carrot-Suet-Fruit Pudding

1 cup beef suet
2 1-2 cups dried bread crumbs
1 cup grated raw carrot
4 eggs, whites beaten stiff
1 1-3 cup brown sugar
Grated rind 1 lemon and its juice
1 1-2 cups raisins
1-2 cup mixed candied fruit
1 tsp. cinnamon
1-2 tsp. each, allspice, nutmeg and cloves
2 tsps. salt
1-4 cup flour
1 tsp. soda beaten with egg yolks.

In your bix mixing bowl put grated carrot, crumbs, spices, lemon rind and juice, run the suet through the grinder, add, and mix with your hands, adding for liquid the egg yolks and soda. Flour the raisins and candied fruit, work them in, adding the whipped egg whites gradually.

Butter the cans, fill two-thirds full, cover tightly, stand in hot water, bring kettle to the boil, cover and simmer along for 3-4 hours, depending on the size of the cans. For 1-2 pound tins, two hours will be sufficient. Serve with your favorite sauce, re-steaming as wanted.

Baked Sweet Potatoes and Sausage

2 cups mashed sweet potato
1-2 Tbsp. butter
1 egg
1-2 tsp. salt
1-4 cup milk
1-3 cup cooked sausage
1 Tbsp. brown sugar

—Contributed Recipe.

Have the potatoes freshly cooked and hot. Mash them, beat in butter, milk, sugar, egg and salt. When light and feathery, mix the cooked sausage through the potato, pile lightly in an oiled baking dish and brown in a hot oven (25 minutes). Diced marshmallows may be used on top, these placed a few minutes before the casserole is taken from oven.

Wouldn't this recipe be swanky if baked in ramekins, topped with crumbs of corn flakes?

For the four portions the calory estimate runs to 200 per serving.

This is a "main dish" recipe, suitable for lunch or for family dinner.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME

STYLE IN SMALL SIZES
BY ANNE ADAMS

The fever of "neckline interest" goes right down through the kiddie fashion page. This tot adores her frock just as it is with little collar and frill topping a chic yoke. But when Mother uses the pattern again she'll choose one of the other finishes shown in the small views. Long sleeves, pleats for animation and bloomers to match, make it twice as adorable. Challis or cotton prints are first choice!

Pattern 1643 is available in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 takes 2 1-8 yards 36 inch fabric and 1-4 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

TELLS BOARD AUDITORIUM IS HELD UNSAFE

J. E. Allison of the firm of Allison and Allison, architects, employed by the Santa Ana board of education to direct reconstruction of damaged high school buildings, told board members last night that the report of state architects and engineers retained by the board to determine extent of damage done Santa Ana schools by the earthquake, brands the auditorium as unsafe and also indicates the necessity of reconstructing the major portion of the high school buildings. Board members declare they have not been able to get a copy of the report. Allison also said that he did not believe that there is a school in California that could be approved under the new state code without some work being done.

Following Allison's statement, it was decided by the board to have the state engineers go ahead with their inspection of Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop Junior High schools and the Hoover and Wilson grammar schools. State engineers who have been making the inspection of Santa Ana school buildings had been asked to delay, temporarily, their work on the four buildings until notified by the board. With the definite order to continue their work there will be but five frame buildings eliminated from the inspection. The buildings not to be inspected are Logan, Fremont, Jefferson, Delhi and Lincoln schools. State engineers said that frame buildings would not require this inspection service.

SCHOOL LOAN PLAN NOT TO BE ON BALLOT

Santa Ana's board of education proposed plebiscite on whether or not the board shall borrow funds from the state for reconstruction of school buildings damaged in the earthquake will not be on the ballot for the special election scheduled for December 19.

Decision not to place the issue on the ballot at that time was reached last night at a special meeting of the board. Reasons for the action were that the board will not be able to prepare data necessary for the election by the December date and could not get it on the ballot without increasing the number of election officers.

Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton informed the board that under election laws three election officials on each board are permitted to handle only four propositions. Increase of that number will necessitate additional members on the board.

An application will be filed with the state, immediately, however, for apportionment of funds for reconstruction work, it was decided. This application will ask for a sufficiently large sum with the understanding that, when the actual cost of reconstruction is know, only the amount actually required will be taken.

The board felt that it would not be proper to ask the people to vote on the proposal until it would be possible to inform them definitely as to the cost of the proposed work.

Suggestion of George Wells, chairman of the board, that an advisory committee of citizens be appointed by the school board to advise with board members relative to reconstruction problems was turned down without a vote when W. M. Burke, Dr. Margarete Baker and Rolla Hays opposed the plan.

Burke said that calling on an advisory committee of citizens would look as though the school board were attempting to evade its responsibility and place it on the shoulders of a group of citizens. He pointed out that the school board is responsible for the safety of the students and upon the board, alone, must fall the responsibility of deciding what buildings must be reconstructed and what buildings do not need this safeguard. He said that he believed that the school board should depend upon the state architect and engineer for advice. Hays and Dr. Baker concurred with Burke in his opinion, and the matter was not voted upon.

The board also indicated last night that it is undecided as to whether or not the money necessary for reconstruction of the school buildings shall be obtained under the Green bill, adopted at the last session of the state legislature, or through a bond election and later sell the bonds to the federal government.

BIRTHDAY

WARNINGS ON FROST START NOVEMBER 14

In a telephone message today from Pomona to the office of Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, Floyd Young, director of the fruit-frost service of the weather bureau, stated that the daily frost forecasts will begin November 14 at 8 p. m., over radio station KNX. The only exception to this schedule is that on Wednesday nights during November, the frost report will come over the air at 7:50 p. m. instead of 8 p. m., Young said.

Wahlberg said in connection with the announcement he wished to remind Orange county growers who have fruit or orchard thermometers to test, that they should be in the hands of the packing house this week, carefully wrapped and tagged. They will be collected on November 13 from all packing houses at La Habra, Fullerton, Placentia, Yorba Linda, Olive, Anaheim and Garden Grove. On November 17 they will be picked up from the houses at Orange, Tustin and Santa Ana. No testing will be done after these dates, Wahlberg said.

Programs have been arranged in three Farm Centers for the presentation of the latest developments in the fruit-frost service. Garden Grove Farm Center meets at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Women's clubhouse; Tustin Farm Center at Woodward building in Tustin, 7:30 p. m., November 22, and La Habra Farm Center at Washington school, 7:30 p. m., November 27. Either Young or M. Rathbone will address these meetings.

Gold Star Parents To Be Guests At Veteran Meeting

Gold Star mothers and fathers, as well as mothers and fathers of all other veterans, will be the honored guests of Jack Fisher Chapter No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, at a special meeting to be staged in Getty Hall, 619 East Fourth street, at 8 o'clock tonight.

Harry S. Pickard, commander of the chapter, who announced the meeting, also announced that he will furnish transportation for those parents who will communicate with him by telephone.

Entertainment will be furnished by the well known musical instructor, Holly Lash Visel. Light refreshments will be served.

New Books Issued By J. C. Shop

Thomas E. Williams, director of printing at the Santa Ana junior college print shop, was displaying today the latest product of the college Fine Arts Press, a biographical narrative of the life of John Swett, a pioneer in education in California.

The book is bound in beveled edge boards, covered with burgandy and tan cloth, and is profusely illustrated with early photographs from the file of the state department of education. Chapter head illuminations and decorative initials were drawn by Miss Mary Louise Wallace, assistant to Williams.

The book, Williams pointed out, "is not only a biography of one pioneer in California education, but is also a recital of the growth of the educational system in California."

Still another historical document, "Navajo Weaving," is in preparation Williams announced and will be the fourth publication from this press this year. It will be available November 15.

The book deals with Indian rug making by Charles Avery Amsden, who has spent several years in Indian work and research for the Southwest Museum in Los Angeles. It is being published with the cooperation of the museum.

The junior college press was chosen for the work by the museum because of its success with other works of the same nature.

MORE ENTRIES RECEIVED FOR LEGION PARADE

Additional entries are being received daily for the fifteenth annual Orange county Armistice day parade to be held in Orange Saturday, it was reported today by R. C. Steele, general chairman of the Armistice day committee for the host post.

The parade will be more than two miles long and will be made up of a large number of riding units, floats and marching units, Steele said. One of the latest entries to be received was from the California Lancers, while several riding academies of the county also plan units. There will be an open unit for unattached riders, it was announced.

One of the most colorful entries so far reported is a float being prepared by the Lions clubs of Orange county, entitled, "Girl of the Golden West," which will represent both early and present California. One portion of it will be a desert scene and the other will show a modern home surrounded by orange trees.

COUNTY C. OF C. OPPOSES STATE WATER PROJECT

A resolution expressing opposition to the State-wide water plan, or Central Valley water plan, was adopted in San Clemente last night by members of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, with but two dissenting votes cast.

The resolution, similar to the one adopted by the water committees of the Associated and Farm Bureau, was offered by O. E. Steward, chairman of the Associated water committee.

Opposition ballots were cast by Thomas Murphine, San Clemente, and O. T. Stephens, La Habra, both members of the Southern Economic Council which went on record as favoring the water project, which will be voted on at the December 19 election.

Ralph McFadden, president, drew fire from Stephens and Ross Shafer, Tustin, for remarking that Lotus Loudon, Anaheim, and Phil Stanton, highway commissioner, are members of the governor's family, pointing out that Governor Rolph ordered all state employes to support the plan. "Some men work for cash and others for glory," he said.

Both Stephens and Shafer called McFadden's remarks "bad taste." Stephens rose to a point of order and moved for a vote that the president was out of order. Members, however, voted to support McFadden.

Introducing the resolution, Steward declared that Southern California sympathized with water needs and is not opposed to the district favored in the election to solve their own problems as is done in this section. He said it might be possible for state agencies to contribute for the support of the district.

SERVICE STATION OPERATORS TO MEET

Salesmanship and general business conditions will be the topic of the meeting of the Orange county division of the Independent Petroleum club in the Southern Counties Gas company assembly hall, 207 West Second street, next Monday night, it was announced today by George H. Platt, secretary.

All members of the club, made up of independent service station operators and which now has a membership of 200, according to Platt, as well as any service station operators interested, are invited to attend.

Objectives of the club, Platt said, are to promote better business conditions, help the government with the NRA program and aid local authorities in enforcing the laws against substitution of gas and oils.

4TH DISTRICT P.-T. A. MEETS AT BREA-OLINDA

Officers and members of the Brea P.-T. A. will be the hostess group tomorrow afternoon for the Fourth District when the monthly business meeting of that body is held in the auditorium of the Brea-Olinda Union High school. Registration will open at the school at 9 o'clock. Luncheon will be served in the high school cafeteria at 1 o'clock.

Speakers scheduled are Dr. W. Ballantine Henley, lecturer in the school of government in the University of Southern California; Miss Helen Hefferen, chief of elementary education and rural schools of California; Mrs. Leo B. Hedges of Los Angeles, state chairman of motion pictures; Dr. I. E. Russell of the Orange county health department, and Mrs. J. D. Campbell, fourth district legislative chairman, who will lead in a legislative study at 10:50 a. m.

"Some Characteristics of a Progressive School" will be the topic of the talk to be given by Miss Hefferen. A round table discussion on motion pictures will be conducted at 11:05 with Mrs. Hedges in charge. Dr. Henley will be the only speaker to be heard after the luncheon hour.

Mrs. Gene Marvin, fourth district president, of Anaheim, will preside.

DR. HUNTER TALKS ON 'YOUTH AND WAR'

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Dr. Graham C. Hunter addressed the students of Fullerton District Junior college yesterday morning at their regular assembly on "Youth and War."

Dr. Hunter said that the young people were the only ones who could prevent a war in the future.

The A Cappella choir appeared for the first time before the assembly and gave three numbers. The choir was directed by Benjamin Edwards.

SORORITY GROUP IN BRIDGE PARTY

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Miss Dorothy Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Little, of Skyline drive, Fullerton, was hostess Monday evening to the members of the Beta Chi sorority. Miss Little used fall flowers in the orange, brown and red shades to decorate her home. Bridge was the diversion of the guests during the evening, with a dainty two course supper served at the close of the games.

Grand prize in the bridge games went to Miss Martha Iverson and grand consolation prize for this period went to Miss Julia Jewett. High score for the evening was held by Mrs. Ethel Sanford. Consolation prize went to Miss Iverson.

Present were Miss Julia Jewett, of Long Beach; Mrs. Ethel Sanford, Mrs. Thelma Wachtel, Mrs. Dorothy Pickup and Mrs. Irene Burgess, of Whittier; Mrs. Geneva Spray, Miss Marguerite Williams, Miss Naomi Granger and Miss Martha Iverson, of La Habra; Mrs. Virginia Jewett, Mrs. Mabel Snyder and Miss Little, Fullerton.

RESOLUTION OF LEAGUE HITS CAMP HUNTERS

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—Claiming that members of C.C.C. camps are hunting promiscuously throughout the state, regardless of state laws and without paid licenses, members of Fullerton Izaak Walton league last night adopted a resolution of protest. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Washington, D. C., and to the California council of the league.

John Gregory, chairman, introduced the resolution, after telling that reports are the territory about the camps are being rapidly depleted of game through practcies of hunting of the campers. A turkey dinner was served and the rustic Izaak Walton cabin was filled with members and guests for the occasion. Among the special guests were the city councilmen.

A call was placed by the chairman for members to visit M. A. Speer, writer, and a member of the league, at the Santa Fe hospital, where he is remaining following a serious automobile accident several days ago.

The guest speaker of the evening was Hugh Matier of the Union Oil company, who showed pictures of the pyramids of Egypt, and told stories of his travels about the world. He was introduced by H. E. Houseworth, program chairman of the evening.

WAR PSYCHOLOGY DEVELOPED BY EIGHT LEADING FACTORS, COLLEGE HEAD TELLS COUNCIL

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—"The fruits of war are of much less value than those of peace, the world learned in the last war and yet there is scant assurance that the forces of deliberation will prevail against the forces of imperialistic nationalism," Dr. Ernest James Jaqua, president of Scripps college, Claremont, said in his address to the International Relations council last night at its second meeting of this season in the Methodist church.

"War psychology is being developed by at least eight leading factors," Dr. Jaqua said. "First, the inflamed nationalism of each nation which makes it unblushingly self-righteous. The nations are neglecting the supreme opportunity for peace to gain commercial power and no nation yet has convinced its neighboring nation of its unselfishness.

"Second, the conflict between France and Germany in which France is seeking security and Germany equality. Europe again is threatened by a France-German conflict, one of the main causes of the last war, and the Versailles treaty has no moral value for Germany.

"Third, new frontiers in Europe have been the cause for more wars than any other single cause and at present three out of the 10,000 miles of frontier lines are new.

"Fourth is the ceaseless armament competition and it was light in 1914 compared to the present but the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of armaments.

"Fifth, kaleidoscopic change of governments is one reason. Sixth, the professional soldiers and war veterans are the most consistent protagonists for war and preparation for war is their cry.

"Seventh, the Versailles treaty is another cause and it has divided Europe into two armed camps, France and her allies and Germany and hers.

"Eighth, economic difficulties which come from the destruction of world commerce during the war and the terrific world war debts are driving nations to the paradoxial claim that another war will cure the evil."

Imperialistic skeletons of the nations was given as the last factor, by Dr. Jaqua.

Signs that war is not inevitable include growing influence of small nations who are the free thinkers in international affairs, the speaker said. Open diplomacy in present internationalism, is another sign, according to Dr. Jaqua.

The strength of peace treaties, although the nations do not usually regard them stronger than their state rights yet they provide a delay before rushing into war, was another reason of the speaker.

The league and the World court are another great reason for peace although it is folly to consider them as a panacea for world troubles and they never will meet all expectations held for them, the speaker said.

The last reason was the developing conviction among world leaders to outlaw war and at present great numbers of people in all nations believe it is possible to have no war but to have national sovereignty, the speaker said.

The only way for a nation to safeguard its life is for it to lose it in the internationalistic stream of world affairs, and the speaker said in closing, the United States is the only nation not burdened with historic facts and problems, has the greatest opportunity to sway the world in direction of peace.

Mrs. Marjorie Travers French, Otis Le Ross and Dr. Harold Gobar spoke briefly on the Armistice eve program the council is planning for Friday, November 10.

Dr. Graham C. Hunter, president of the council, announced "Russia" as the theme of the December meeting.

SOUP KITCHEN PLANS MADE BY P.-T. A. BOARD

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—Members of the executive board were guests of Mrs. Clyde Dorn, president of the Maple Parent-Teacher association, Tuesday, when they made final plans for serving soup to the children this year, following announcement that the school board is arranging a kitchen where the soup can be prepared and served. Mrs. Caroline Lovering has been appointed to supervise the preparation of the soup.

The association will meet in regular session Thursday at 7:30 p. m. when fathers' night will be observed. Judge Kenneth Morrison, of Santa Ana, will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency; Cause and Cure." Gordon Drew and his octet will provide special music. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Dorn had the luncheon tables yesterday decorated in wee turkeys, and pumpkins and other things significant of Thanksgiving. Attending were Mrs. Helena Smith, Miss Lydia Koontz, Miss Monetta Devran, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. William Holve, Mrs. Claude Russel, Mrs. Henry Burdorf, Mrs. William Selfridge, Mrs. Rayne, Mrs. Georgia Duncan, Mrs. Dan McKinley, Mrs. Schweiss and the hostess, Mrs. Clyde Dorn.

The drill team of the Santa Ana auxiliary will present the escort. Inspection is scheduled.

EVANGELIST TALKS BEFORE STUDENTS

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—E. Rodney Smith, generally known as "Gypsy" Smith, now conducting evangelistic services in Anaheim, addressed the students of Fullerton Union High school yesterday afternoon. He was introduced by Louis E. Plummer, principal of the school, as was the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman, pastor of the Methodist church. Odell Whitfield, student body president, presided.

GASOLINE STOLEN

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 8.—Forty gallons of gasoline were stolen Monday night from the pump belonging to M. J. P. Heil on the ranch west on Bolsa street. Heil lost gasoline last year and different belongings but this is the first loss for some time.

Merchants Hear School Principal On Outside Buying

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Home town buying was under discussion yesterday at the meeting of the merchants' division of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, Louis Plummer, principal of the Fullerton Union High school and District Junior college, said, in defense of the teaching forces doing their buying elsewhere, that complaints are often justified, but that wives of faculty members are no more prone to purchase supplies other places than are wives of merchants.

The policy of the school board is definitely in favor of home-town patronage unless the differential of cost is so great that the trustees, under the law, cannot ignore the price difference, he said.

Opening of the discussion on decorations for Christmas week were started, and each group leader is to bring in a suggestion during the week.

Fred Strauss, J. J. Alexander, Gurman Hoppe, Harry Smith and Jesse Winston have been asked to investigate the city's enforcement policy and to make recommendation on the stand to be taken by the merchants in the matter.

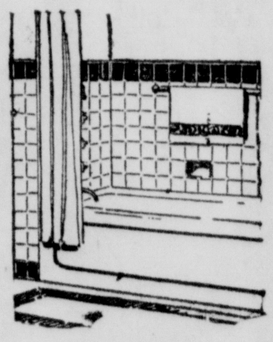

The Register welcomes news and Fullerton residents are urged to telephone or bring their items to the branch office, located on the north side of the California hotel building. The phone number is Fullerton 550.

Let an expert on heating advise you on the type of equipment that will meet your needs.

THERE is a size of natural gas warm air furnace... a unit or central type that will heat the entire house, or a floor furnace for heating one or more rooms... that will give you adequate, dependable and economical service. A touch of a finger on a conveniently placed button will start the heat immediately... or shut it off, instantly... at your command.

CIRCULATING warm-air heaters or gasteam radiators may be installed in any room without delay and will proceed at once to meet certain heating requirements.

THE cheery glow of an approved type of radiant heater is enjoyed on many occasions and is designed to meet the desires of those who prefer this type of heat.

WHATEVER you select for your heating equipment, we urge that you seek the advice of those who have studied the question of home-heating and are in a position to correctly advise you on the best type of heater for your own particular needs. Your dealer or our representatives will be glad to help you.

AND... whatever type of heating equipment you may decide to purchase, we urge you to make certain that it bears the Blue Star Seal of approval of the American Gas Association Testing Laboratories.

Note: The rate you pay for natural gas, DECREASES with increased use. Ask at our office for details.

Typographical Group Has Hard Times Party

Presiding as successful hostesses at a hard times party, members of the Women's Auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical union entertained with a benefit affair recently in M. W. A. hall.

A committee headed by Mrs. J. W. Jones and composed of Mesdames William Lawrence, W. H. Fields, Carl Fisher and J. A. Smith, had arranged all details of the affair. Tables were placed for a variety of games and contests.

Prizes in bridge were won by Mrs. R. L. Stauffer and J. W. Jones, who scored high. Little Miss Betty Jean Fisher and Mr. Fisher scored high in cootie contests. Clever costumes worn by Mrs. Fisher and by E. E. Frisby merited special prize awards.

Refreshments served at long tables in the dining room brought the pleasant evening to a close.

Mrs. J. H. Patison, 1705 West Washington avenue, is to be hostess at the next business meeting of the Auxiliary, scheduled for Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Progressive Dinner Compliments Two Pledges

Arranged in compliment to the Misses Vivian Rogers and Velma Allen, pledges to Sigma Tau Psi, was the progressive dinner party with which members of the sorority entertained Saturday night.

The first course, a delicious salad, was served in the home of Miss Louise Leck, 122 South Ross street, where Mexican sunflowers and other appointments were in keeping with an autumnal theme. The group went to the home of Miss Alyce Majors, 1811 North Flower street, for an Italian dinner, served to the accompaniment of bright colored fruits and tapers.

Rich tones of the Thanksgiving season were further observed in decorations in the home of Miss Alice Hanson, 2468 Riverside Drive, where the dessert course was served before sorority members and guests left to spend the remainder of the evening at the Rendezvous, Balboa.

Wives of Elks Respond With Enthusiasm to Party Plans

Delightful plans for a succession of monthly bridge teas for wives and friends of Santa Ana Elks, are being entertained following the success of the opening function, held Monday afternoon in the friendly atmosphere of the social rooms at the Elks clubhouse. Wives of officers were hostesses, assisted by Mrs. A. G. Flagg, social chairman, the group comprising Mesdames Harry Hyde, Robert E. Walker, R. F. Currie, E. R. Majors, Milburn Harvey, V. L. Motry, Earl Abbey, Harold Brown and Donald Jerome.

Interest felt in resuming these teas, was expressed by various guests in the popular way of sending flowers, so the hostesses had an assortment of lovely blossoms at their command when it came to decorating. Mrs. James Harding, Mrs. Fred Newcomb, jr. and Mrs. Motry were among those showing such thoughtfulness, and florist friends sent one artistic basket.

So general was the response to social plans, that 21 tables were required for bridge players, some of whom chose contract while others remained true to auction. Three lovely prizes were provided, Mrs. James Harding winning that awarded among contract players, Miss Strabling winning in the auction group, and Mrs. Raymond Crum the door prize.

Bolton-Cesena Wedding Is Charming Event In Whittier

At high noon Sunday, November 5, in Church of God, Whittier, Miss Thelma Cesena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Cesena, Whittier, became the bride of Everett Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bolton, 906 East Third street, Santa Ana. The Rev. Hale H. Means, pastor of the church, officiated. For the ceremony the church was decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums, ferns and white sweetpeas.

The bride wore a blue satin frock and carried deep pink roses. She was attended by Miss Audrey Belnap, a classmate. Mr. Bolton was assisted by Bud Hamilton.

Following the single ring service, a wedding luncheon was served in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton then left for a week's stay at Palm Springs. Upon their return they will make their home in Santa Ana where Mr. Bolton is employed with the Brock Glass company. He is a graduate of the high school of his former home, Fort Smith, Ark. His bride completed her course in the Whittier schools. In the last few weeks preceding her marriage, she was incentive for a succession of showers and parties at which she received a large number of lovely gifts to be used in the home to be established in this city.

Bridge Club Enjoys Dinner Session

Hospitalities of the past week included a dinner party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wright, 2320 Riverside drive, with bridge club members as guests at the pleasant event.

Mounds of bright-hued fruit centered small tables at which guests were seated during the dinner hour, the menu having been served buffet style. In keeping with the seasonal theme was the harvest tray of fruits awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nisson for scoring in the card games which followed the dinner.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wright were club members, Messrs and Mesdames Fred Newcomb, O. N. Robertson, Harry Westover, Clarence Nisson, and special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Loren G. Moore.

Telegrams Reach Here Announcing Birth Of Baby Son

Telegrams reaching various Santa Ana relatives and friends this week, apprised them of the happy news of the arrival on Monday, November 6, of a little son to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hugh Campbell of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Campbell was Miss Mollie Cobey Mosher, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mosher, 1428 Spurgeon street, and Mr. Mosher is accepting warm congratulations from a host of friends upon his first grandson. Mrs. Mosher went north several weeks ago for an extended visit with her son-in-law and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have lived in Seattle since shortly after their marriage three years ago. Mr. Campbell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Campbell of that city, is associated with Karr and Gregory, a prominent law firm of Seattle.

Union Members Plan Convention for Monday

Completing plans for a conference to be held all day Monday, November 13 in First Christian church beginning at 10 a. m., members of Santa Ana W. C. T. U. held a profitable session yesterday in the church. Mrs. Effie Nicholson, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Amy Evans.

The Rev. Helen Byrnes, general secretary of the Young People's Branch of the National W. C. T. U. will be the speaker and leader of the conference. She is in Southern California for a short time before returning east, and is conducting two meetings in Orange county. The Monday meeting will serve the southern half of the county, while on Tuesday the northern county meeting will be held at Fullerton.

The public, and young people especially, are invited to attend the conference. All are to bring sandwiches, covered-dishes and table service for a covered-dish luncheon to be served at noon in the dining room of the church.

Speaker for yesterday afternoon was H. G. Nelson, principal of Julia Lathrop Junior High school, who spoke on "Religious Education," topic for the day. Mrs. A. A. Jones was in charge of the program.

Song service was led by Mrs. Emma Wilson; the Rev. T. W. Ringland, pastor of the United Brethren church gave a short talk; Mrs. Mellie Vance gave a summary of her recent trip to Maryland and other eastern points; Mrs. Torgenson, ensign of the Salvation Army led devotionals.

Highlights of the recent state convention in Hollywood were given by Mrs. Kate Kettle, Miss Emily Cox, Mrs. Alma Kellogg, Mrs. Mina Tidball, Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, Mrs. A. A. Jones and Mrs. N. H. Leonard.

The Union voted to send the Young Crusader, a publication, to each principal of the 14 schools in Santa Ana.

The next meeting will be held December 5, with "Soldiers and Sailors" as the program topic, in charge of Mrs. Anna Scott.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters, 1605 East Fourth street, have returned from a trip east. Mrs. Walters left here in September, going to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, then to Jefferson City, Mo., and to Iowa and Nebraska to visit relatives. Mr. Walters left later in the autumn joining Mrs. Walters at Central City, Nebr. He was in time to participate in pheasant and duck hunting.

Mrs. W. A. West, president of the local parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West, accompanied by Mesdames Raymond Crum, Herbert Bray and W. D. Ellis, last night visited Rudecinda parlor in San Pedro.

John D. Rinard, Pasadena avenue, Tustin, returned home this week from Chicago, Ill., where he visited the Century of Progress exposition, and Ada, Okla., where he enjoyed an extended visit. He was away for nearly three months.

Announcements

Ebell Modern Literature section will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Wilbur Barr, entertaining in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Barr, 1608 North Main street. Mrs. Sam Kraemer of Placentia will be introduced and will read "The Autumn Crocus," an English play by Dorothy Gladys Smith.

Daughters of Union Veterans having white or yellow flowers for the Armistice day float are requested to notify Mrs. Olive Willard, telephone 1347J or Mrs. Edith Moore, 1914W before Friday.

Santa Ana chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will meet Wednesday, November 15, at 12:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. for a luncheon honoring Mrs. F. F. Gundrum of Sacramento, state regent, who will be speaker of the day. Audrey Isbell Peterson will give pianologues. Members may bring guests to the meeting. Reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. E. G. Warner, 2883W not later than Monday noon.

Announcement was made today that Miss Val Stark, regional director of Girl Scouts, will be in this community November 21 and November 24 to conduct a leader's course for all county workers and to confer with the Santa Ana Community Girl Scout committee on work for the next year. The place of meeting will be announced later.

At tomorrow afternoon's reception and exhibition of paintings by Evylena Nunn Miller, former Santa Ana artist, to be held from 2 to 4 o'clock in Bullock's lecture auditorium, Los Angeles, the Woman's club of Hollywood will act as hostess organization. These weekly receptions are open to the public, and many Santa Anans are planning to be present tomorrow. Program features will include an illustrated chalk talk by Sarah Bixby Smith, author, and violin numbers by Ruth Paddock accompanied by Pauline Cohen. She will play "Spanish Dance" by Granados-Kreisler; "La Caricceuse" by Elgar, and similar selections. The Women Painters of the West will direct the afternoon program.

Co-hostesses Welcome First Travelers At Luncheon

Extending a pleasant hospitality to their club sisters of Ebell First Travel section, Mrs. A. W. Ames and Mrs. H. C. Dawes of Los Angeles, were luncheon hostesses Monday in the home of Mrs. Ames, 823½ North Sycamore street.

Quantities of chrysanthemums in all colors and varieties were used to brighten the home, and the smaller and more delicately colored blossoms added charm to the tables where the Travelers enjoyed a delicious autumn menu.

It was with much interest that reading was resumed in the afternoon of the Harry Carr book, "Old Mother Mexico," this forming the study program.

Mrs. Ames and Mrs. Dawes had as their guests, Mesdames L. C. Carden, M. F. Heathman, Charles Kendall, E. B. Smith, William M. Smart and L. L. Shaw. There were three absent members, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. J. L. Dryer and Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave.

Girl Scouts Present Program for Club Members

Some idea as to the scope of the Girl Scout movement was given members of Santa Ana Woman's club yesterday afternoon when they met as guests of Mrs. R. C. Harris, 2036 North Main street. The hostess, who is leader of Troop No. 2, and more than 20 Girl Scouts of the city presented an entertainingly informative program on their activities.

The business interval which occupied the group during the first part of the afternoon was in charge of the president, Mrs. M. M. Wells. Mrs. Margaret Ahern and Mrs. William Whitehead were named delegates and Mrs. Frank Ey and Mrs. Jacob Bohlander, alternatives, to the Southern district convention to be held at La Jolla November 14, 15 and 16. Eleven other members of the local club are planning to attend the conclave.

It was announced that the Social section of the club will meet November 28 with its leader, Mrs. R. C. Harris; that the Philanthropic section has postponed indefinitely its plans for a party. Mrs. E. M. Waycott, leader of the Drama section, suggested plans for Christmas entertainment, proposing to do something for aged inmates at Orange County hospital.

Mrs. R. A. McMahon was welcomed as a new member of the club. Reports on the recent county convention held at Buena Park were given by Mesdames R. G. Carman, James McCracken and William Whitehead. Members made plans to go on the county tour of Laguna Beach today, visiting the Art Gallery and various studios.

Scout Program

Opening the program Mrs. Harris gave a history of scouting, telling of how Mrs. Juliet Low first brought Girl Scouting to America. Girls of the troop sang "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree," "Puffer Billies" and "One Little Thumb" under the leadership of Phyllis Bemis. Miss Dorothy Tedford, an Eaglet Scout, talked on the organization of scouting, telling of the various tests to be passed.

Mildred Kemper of Troop No. 1 talked on activities at Camp Rokili this past summer, displaying baskets, spatter prints and a tin can oven made by the girls. A play, "The Writing of the Girl Scout Laws" was presented. In the cast were Frances Was, Phyllis Bemis, Elaine Wilkins, Marjorie Randall, Mary Taylor, Jacqueline Bradford, Peggy Halloway, Mary Cory, Lillian Smith.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Casaba-Mint Cocktail
Veal Pot Pie—
4 Tbsps. meat and gravy, vegetables ad lib.
1 small baked potato
Clear tea with lemon and saccharine.
Calory total, 435.

Tart . . . tangy . . . cool . . . and appetizing! All superlatives, descriptive, of the culinary charm of today's cocktail.

Casaba melon ranks with the last rose of summer. Dice or cut into small balls enough to serve the required number. Add lemon juice, chipped ice and just enough sugar to high-light flavors, then, with careful hand add from 1 to 3 drops of peppermint extract. Three drops will flavor a quart of the cocktail mixture, so you see what I mean by using a careful hand.

Veal stew or veal pot pie . . . it's all the same, only the last has a lid of baking powder biscuit.

Buy a breast of veal, strip off the stringy membrane, cut into small squares, dust with salted flour and brown quickly in a little fat, cover with hot water, season with chopped onion and a green pepper, salt and pepper, then simmer until the meat is tender. Thicken the gravy a tiny bit, cover top with thin rounds of biscuit dough, and bake in a hot oven.

For vegetables, use diced carrots and celery cooked together, and a can of peas. They go in after the gravy has been thickened.

Steamed Carrot-Suet-Fruit Pudding

1 cup beef suet
2 1-2 cups dried bread crumbs
1 cup grated raw carrot
4 eggs, whites beaten stiff
1 1-3 cup brown sugar
Grated rind 1 lemon and its juice
1 1-2 cups raisins
1-2 cup mixed candied fruit
1 tsp. cinnamon
1-2 tsp. each, allspice, nutmeg and cloves
2 tsps. salt
1-4 cup flour
1 tsp. soda beaten with egg yolks.

In your bix mixing bowl put grated carrot, crumbs, spices, lemon rind and juice, run the suet through the grinder, add, and mix with your hands, adding for liquid the egg yolks and soda. Flour the raisins and candied fruit, work them in, adding the whipped egg whites gradually.

Butter the cans, fill two-thirds full, cover tightly, stand in hot water, bring kettle to the boil, cover and simmer along for 3-4 hours, depending on the size of the cans. For 1-2 pound tins, two hours will be sufficient. Serve with your favorite sauce, re-steaming as wanted.

2 cups mashed sweet potato
1-2 Tbsp. butter
1 egg
1-2 tsp. salt
1-4 cup milk
1-3 cup cooked sausage
1 Tbsp. brown sugar
—Contributed Recipe.

Have the potatoes freshly cooked and hot. Mash them, beat in butter, milk, sugar, egg and salt. When light and feathery, mix the cooked sausage through the potato, pile lightly in an oiled baking dish and brown in a hot oven (25 minutes). Diced marshmallows may be used on top, these placed a few minutes before the casserole is taken from oven.

Wouldn't this recipe be swanky if baked in ramekins, topped with crumbs of corn flakes?

For the four portions the calory estimate runs to 200 per serving.

This is a "main dish" recipe, suitable for lunch or for family dinner.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

© 1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

On Ozone Island all the bunch soon landed. One said, "I've a hunch that we will see some strange things here. Let's start to walk around.

"The trees seem funny as can be. They're just like clouds, if you ask me. I hope some friendly person very shortly will be found."

Then Scouty said, "A hike's all right, but first let's fix our log real tight. You see, we may not want to stay on this place very long.

"If we find there is nothing here, or find something that will cause fear, we'll want to come back to our log and travel right along."

And so, they pushed the log into the island. "There, that ought to do," said Dotty. "Now, come follow me. I'll gladly take the lead.

"I'm just a wee bit frightened. Yet, there's no real cause for it, I'll bet. If we all hope to see new sights, it's courage that we need."

They walked for just a little while and then one Tiny, with a smile, said, "I just felt one of the trees. Each one is just a cloud."

"For goodness sakes, don't touch them then. We'll get into a mess again," said Coppy. "How do we know? Maybe touching's not allowed.

Just then the Tinies heard a sound and, as they turned and looked around, two little fellows ran out from behind a great big tree.

"Well, who are you?" said Goldy. "Say, we hope that you'll join us in play. We hoped that we would find someone. We're happy as can be."

"I'm Rattle," one wee man replied. "I'm Rumble, miss," the other cried. "We're servants of the Thunder Man, who lives here in the sky.

"If you would like to meet him, you must do just as we say to do. Then we will gladly introduce you to him, by and by."

CLEAN FOOTBALL by JOCK SUTHERLAND

FAMOUS PITT COACH

A LOT of dirty football players are experts in their line. They can pull off unfair tricks in a pile-up that the keenest-eyed referee cannot detect.

A good knowledge of self-defense is valuable to a player, if he is playing against just such an opponent. A fellow who can roll away from a punch and throw his opponent off balance can put him down under the pile-up.

I don't mean to advocate an "eye for eye" policy in this connection, but I do believe that a dirty player who persists in punching all through a hard-fought football game should be punished when he is guilty and after his offenses have been ignored repeatedly by officials.

Sketch shows how to avoid a straight punch and upset the opponent with a low charge.

DR. HUNTER TALKS ON 'YOUTH AND WAR'

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Dr. Graham C. Hunter addressed the students of Fullerton District Junior college yesterday morning at their regular assembly on "Youth and War."

Dr. Hunter said that the young people were the only ones who could prevent a war in the future.

The A Cappella choir appeared for the first time before the assembly and gave three numbers. The choir was directed by Benjamin Edwards.

SORORITY GROUP IN BRIDGE PARTY

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Miss Dorothy Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Little, of Skyline drive, Fullerton, was hostess Monday evening to the members of the Beta Chi sorority. Miss Little used fall flowers in the orange, brown and red shades to decorate her home. Bridge was the diversion of the guests during the evening, with a dainty two course supper served at the close of the games.

Grand prize in the bridge games went to Miss Martha Iverson and grand consolation prize for this period went to Miss Julia Jewett. High score for the evening was held by Mrs. Ethel Sanford. Consolation prize went to Miss Iverson.

Present were Miss Julia Jewett, of Long Beach; Mrs. Ethel Sanford, Mrs. Thelma Wachtel, Mrs. Dorothy Pickup and Mrs. Irene Burgess, of Whittier; Mrs. Geneva Spray, Miss Marguerite Williams, Miss Naomi Granger and Miss Martha Iverson, of La Habra; Mrs. Virginia Jewett, Mrs. Mabel Snyder and Miss Little, Fullerton.

RESOLUTION OF LEAGUE HITS CAMP HUNTERS

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—Claiming that members of C.C.C. camps are hunting promiscuously throughout the state, regardless of state laws and without paid licenses, members of Fullerton Izaak Walton league last night adopted a resolution of protest. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Washington, D. C., and to the California council of the league.

John Gregory, chairman, introduced the resolution, after telling that reports are the territory about the camps are being rapidly depleted of game through practcies of hunting of the campers. A turkey dinner was served and the rustic Izaak Walton cabin was filled with members and guests for the occasion. Among the special guests were the city councilmen.

A call was placed by the chairman for members to visit M. A. Speer, writer, and a member of the league, at the Santa Fe hospital, where he is remaining following a serious automobile accident several days ago.

The guest speaker of the evening was Hugh Matier of the Union Oil company, who showed pictures of the pyramids of Egypt, and told stories of his travels about the world. He was introduced by H. E. Houseworth, program chairman of the evening.

WAR PSYCHOLOGY DEVELOPED BY EIGHT LEADING FACTORS, COLLEGE HEAD TELLS COUNCIL

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—"The fruits of war are of much less value than those of peace, the world learned in the last war and yet there is scant assurance that the forces of deliberation will prevail against the forces of imperialistic nationalism," Dr. Ernest James Jaqua, president of Scripps college, Claremont, said in his address to the International Relations council last night at its second meeting of this season in the Methodist church.

"War psychology is being developed by at least eight leading factors," Dr. Jaqua said. "First, the inflamed nationalism of each nation which makes it unblushingly self-righteous. The nations are neglecting the supreme opportunity for peace to gain commercial power and no nation yet has convinced its neighboring nation of its unselfishness.

"Second, the conflict between France and Germany in which France is seeking security and Germany equality. Europe again is threatened by a France-German conflict, one of the main causes of the last war, and the Versailles treaty has no moral value for Germany.

"Third, new frontiers in Europe have been the cause for more wars than any other single cause and at present three out of the 10,000 miles of frontier lines are new.

"Fourth is the ceaseless armament competition and it was light in 1914 compared to the present but the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of armaments.

"Fifth, kaleidoscopic change of governments is one reason. Sixth, the professional soldiers and war veterans are the most consistent protagonists for war and preparation for war is their cry.

"Seventh, the Versailles treaty is another cause and it has divided Europe into two armed camps, France and her allies and Germany and hers.

"Eighth, economic difficulties which come from the destruction of world commerce during the war and the terrific world war debts are driving nations to the paradoxial claim that another war will cure the evil."

Imperialistic skeletons of the nations was given as the last factor, by Dr. Jaqua.

Signs that war is not inevitable include growing influence of small nations who are the free thinkers in international affairs, the speaker said. Open diplomacy in present internationalism, is another sign, according to Dr. Jaqua.

The strength of peace treaties, although the nations do not usually regard them stronger than their state rights yet they provide a delay before rushing into war, was another reason of the speaker.

The league and the World court are another great reason for peace although it is folly to consider them as a panacea for world troubles and they never will meet all expectations held for them, the speaker said.

The last reason was the developing conviction among world leaders to outlaw war and at present great numbers of people in all nations believe it is possible to have no war but to have national sovereignty, the speaker said.

The only way for a nation to safeguard its life is for it to lose it in the internationalistic stream of world affairs, and the speaker said in closing, the United States is the only nation not burdened with historic facts and problems, has the greatest opportunity to sway the world in direction of peace.

Mrs. Marjorie Travers French, Otis Le Ross and Dr. Harold Gobar spoke briefly on the Armistice eve program the council is planning for Friday, November 10.

Dr. Graham C. Hunter, president of the council, announced "Russia" as the theme of the December meeting.

Merchants Hear School Principal On Outside Buying

FULLERTON, Nov. 8. — Home town buying was under discussion yesterday at the meeting of the merchants' division of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, Louis Plummer, principal of the Fullerton Union High school and District Junior college, said, in defense of the teaching forces doing their buying elsewhere, that complaints are often justified, but that wives of faculty members are no more prone to purchase supplies other places than are wives of merchants.

The policy of the school board is definitely in favor of home-town patronage unless the differential of cost is so great that the trustees, under the law, cannot ignore the price difference, he said.

Opening of the discussion on decorations for Christmas week were started, and each group leader is to bring in a suggestion during the week.

Fred Strauss, J. J. Alexander, Gurman Hoppe, Harry Smith and Jesse Winston have been asked to investigate the city's enforcement policy and to make recommendation on the stand to be taken by the merchants in the matter.

The Register welcomes news and Fullerton residents are urged to telephone or bring their items to the branch office, located on the north side of the California hotel building. The phone number is Fullerton 550.

SOUP KITCHEN PLANS MADE BY P.-T. A. BOARD

FULLERTON, Nov. 8.—Members of the executive board were guests of Mrs. Clyde Dorn, president of the Maple Parent-Teacher association, Tuesday, when they made final plans for serving soup to the children this year, following announcement that the school board is arranging a kitchen where the soup can be prepared and served. Mrs. Caroline Lovering has been appointed to supervise the preparation of the soup.

The association will meet in regular session Thursday at 7:30 p. m. when fathers' night will be observed. Judge Kenneth Morrison, of Santa Ana, will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency; Cause and Cure." Gordon Drew and his octet will provide special music. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Dorn had the luncheon tables yesterday decorated in wee turkeys, and pumpkins and other things significant of Thanksgiving. Attending were Mrs. Helena Smith, Miss Lydia Koontz, Miss Monetta Devran, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. William Holve, Mrs. Claude Russel, Mrs. Henry Burdorf, Mrs. William Selfridge, Mrs. Rayne, Mrs. Georgia Duncan, Mrs. Dan McKinley, Mrs. Schweiss and the hostess, Mrs. Clyde Dorn.

Recount In Huntington Beach Electon Sought

CITES SPOILED BALLOTS; BOARD MEETS MONDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, No. 8. —John Whitfield, chairman of the Willis Warner campaign in the municipal election here Monday, stated today that he would ask the city council for a recount when that body meets Monday night to canvas the election returns.

Whitfield said that the request for a recount did not mean an attack on the record of the election clerks and judges, but that the expense would be light and there was a reason for making the request.

He gave as the reason the claim that many spoiled ballots were thrown out. He pointed out that the ballots were so printed that when folded by the voter, the line on which folding occurred made the names of Warner and Tom Talbert, who was elected by 14 ballots, fold one over the other.

In this way the stamp used in the voting booths and used on a wet pad, would blur so badly as to create a doubt as to which was the X and which the impression made by folding the ballot, he said. One candidate got the stamped X and the other got an impression or reprint of the rubber stamped X from the wet ink, he said.

Whitfield said that in fairness to both candidates there should be a recount and a close scrutiny of the ballots to determine if the spoiled ballots could be credited to any candidate. As there were only two names on the ballot, the recount would take comparatively a short time, he said.

WESTMINSTER P.-T. A. SIGNS 146 MEMBERS

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 8. — The membership contest which closed Monday evening with the second P.-T.A. meeting of the term, brought in 146 members and resulted in a tie for the two contesting sides captained by Mrs. B. B. Brown and Mrs. A. B. Crane, each having 73 members.

A pot-luck supper will be held November 20, it was announced. Mrs. Fred Cook won the prize of a P.-T.A. pin and a subscription to the P.-T.A. magazine for securing 22 members, while Miss Nellie French, who was second with 16 members, was given the magazine. Mrs. Carson secured 13 members and Mrs. William Broyles, 10. Mrs. J. H. McGuire was presented with a quilt.

The P.-T.A. agreed to assume the expense of the examination of children's eyes and the purchase of glasses for those not able to finance this, to the extent of $35. This move was made following the talk of Dr. Russell I. Johnson, local school examiner, who stated that the majority of children in Westminster school are in need of glasses. The number of children with poor hearing also was stressed. Dr. Johnson also spoke on the general work among tuberculosis patients throughout the country.

Mrs. Margaret Prindle, music chairman for the P.-T.A. requested the organization to furnish the music for the newly organized Community chorus working under the auspices of the P.-T.A., the amount to be repaid from the door receipts of the musical program planned by the chorus for the Christmas season. Mrs. R. C. Pritchard was appointed secretary of the study group.

Dr. Cecil D. Hardesty is to be in charge of the December program and stated he would like to have it an all-community affair in the local park.

Mrs. Marvin, Fourth district P.-T.A. president, spoke on "Character Training in Childhood." Mildred Robertson gave a piano solo, Francis J. Dell of the faculty spoke on "Safety Devises in the Home"; Donald Melvin presented two vocal numbers, "Mother McChree" and "Love's Old, Sweet Song." Miss Nellie Franch is program chairman.

An Indian frieze, the free hand drawing of Mrs. Ethel Paulk's intermediate grades of Hoover school, was shown by Mrs. Paulk.

New Pastor For Cypress Church

CYPRESS, Nov. 8.—The Rev. H. J. Ransom has been named pastor of the Cypress Nazarene church on Walker street. The Rev. Mr. Ransom replaces the Rev. H. Isham, who was transferred recently to Elcarte, Kans. Mrs. Ransom plans to organize a choir and orchestra. Church Appreciation day was observed Sunday.

MINNESOTA WELL IN H. B. OIL FIELD FLOWING 2400 BARRELS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8. —The Minnesota Oil company well on Nineteenth street near Olive instead of being a pumper, is a big gusher. It began flowing yesterday at the rate of a hundred barrels an hour and the flow is steady. It has just enough gas to force the big stream of oil into the tanks. Wallace and Shultz, owners of the well, had to rent additional storage yesterday. The conservation committee has allowed the well 300 barrels a day for the rest of November. The oil is 26 gravity and clean. The well is being beaned back to produce its allowable.

Owing to the major companies refusing to take Huntington Beach oil, pipe line outlets of the field are closed and the oil has to be trucked out. The Coast highway is roaring night and day under the enormous traffic of the huge trucks and trailers.

A truck and trailer means an investment of about $10,000 for the sort of trucks they are using. A loaded truck and trailer transports 100 to 120 barrels of oil in the two tanks. The rate is six cents a barrel to Long Beach independent refineries. This means about $6 a load for transportation.

About 20,000 barrels a day, the full townlot field allotment, moves out of this city daily in truck loads.

POST VOTES TO JOIN CLUB IN BUILDING SITE

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—The second important step towards the proposed civic center was taken at the meeting of the American Legion post Monday evening, when they voted unanimously to join with the Kiwanis club in the purchase of property at the corner of Orange and Erna avenues for the erection of a library building and American Legion Hall.

The property consists of 140 on the north side of Erna avenue adjoining and east of the present city property on which the city fire station stands. The 50-foot lot adjoining the city property was donated to the Kiwanis club by Mrs. Anna C. Launer and the 60 foot lot adjoining this property on the east, being the corner of Orange and Erna avenues, was offered to the same body at a purchase price of $1000. This leaves a 30-foot strip for the widening of Orange avenue. The Kiwanis club accepted the offer at the meeting last week and the matter of a Legion hall was presented to them by L. H. Brewer of the Kiwanis club and Legion.

The Legion members instructed their commander, A. J. Cookerly, Adjutant L. E. Proud and Finance Officer L. H. Brewer to begin work at once with the Kiwanis club in the purchase of the lot for a Legion hall.

Sterling M. Hood, chairman of the membership committee, reported that the post had met its quota now having 29 paid up members.

L. H. Brewer of the Scout committee reported that the Boy Scout work in La Habra was progressing satisfactorily under Scoutmaster Joe Severns and Paul Blocher, assistant.

An invitation from the Rev. T. C. Jordan, asking the Legion members to attend services on Armistice Sunday at the Baptist church either in a body or an individuals, was accepted.

Farewell Party Held For Couple

HANSEN, Nov. 8.—When Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones were summoned to the home of Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom one evening recently, they were pleasantly surprised to find assembled there a group of friends who had planned a farewell party in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are moving to Tucson, Ariz., this week.

Mrs. Jones was presented with a memorandum book, in which all of the guests inscribed appropriate verses and signed their names.

After an evening of cards and other games, refreshments were served by Mrs. Nordstrom to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sawtelle, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Lukens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. William Porter and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Social Held By Friendship Class

BUENA PARK, Nov. 8.—Members of the Friendship Sunday school class of the Congregational church held their rekular social meeting and study period in the church Tuesday. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Vivian Wendel, Mrs. Bobst and Mrs. Myrtle White.

At the conclusion of luncheon a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Betty Schofield, president of the class, presided over a short business session. The study period, which is under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Rayburn, was devoted to questions and answers.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. LaRue C. Watson, Mrs. Gertrude Sanbury, Mrs. Pauline Henderson, Mrs. Aleta Edwards, Mrs. Vernon Crisswell, Mrs. Doris Spohn, Mrs. Bertha Spohn, Mrs. Sue Pierce, Mrs. Homer Kreps, Miss Louise Albright, Miss Katherine Magnuson, Miss Katherine Smith, Mrs. Redq Lemmert, Mrs. Robert Erwin, Mrs. Grace Moffett, Mrs. James Swann, Mrs. Eleanore Jones, Mrs. Betty Schofield.

SPEAKERS TELL ADVANTAGES OF CO-OPERATION

BREA, Nov. 8.—Calvin Ewing and J. A. Twindell, representing the Central Labor council of Orange county; the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, speaking on behalf of the Orange County Regional council and the Citizen's Protective league; C. C. Kinsler, city judge of Brea, and Jack Kerr, of Anaheim, all spoke before the Unemployed Workers' association Tuesday night.

The power of organization and co-operation was stressed by each speaker, Twindell advising that all ally themselves with some craft or labor organization or, at least, with some co-operative unit. Ewing urged every unemployed person to register at the office of the United States Re-Employment bureau and explained some of the advantages to be had by so doing.

Gaylord, commending the NRA movement as fas as it has gone, pointed out the need of enforcing the principles involved in the act and the necessity of co-operation and mutual service in securing a more equitable distribution of goods and income in the country, not in a revolutionary sense but as a simple economic principle.

Invitations were given to the members to attend the meetings of all organizations represented by the speakers and several plan to attend these meetings soon. George Himes, chairman, presided.

RANCHER USES HUGE PLOW ON BEAN PROPERTY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8. —Urban Plavan, who is farming over 500 acres of bean land near Huntington Beach, has designed his own plow for use this autumn in breaking up the bean lands. The plow breaks two furrows at a time and plows to a depth of 22 inches. The spread across the two furrows is 44 inches.

The deep plowing lifts a new soil to the surface. Plavan used the plow, or one blade of a similar plow, in experimental work last year on 75 acres of bean land. The crop on that 75 acres was so much better than on any other land of the surrounding 500 acres, that he had the huge plow made this year and is plowing the entire 500 acres with the big double plow.

The usual furrow is from eight to 14 inches deep. Two years ago Plavan's brother used a plow that cut a furrow four feet deep. This plow was fine for destroying Burmuda grass on lands that had been overrun with the grass, but it was found the soil at that depth impoverished the upper stratas of soil and cut down the crop production.

The new plow does not disturb the soil below the fertility area and Plavan and other farmers who watched the experiment last year claim that the deep plowing is almost equal to fertilization. The plow is drawn by a 60-horse power tractor.

New Eastern Star Officers Elected At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 8. — Eastern Star officers were chosen at the regular chapter meeting Monday night in the Social clubhouse. They are: Worthy matron, Elysabeth Killen; worthy patron, William Holmes; associate matron, Ellen Cliff; associate patron, Roy Divel; secretary, Mary B. Gleason; treasurer, Inez Holmes; conductress, Marian Kelly; associate conductress, Sarah Gallaher.

A report on the grand chapter was given by Ellen Shork, retiring worthy matron. Refreshments were served.

NEW PASTOR

Prof. David McKinley Sayers, new pastor of the Church of Christ in La Habra, who is responsible for church building program.

WORK ON NEW CHURCH SLATED TO BEGIN SOON

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—With the present Church of Christ building at Cypress and First streets scheduled to be remodeled into an educational structure, work on a new church building will get under way soon, it was announced.

The foundation for the remodeled building has been completed and the church will be moved onto the foundation shortly. Workers are now constructing stone blocks for the new building, which will be 40 by 50 feet in size.

The church is growing in numbers under the direction of David McKinley Sayers, A. B., M. A., B. D., a professor at the Pacific Bible seminary in Long Beach. Professor Sayers has had 12 years college training besides wide experience as college instructor.

Professor Sayers launched a campaign for a new auditorium and larger educational facilities immediately upon taking over the work in La Habra recently.

Sunday at 11 a. m. the pastor will speak on "Rebuilding the Walls" and at 7:30 p. m. his topic will be "The Glory of the Kingdom." Sunday school is held at 9:45 a. m. under the supervision of E. E. Keith. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the services.

LIONS OF MESA TOLD HISTORY OF INSURANCE

COSTA MESA, Nov. 8.—Yearly losses by fire in the United States have reached the staggering figure of one half billion dollars, Paul Ragan of Santa Ana, said in a talk before the Lions club of Costa Mesa Tuesday on "A History of Insurance."

Early fire insurance companies practically all supported fire brigades, Ragan said, but fire losses mounted so fast that a National Fire Underwriters association was formed which branched out into every phase of fire control until now instead of every company supporting a research department, all standard companies are banded under one head along this line. The it is virtually a public service, he system has come to the place where stated.

Ragan was introduced by Judge C. B. Diehl, program chairman for the day.

Sheriff Logan Jackson spoke briefly. He was introduced by County Auditor W. T. Lambert. Warren K. Hilliard, county surveyor, of Santa Ana, made a short talk.

During the business period of the meeting it was decided to make the November 28 meeting of the club a Thanksgiving affair, with club members and their wives present. On that date Captain Don Wilkie will be the main speaker. President Leroy Anderson was in charge of the meeting.

HARBOR PROJECT OUTLINED AT LAGUNA BEACH LUNCHEON

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 8. — The low cost to the taxpayers of Orange county, if a $640,500 bond issue is passed to help out the Newport harbor project, was stressed by R. L. Patterson, city engineer of Newport Beach, in a talk yesterday noon at the regular chamber of commerce luncheon held in the main dining room of the Hotel Laguna.

The average payment over a 30-year period, of principal and interest, he said, would be about $34,000, and would cost the taxpayer 2.6 cents on each $100 of valuation, or 26 cents on property assessed at $1000. It is likely, Patterson said, that at the hearing November 14 the board of supervisors will set the election on the bond issue for December 19, the date of the state water election, so as to save the taxpayers about $10,000 in election costs.

Patterson explained that the government is giving about two dollars for each one expended by the county for the improvement of the harbor. It being a federal project, the government will expend money in the future to keep the channel open. The engineer explained the project in some detail from a map. He informed the meeting that the project will be handled by the United States Army district engineer.

Mrs. Ada E. Purpus, in a plea for the Red Cross Roll call, which is under way this week, told that while in October, 1932, 189 families were being helped by the local welfare committee, in October of this year 280 families were aided, and a larger percentage of the members of the families needed help. Declaring that objection had been raised to sending 50 cents of the dollar membership fee to national Red Cross headquarters, Mrs. Purpus pointed out that more money was sent into the Long Beach and Santa Ana area following the earthquake of March 10 than had been sent to the National Red Cross from the entire state of California last year.

Capt. George A. Portus, executive secretary, who presided, said that the efforts of the Chamber had resulted in the saving of $4449 per year to gas consumers in Laguna Beach. A full report will be made at the evening dinner-meeting to be held November 14.

It was voted to request the stores of Laguna Beach to remain closed from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Armistice day.

George C. Macloed, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly.

ARRANGE PROGRAM FOR MASONS' LODGE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8. —The regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held November 14, when Mrs. Terry Stephenson, of Santa Ana, county chairman of history and landmarks, will discuss early history of California and Orange county. Special music is being arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Marian Miller.

Miss Sarah Whitfield, president, and Mrs. Sylvia Conrad, delegatee, will leave following the meeting for La Jolla to attend the southern district convention of women's clubs.

Dinner Is Held At Sunset Beach

SUNSET BEACH, Nov. 8 — The first of a series of community dinners was held recently at the beach home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Drake. The group plans to assemble once a month, taking turns entertaining in each house. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton Owens and daughter, Roberta, and son, Lee; Don Carr, Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley and daughter, Virginia; Mrs. E. B. Drake and daughters, June and Marylyn, Mrs. Mary Holgate and Mrs. S. H. Neil and daughters, Jeanne and Marian.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

On Ozone Island all the bunch soon landed. One said, "I've a hunch that we will see some strange things here. Let's start to walk around.

"The trees seem funny as can be. They're just like clouds, if you ask me. I hope some friendly person very shortly will be found."

Then Scouty said, "A hike's all right, but first let's fix our log real tight. You see, we may not want to stay on this place very long.

"If we find there is nothing here, or find something that will cause fear, we'll want to come back to our log and travel right along."

And so, they pushed the log into the island. "There, that ought to do," said Dotty. "Now, come follow me. I'll gladly take the lead.

"I'm just a wee bit frightened. Yet, there's no real cause for it, I'll bet. If we all hope to see new sights, it's courage that we need."

They walked for just a little while and then one Tiny, with a smile, said, "I just felt one of the trees. Each one is just a cloud."

"For goodness sakes, don't touch them then. We'll get into a mess again," said Coppy. "How do we know? Maybe touching's not allowed.

Just then the Tinies heard a sound and, as they turned and looked around, two little fellows ran out from behind a great big tree.

"Well, who are you?" said Goldy. "Say, we hope that you'll join us in play. We hoped that we would find someone. We're happy as can be."

"I'm Rattle," one wee man replied. "I'm Rumble, miss," the other cried. "We're servants of the Thunder Man, who lives here in the sky.

"If you would like to meet him, you must do just as we say to do. Then we will gladly introduce you to him, by and by."

CLEAN FOOTBALL by JOCK SUTHERLAND

FAMOUS PITT COACH

A LOT of dirty football players are experts in their line. They can pull off unfair tricks in a pile-up that the keenest-eyed referee cannot detect.

A good knowledge of self-defense is valuable to a player, if he is playing against just such an opponent. A fellow who can roll away from a punch and throw his opponent off balance can put him down under the pile-up.

I don't mean to advocate an "eye for eye" policy in this connection, but I do believe that a dirty player who persists in punching all through a hard-fought football game should be punished when he is guilty and after his offenses have been ignored repeatedly by officials.

Sketch shows how to avoid a straight punch and upset the opponent with a low charge.

TWO SONGFESTS ON KREG PROGRAM

Two 15-minute song-fests are programmed for 6:15 and at 7:30 tonight on KREG, presenting the Twilight Serenaders and Ned Lewis and Hal McCormac.

The Serenaders, a popular vocal quartet, are Al Hanson, Homer Wood, Russell Wood and Wayne Wood, accompanied by Jack Thornton. Their program for tonight includes the following favorites: "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Little Green Valley," "At the End of the Lane," Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" and 'Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland." They are receiving many requests from their listeners for the popular ballads of many years standing and for their own compositions which are being received with great approval.

Ned Lewis, baritone, and Hal McCormac, pianist, at 7:30 tonight will offer a program of "music that satisfies." Lewis will sing: "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," Westendorf; "Caro Mio Ben," Giordani; and "Kashmiri Song," Amy Woodforde-Finden. Hal McCormac will offer two piano numbers written by recognized, master-composers.

OUTSTANDING MEN IN NEWS FEATURES

Considered as one of the most interesting features of the weekly radio broadcast the program presented over KREG under the title "People Who Make News" will be unusually interesting tonight. On the air at 7:45 this feature will offer discussion of personalities outstanding in today's news of the world.

Among the interesting personalities to be discussed tonight will be he "enemy to public enemies," better known as Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney-general in charge of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice. His method of operation will be discussed along with the many threats he has received, his personality, his estimation of today's criminals.

Among other notables to be discussed are Gov. Robert H. Gore of Puerto Rico; Albert Sarraut, new premier of France and Mustapha Kemal, president of Turkey.

OLD COMPOSITIONS WILL BE FEATURED

Tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock old compositions of rare beauty will be sung by Estella Wyman over KREG during presentation of "The Music Portfolio" program.

All the numbers to be sung by Miss Wyman were written in the '60's and express the feeling of that era. Included in her selections will be "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," written in 1864 by Kittredge;" "The Unfinished Prayer," written by Thompson in 1865; McNaughton's "Belle Mahone," written in 1867; and two compositions of 1869, one "The Bashful Young Lady," by Glover, and "Tapping at the Garden Gate" by Hitchcock.

RADIO FEATURES

AUXILIARY OF COUNTY MEDICS HOLDS MEETING

ANAHEIM, Nov. 8.—Responding with enthusiasm to the invitation of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Orange County Medical association, 250 guests gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnston of Anaheim yesterday afternoon for a musicale tea and fashion review that was put on for the benefit of the medical student scholarship fund.

In the receiving line greeting the guests were Mrs. C. S. O'Toole, president of the Auxiliary who wore a formal afternoon gown of black crepe and metallic cloth, Mrs. H. A. Johnston, in a black velvet and metallic cloth gown and Mrs. F. E. Coulter of Santa Ana, chairman of the ways and means committee, who wore a becoming frock of rose red crepe. Dainty corsages further enhanced the charm of their costumes as they did on the formal afternoon frocks of the ushers who looked after the comfort of the guests.

Special guests of honor for the occasion were Mrs. James Percy of Los Angeles, junior past president of the national Auxiliary and Mrs. Phillip Doane of Pasadena, state president elect. They were introduced by Mrs. O'Toole and each responded with a brief talk in which they likened the local group to the "crowning jewel in the state diadem."

Guest artists for the musicale were introduced by Mrs. Coulter and the first group of numbers was sung by Robert L. Brown, baritone, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong, the latter also accompanying Margaret Gaebe Fletcher, reader.

Mr. Brown sang "My Love I Like the Red, Red Rose" by Stephen Adams, "Gypsy Love Song" by Herbert and "Glorious Devon" by Cuthbert.

In the first of his two groups Clarence Gustlin, noted pianist, played "Caprice Viennois" by Kreisler, "Minuet" by Paderewski and "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff. As an encore he played his own composition, "Springtime Waltz." His second group of numbers included three Liezt compositions, "Sposalizio," "Hark! Hark! the Lark" and "Rigoletto Paraphrase."

Appearing in colonial costume Mrs. Fletcher gave delightful characterizations on "Dame Fashion" by Peyke, "A Lesson with the Fan" by D'Hardelot and as an encore, "A Fly in Church."

An interesting feature of the fashion show was the jewelry worn by the models from the private collection of Mrs. E. J. Whitman of Long Beach. Gowns from the Mary Millerick shop showed the latest trend in morning and sports wear, afternoon, dinner and evening gowns. Le Petit trio, including Anna May Archer, Ray Archer and Robert Forcey played for the fashion hour.

Guests were then invited to partake of the delectable refreshments at the tea tables, one being in the dining room where Mrs. O'Toole and Mrs. F. L. Chapline poured and the other in the sunporch overlooking the patio where Mrs. C. C. Violett and Mrs. J. Luther Maroon were behind the silver tea urns. Mrs. H. D. Newkirk was hostess in the former room and Mrs. J. I. Clark in the latter.

Both tea tables were centered with large baskets of flowers in the autumn colors and lighted tapers while the drawing room held several large baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

GIRLS' CLASS IN OLD TIME PROGRAM

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 8. — An old-fashioned sing, held recently at the Methodist church, drew a large attendance, the program being presented under the auspices of the girls' Sunday school class of Mrs. James Lewis.

Coal oil lamps were used in lighting, showing to advantage the old-fashioned costumes of the entertainers. Harry Letson was master of ceremonies. An organ was used throughout the musical program. Vases of old-fashioned patterns were used for the flowers which decorated the auditorium.

The church choir presented special numbers. Quartet composed of J. R. Peterson, Conrad Worthy, J. W. McIntosh and John Murdy, and Mrs. Eva Friends. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Applebury and Mrs. R. Applebury entertained. The girls' class sang and Maxine Murdy presented a solo number. "In an Old Fashioned Garden." The Misses Susan and Isabelle Russell gave a duet number and Wesley Matson, a violin solo.

JUNIOR EBELL CLUB IN FIRST MEET OF YEAR

ANAHEIM, Nov. 8.—Faith in the younger generation because of its growing desire to know more about the conflicting questions of the world and the entanglements that the nations have been led into Mrs. Earl E. Smith last night talked upon "The Younger Generation and World Conflicts as Seen Through Books" when she addressed the first regular meeting of the Junior Ebell club at the home of its president, Mrs. Richard Glover, 738 North Lemon street.

American young people are more eagerly turning their attention to the social and economic upheaval that the world is now living in. In the past they have been accused of thinking of nothing but intercollegiate activities and that it was the students of Europe, particularly in England and Germany who have thought along more serious lines.

Reviewing the present political situation abroad and the danger that lies just ahead, that will bring on another world war if serious disturbance breaks out in Central Europe, the speaker talked on the dictatorships of Russia, Germany and Italy and reviewed the history of Germany's present behavior.

She recommended the reading of such books as "Germany Enters the Third Reich," Hitler's own story, by Battle, "The Challenge of Europe," by Sherwood Eddy, "Nazi Program in Germany," by Benz.

"Germany has gone completely militeristic," the speaker declared, "and it will be a miracle if a desperate conflict does not come out of it."

She recommended such other recent books as "The Crime of Cuba," by Peal, "Chinese Destiny," by Agner Smedly, "All Men Are Brothers" as translated by Pearl Buck and "Imperial Incense."

Miss Bettina Whitney gave an interesting group of poetry interpretation numbers immediately preceding Mrs. Smith's talk.

During the business session Mrs. Cortez Hoskins and Mrs. John B. Kennedy were elected representatives at large to the executive board.

Miss Dora Gene Golder was appointed historian and Miss Dorothy Yungbluth social service chairman.

On November 15 those interested in the arts and handicrafts section will meet for organization purposes while the next general meeting will be on December 5 when the local group will be guests of the Junior Ebell club in Santa Ana.

"GYPSY" SMITH TALKS TO 2000 IN TABERNACLE

ANAHEIM, Nov. 8.—Sending out another lesson of love and human kindness "Gypsy" Smith, evangelist, last night told his congregation of 2000 that the Holy Spirit and Holy Ghost is only given to those who will pay.

"I wish that I could burn all of your old church creeds," he cried, "and make you begin again at the foot of the Cross. How dare you say so smugly, 'I'm a Methodist, a Presbyterian,' or of any other creed."

The most damning sin of all, he told the people, is that of rejecting God. It is more damning than thievery, drunkenness, adultery and that one sin alone is enough to damn you, he said as he pointed out that the great majority of people worship God with their lips and not with their hearts.

"No man knows Jesus except as he is taught by the Holy Ghost is the most surprising quality he sees Him through the eyes of the Holy Spirit and the Holy Grost is the most surprising quality outside heaven or in it."

He told those of a worldly mind that he is not a hired man, but God's servant and that he has to tell them the things that God directs him to or "you would despise me if I was afraid." Some people say that he is possessed with personal magnetism, brillance of mind and tongue, Smith said, but denied it when he called out, "I call it the Holy Spirit in me, power from on high and I give Him the glory for it is Jesus, not I."

Men and women are lifeless and dull when there is no Holy Spirit in them for when He puts the life of love in you then it will light your eyes. The Holy Ghost will be revealled to the world by those who possess the divine gift, and it can only live in you when you are worth living in. The Holy Grost cannot live in a man or woman that is ill-tempered, that double crosses his fellow man, that lies or that wilfully harms another, the evangelist said.

He urged those who believe in God to carry the message about the world for there are many who are waiting for a kind world. "If you have anything good to tell then tell it. I couldn't go through the day without talking about Jesus for how is the world to be saved unless someone tells about him.

The fruit of the spirit is love, joy and peace and those who know little of it want to know more.

Turning his attention again to the church as it is today he declared that nothing can be done properly within it unless the Holy Spirit dwells there. In most churches you'll hear only one sermon on the Holy Spirit to a hundred on other subjects, he said.

"The church needs a resurrection and if you want things done on spiritual lines you must have them done in a spiritual way.

CAR INSURANCE BIDS RECEIVED BY CITY BOARD

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—Bids were received by the city council at the meeting Tuesday evening for the insurance on city vehicles. The bids were referred to a committee for report next Tuesday, at which time the council will hold a special session for awarding the insurance.

It was voted that the La Habra council send $5 dues to the Orange County League of Municipalities. A communication from R. E. Launer, fire chief, stated that the fire department had received a number of calls this month from residents outside the city limits to extinguish blazes in palm trees.

No more calls outside the city for such fires will be made unless the surrounding property is in immediate danger according to the chief's letter.

A deed was received from Mrs. Delpha Redfern and members of her family, giving to the city 10 feet across the rear of lots 1 to 8 inclusive in tract 100 for an alley.

City Engineer J. B. Sanks was granted permission to proceed with the oiling of the alley north of Erna avenue between Haxel and Lois streets.

The sanitary committee was instructed to investigate dairy conditions within the city limits.

Woman's Club In Party On Friday

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 8.—The Midway City Woman's club is taking over the regular public card parties which the Midway City Chamber of Commerce has sponsored, the first of the series to be held Friday evening at the clubhouse. The returns from the parties go toward the clubhouse debt.

It is the intention of the club to hold the parties each second and fourth Friday evenings of the month. Mrs. B. L. Kirkham, club chairman, Mrs. W. E. Moore, club president, and Mrs. William Schmidt will act as hostesses at Friday's party.

Offer Of Water System Rejected

BARBER CITY, Nov. 8.—At a mass meeting held by property owners of Barber City the offer of W. L. Russell, Long Beach, who furnishes water to the community, that Barber City take over the system, was rejected by the residents who felt that the expense of operating the plant would be too great.

A pot-luck community supper was held the same evening at the clubhouse by the Woman's club.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Stock market traders chose the final hour today to push prices forward and under active trading, with tickers getting as much as 5 minutes behind the market, prices jumped 1 to more than 6 points.

The rise in the share markets accompanied an active upswing in commodity markets, wheat gaining more htan 2 cents a bushel and cotton showing an advance of around $1.50 a bale. Trading picked up in all commodity markets, particularly from the eastern operators.

There was little reason for the late rally although, according to the old versions of reading the monetary market, a rise was due as the United States dollar dropped rapidly in foreign exchange trading. All foreign currencies showed strength, many touching all time highs. The Franc reached 6.17¾c and the pound sterling went to $4.95½. The Canadian dollar was at a premium.

The strength in the share market did not parallel the foreign exchange market ,for foreign currencies started jumping from the opening while for the first four hours the share market drifted under light trading. There were favorable and unfavorable reports. Among the favorable were an extra dividend by Seaboard Oil, a cotton report showing a smaller crop than private estimators had figured on although still above the October 1 estimate, and a new high price for silver metal Meantime electric power production showed the smallest advance in several weeks.

CITES SPOILED BALLOTS; BOARD MEETS MONDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, No. 8, —John Whitfield, chairman of the Willis Warner campaign in the municipal election here Monday, stated today that he would ask the city council for a recount when that body meets Monday night to canvas the election returns.

Whitfield said that the request for a recount did not mean an attack on the record of the election clerks and judges, but that the expense would be light and there was a reason for making the request.

He gave as the reason the claim that many spoiled ballots were thrown out. He pointed out that the ballots were so printed that when folded by the voter, the line on which folding occurred made the names of Warner and Tom Talbert, who was elected by 14 ballots, fold one over the other.

In this way the stamp used in the voting booths and used on a wet pad, would blur so badly as to create a doubt as to which was the X and which the impression made by folding the ballot, he said. One candidate got the stamped X and the other got an impression or reprint of the rubber stamped X from the wet ink, he said.

Whitfield said that in fairness to both candidates there should be a recount and a close scrutiny of the ballots to determine if the spoiled ballots could be credited to any candidate. As there were only two names on the ballot, the recount would take comparatively a short time, he said.

WESTMINSTER P.-T. A. SIGNS 146 MEMBERS

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 8.—The membership contest which closed Monday evening with the second P.-T.A. meeting of the term, brought in 146 members and resulted in a tie for the two contesting sides captained by Mrs. B. B. Brown and Mrs. A. B. Crane, each having 73 members.

A pot-luck supper will be held November 20, it was announced. Mrs. Fred Cook won the prize of a P.-T.A. pin and a subscription to the P.-T.A. magazine for securing 22 members, while Miss Nellie French, who was second with 16 members, was given the magazine. Mrs. Carson secured 13 members and Mrs. William Broyles, 10. Mrs. J. H. McGuire was presented with a quilt.

The P.-T.A. agreed to assume the expense of the examination of children's eyes and the purchase of glasses for those not able to finance this, to the extent of $35. This move was made following the talk of Dr. Russell I. Johnson, local school examiner, who stated that the majority of children in Westminster school are in need of glasses. The number of children with poor hearing also was stressed. Dr. Johnson also spoke on the general work among tuberculosis patients throughout the country.

Mrs. Margaret Prindle, music chairman for the P.-T.A. requested the organization to furnish the music for the newly organized Community chorus working under the auspices of the P.-T.A., the amount to be repaid from the door receipts of the musical program planned by the chorus for the Christmas season. Mrs. R. C. Pritchard was appointed secretary of the study group.

Dr. Cecil D. Hardesty is to be in charge of the December program and stated he would like to have it an all-community affair in the local park.

Mrs. Marvin, Fourth district P.-T.A. president, spoke on "Character Training in Childhood." Mildred Robertson gave a piano solo, Francis J. Dell of the faculty spoke on "Safety Devises in the Home"; Donald Melvin presented two vocal numbers, "Mother McChree" and "Love's Old, Sweet Song." Miss Nellie Franch is program chairman.

An Indian frieze, the free hand drawing of Mrs. Ethel Paulk's intermediate grades of Hoover school, was shown by Mrs. Paulk.

New Pastor For Cypress Church

CYPRESS, Nov. 8.—The Rev. H. J. Ransom has been named pastor of the Cypress Nazarene church on Walker street. The Rev. Mr. Ransom replaces the Rev. H. Isham, who was transferred recently to Elcarte, Kans. Mrs. Ransom plans to organize a choir and orchestra. Church Appreciation day was observed Sunday.

MINNESOTA WELL IN H. B. OIL FIELD FLOWING 2400 BARRELS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8. —The Minnesota Oil company well on Nineteenth street near Olive instead of being a pumper, is a big gusher. It began flowing yesterday at the rate of a hundred barrels an hour and the flow is steady. It has just enough gas to force the big stream of oil into the tanks. Wallace and Shultz, owners of the well, had to rent additional storage yesterday. The conservation committee has allowed the well 300 barrels a day for the rest of November. The oil is 26 gravity and clean. The well is being beaned back to produce its allowable.

Owing to the major companies refusing to take Huntington Beach oil, pipe line outlets of the field are closed and the oil has to be trucked out. The Coast highway is roaring night and day under the enormous traffic of the huge trucks and trailers.

A truck and trailer means an investment of about $10,000 for the sort of trucks they are using. A loaded truck and trailer transports 100 to 120 barrels of oil in the two tanks. The rate is six cents a barrel to Long Beach independent refineries. This means about $6 a load for transportation.

About 20,000 barrels a day, the full townlot field allotment, moves out of this city daily in truck loads.

POST VOTES TO JOIN CLUB IN BUILDING SITE

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—The second important step towards the proposed civic center was taken at the meeting of the American Legion post Monday evening, when they voted unanimously to join with the Kiwanis club in the purchase of property at the corner of Orange and Erna avenues for the erection of a library building and American Legion Hall.

The property consists of 140 on the north side of Erna avenue adjoining and east of the present city property on which the city fire station stands. The 50-foot lot adjoining the city property was donated to the Kiwanis club by Mrs. Anna C. Launer and the 60 foot lot adjoining this property on the east, being the corner of Orange and Erna avenues, was offered to the same body at a purchase price of $1000. This leaves a 30-foot strip for the widening of Orange avenue. The Kiwanis club accepted the offer at the meeting last week and the matter of a Legion hall was presented to them by L. H. Brewer of the Kiwanis club and Legion.

The Legion members instructed their commander, A. J. Cookerly, Adjutant L. E. Proud and Finance Officer L. H. Brewer to begin work at once with the Kiwanis club in the purchase of the lot for a Legion hall.

Sterling M. Hood, chairman of the membership committee, reported that the post had met its quota now having 20 paid up members.

L. H. Brewer of the Scout committee reported that the Boy Scout work in La Habra was progressing satisfactorily under Scoutmaster Joe Severns and Paul Blocher, assistant.

An invitation from the Rev. T. C. Jordan, asking the Legion members to attend services on Armistice Sunday at the Baptist church either in a body or an individuals, was accepted.

Farewell Party Held For Couple

HANSEN, Nov. 8.—When Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones were summoned to the home of Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom one evening recently, they were pleasantly surprised to find assembled there a group of friends who had planned a farewell party in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are moving to Tucson, Ariz., this week.

Mrs. Jones was presented with a memorandum book, in which all of the guests inscribed appropriate verses and signed their names.

After an evening of cards and other games, refreshments were served by Mrs. Nordstrom to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sawtelle, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Lukens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. William Porter and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Social Held By Friendship Class

BUENA PARK, Nov. 8.—Members of the Friendship Sunday school class of the Congregational church held their rekular social meeting and study period in the church Tuesday. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Vivian Wendel, Mrs. Bobst and Mrs. Myrtle White.

At the conclusion of luncheon a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Betty Schofield, president of the class, presided over a short business session. The study period, which is under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Rayburn, was devoted to questions and answers.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. LaRue C. Watson, Mrs. Gertrude Sanbury, Mrs. Pauline Henderson, Mrs. Aleta Edwards, Mrs. Vernon Crisswell, Mrs. Doris Spohn, Mrs. Bertha Spohn, Mrs. Sue Pierce, Mrs. Homer Kreps, Miss Louise Albright, Miss Katherine Magnuson, Miss Katherine Smith, Mrs. Redq Lemmert, Mrs. Robert Erwin, Mrs. Grace Moffett, Mrs. James Swann, Mrs. Eleanore Jones, Mrs. Betty Schofield.

SPEAKERS TELL ADVANTAGES OF CO-OPERATION

BREA, Nov. 8.—Calvin Ewing and J. A. Twindell, representing the Central Labor council of Orange county; the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, speaking on behalf of the Orange County Regional council and the Citizen's Protective league; C. C. Kinsler, city judge of Brea, and Jack Kerr, of Anaheim, all spoke before the Unemployed Workers' association Tuesday night.

The power of organization and co-operation was stressed by each speaker, Twindell advising that all ally themselves with some craft or labor organization or, at least, with some co-operative unit. Ewing urged every unemployed person to register at the office of the United States Re-Employment bureau and explained some of the advantages to be had by so doing.

Gaylord, commending the NRA movement as fas as it has gone, pointed out the need of enforcing the principles involved in the act and the necessity of co-operation and mutual service in securing a more equitable distribution of goods and income in the country, not in a revolutionary sense but as a simple economic principle.

Invitations were given to the members to attend the meetings of all organizations represented by the speakers and several plan to attend these meetings soon. George Himes, chairman, presided.

RANCHER USES HUGE PLOW ON BEAN PROPERTY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8. —Urban Plavan, who is farming over 500 acres of bean land near Huntington Beach, has designed his own plow for use this autumn in breaking up the bean lands. The plow breaks two furrows at a time and plows to a depth of 22 inches. The spread across the two furrows is 44 inches.

The deep plowing lifts a new soil to the surface. Plavan used the plow, or one blade of a similar plow, in experimental work last year on 75 acres of bean land. The crop on that 75 acres was so much better than on any other land of the surrounding 500 acres, that he had the huge plow made this year and is plowing the entire 500 acres with the big double plow.

The usual furrow is from eight to 14 inches deep. Two years ago Plavan's brother used a plow that cut a furrow four feet deep. This plow was fine for destroying Burmuda grass on lands that had been overrun with the grass, but it was found the soil at that depth impoverished the upper stratas of soil and cut down the crop production.

The new plow does not disturb the soil below the fertility area and Plavan and other farmers who watched the experiment last year claim that the deep plowing is almost equal to fertilization. The plow is drawn by a 60-horse power tractor.

New Eastern Star Officers Elected At San Clemente

NEW PASTOR

Prof. David McKinley Sayers, new pastor of the Church of Christ in La Habra, who is responsible for church building program.

WORK ON NEW CHURCH SLATED TO BEGIN SOON

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—With the present Church of Christ building at Cypress and First streets scheduled to be remodeled into an educational structure, work on a new church building will get under way soon, it was announced.

The foundation for the remodeled building has been completed and the church will be moved onto the foundation shortly. Workers are now constructing stone blocks for the new building, which will be 40 by 50 feet in size.

The church is growing in numbers under the direction of David McKinley Sayers, A.B., M.A., B.D., a professor at the Pacific Bible seminary in Long Beach. Professor Sayers has had 12 years college training besides wide experience as college instructor.

Professor Sayers launched a campaign for a new auditorium and larger educational facilities immediately upon taking over the work in La Habra recently.

Sunday at 11 a.m. the pastor will speak on "Rebuilding the Walls" and at 7:30 p.m. his topic will be "The Glory of the Kingdom." Sunday school is held at 9:45 a.m. under the supervision of E. E. Keith. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the services.

Children Attend Birthday Party

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 8.—Observing the anniversaries of her two children, Edwin, 6, and Dorothy, 5, Mrs. E. J. Mossinger entertained with a party at her Midway City home recently. Two cakes covered with vari-colored candles centered the long table. Prizes were awarded in games and each child received a toy balloon.

Attending were, besides the two honorees, Edwin and Dorothy Mossinger, Bobbie and Patricia Heath, Jimmie and Florence Dale, Sammy Joyce, Floreta and Garland Barnett, Patty Pearl Meairs, Joyce Campbell, David Stone, Billy and Jean Johnson, Bobbie and Billy Miller, Loraine Beckman, Nell Foley, Mary Ellen Pritchard, Dorothy and Peggy Miller, Gerald Clough, Mary Louise and Park Johnson, of Whittier.

Needy Families Get Rail Ties

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 8.—Used railway ties are to be given to the unemployed here for winter fuel by the Santa Fe company. In reply to a request from Dan Mulherron, president of the chamber of commerce, L. H. Tuttle, superintendent, expressed the company's willingness to leave old ties for the needy. Those in need must get permission to take them away by applying at the chamber of commerce office.

LIONS OF MESA TOLD HISTORY OF INSURANCE

COSTA MESA, Nov. 8.—Yearly losses by fire in the United States have reached the staggering figure of one half billion dollars, Paul Ragan of Santa Ana, said in a talk before the Lions club of Costa Mesa Tuesday on "A History of Insurance."

Early fire insurance companies practically all supported fire brigades, Ragan said, but fire losses mounted so fast that a National Fire Underwriters association was formed which branched out into every phase of fire control until now instead of every company supporting a research department, all standard companies are banded under one head along this line. The it is virtually a public service, he system has come to the place where stated.

Ragan was introduced by Judge C. B. Diehl, program chairman for the day.

Sheriff Logan Jackson spoke briefly. He was introduced by County Auditor W. T. Lambert. Warren K. Hilliard, county surveyor, of Santa Ana, made a short talk.

During the business period of the meeting it was decided to make the November 28 meeting of the club a Thanksgiving affair, with club members and their wives present. On that date Captain Don Wilkie will be the main speaker. President Leroy Anderson was in charge of the meeting.

HARBOR PROJECT OUTLINED AT LAGUNA BEACH LUNCHEON

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 8. —The low cost to the taxpayers of Orange county, if a $640,500 bond issue is passed to help out the Newport harbor project, was stressed by R. L. Patterson, city engineer of Newport Beach, in a talk yesterday noon at the regular chamber of commerce luncheon held in the main dining room of the Hotel Laguna.

The average payment over a 30-year period, of principal and interest, he said, would be about $34,000, and would cost the taxpayer 2.6 cents on each $100 of valuation, or 26 cents on property assessed at $1000. It is likely, Patterson said, that at the hearing November 14 the board of supervisors will set the election on the bond issue for December 19, the date of the state water election, so as to save the taxpayers about $10,000 in election costs.

Patterson explained that the government is giving about two dollars for each one expended by the county for the improvement of the harbor. It being a federal project, the government will expend money in the future to keep the channel open. The engineer explained the project in some detail from a map. He informed the meeting that the project will be handled by the United States Army district engineer.

Mrs. Ada E. Purpus, in a plea for the Red Cross Roll call, which is under way this week, told that while in October, 1932, 189 families were being helped by the local welfare committee, in October of this year 280 families were aided, and a larger percentage of the members of the families needed help. Declaring that objection had been raised to sending 50 cents of the dollar membership fee to national Red Cross headquarters, Mrs. Purpus pointed out that more money was sent into the Long Beach and Santa Ana area following the earthquake of March 10 than had been sent to the National Red Cross from the entire state of California last year.

Capt. George A. Portus, executive secretary, who presided, said that the efforts of the Chamber had resulted in the saving of $4449 per year to gas consumers in Laguna Beach. A full report will be made at the evening dinner-meeting to be held November 14.

It was voted to request the stores of Laguna Beach to remain closed from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Armistice day.

George C. Macloed, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly.

ARRANGE PROGRAM FOR MASONS' LODGE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 8. —The regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held November 14, when Mrs. Terry Stephenson, of Santa Ana, county chairman of history and landmarks, will discuss early history of California and Orange county. Special music is being arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Marian Miller.

Miss Sarah Whitfield, president, and Mrs. Sylvia Conrad, delegatee, will leave following the meeting for La Jolla to attend the southern district convention of women's clubs.

Dinner Is Held At Sunset Beach

SUNSET BEACH, Nov. 8 — The first of a series of community dinners was held recently at the beach home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Drake. The group plans to assemble once a month, taking turns entertaining in each house. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton Owens and daughter, Roberta, and son, Lee; Don Carr, Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley and daughter, Virginia; Mrs. E. B. Drake and daughters, June and Marylyn, Mrs. Mary Holgate and Mrs. S. H. Neil and daughters, Jeanne and Marian.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

On boulevard, a half acre, 5-room stucco house, and imagine—$2650—and they might take your car; 6504 Orange, the city of homes, offers us a six-room modern house with only $1400 against it, and they want an acre or two in exchange. They'd try farming in a small way if you're willing, so if you are tired of it here's an opportunity. (Get our free rental list.)

TWO SONGFESTS ON KREG PROGRAM

Two 15-minute song-fests are programmed for 6:15 and at 7:30 tonight on KREG, presenting the Twilight Serenaders and Ned Lewis and Hal McCormac.

The Serenaders, a popular vocal quartet, are Al Hanson, Homer Wood, Russell Wood and Wayne Wood, accompanied by Jack Thornton. Their program for tonight includes the following favorites: "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Little Green Valley," "At the End of the Lane," Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" and 'Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland." They are receiving many requests from their listeners for the popular ballads of many years standing and for their own compositions which are being received with great approval.

Ned Lewis, baritone, and Hal McCormac, pianist, at 7:30 tonight will offer a program of "music that satisfies." Lewis will sing: "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," Westendorf; "Caro Mio Ben," Giordani; and "Kashmiri Song," Amy Woodforde-Finden. Hal McCormac will offer two piano numbers written by recognized, master-composers.

OUTSTANDING MEN IN NEWS FEATURES

Considered as one of the most interesting features of the weekly radio broadcast the program presented over KREG under the title "People Who Make News" will be unusually interesting tonight. On the air at 7:45 this feature will offer discussion of personalities outstanding in today's news of the world.

Among the interesting personalities to be discussed tonight will be he "enemy to public enemies," better known as Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney-general in charge of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice. His method of operation will be discussed along with the many threats he has received, his personality, his estimation of today's criminals.

Among other notables to be discussed are Gov. Robert H. Gore of Puerto Rico; Albert Sarraut, new premier of France and Mustapha Kemal, president of Turkey.

OLD COMPOSITIONS WILL BE FEATURED

Tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock old compositions of rare beauty will be sung by Estella Wyman over KREG during presentation of "The Music Portfolio" program.

All the numbers to be sung by Miss Wyman were written in the '60's and express the feeling of that era. Included in her selections will be "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," written in 1864 by Kittredge;" "The Unfinished Prayer," written by Thompson in 1865; McNaughton's "Belle Mahone," written in 1867; and two compositions of 1869, one "The Bashful Young Lady," by Glover, and "Tapping at the Garden Gate" by Hitchcock.

AUXILIARY OF COUNTY MEDICS HOLDS MEETING

ANAHEIM, Nov. 8.—Responding with enthusiasm to the invitation of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Orange County Medical association, 250 guests gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnston of Anaheim yesterday afternoon for a musicale tea and fashion review that was put on for the benefit of the medical student scholarship fund.

In the receiving line greeting the guests were Mrs. C. S. O'-Toole, president of the Auxiliary who wore a formal afternoon gown of black crepe and metallic cloth, Mrs. H. A. Johnston, in a black velvet and metallic cloth gown and Mrs. F. E. Coulter of Santa Ana, chairman of the ways and means committee, who wore a becoming frock of rose red crepe. Dainty corsages further enhanced the charm of their costumes as they did on the formal afternoon frocks of the ushers who looked after the comfort of the guests.

Special guests of honor for the occasion were Mrs. James Percy of Los Angeles, junior past president of the national Auxiliary and Mrs. Phillip Doane of Pasadena, state president elect. They were introduced by Mrs. O'Toole and each responded with a brief talk in which they likened the local group to the "crowning jewel in the state diadem."

Guest artists for the musicale were introduced by Mrs. Coulter and the first group of numbers was sung by Robert L. Brown, baritone, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong, the latter also accompanying Margaret Gaebe Fletcher, reader.

Mr. Brown sang "My Love I Like the Red, Red Rose" by Stephen Adams, "Gypsy Love Song" by Herbert and "Glorious Devon" by Cuthbert.

In the first of his two groups Clarence Gustlin, noted pianist, played "Caprice Viennois" by Kreisler, "Minuet" by Paderewski and "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff. As an encore he played his own composition, "Springtime Waltz." His second group of numbers included three Liszt compositions, "Sposalizio," "Hark! Hark! the Lark" and "Rigoletto Paraphrase."

Appearing in colonial costume Mrs. Fletcher gave delightful characterizations on "Dame Fashion" by Peyke, "A Lesson with the Fan" by D'Hardelot and as an encore, "A Fly in Church."

An interesting feature of the fashion show was the jewelry worn by the models from the private collection of Mrs. E. J. Whitman of Long Beach. Gowns from the Mary Millerick shop showed the latest trend in morning and sports wear, afternoon, dinner and evening gowns. Le Petit trio, including Anna May Archer, Ray Archer and Robert Forcey played for the fashion hour.

Guests were then invited to partake of the delectable refreshments at the tea tables, one being in the dining room where Mrs. O'Toole and Mrs. F. L. Chapline poured and the other in the sunporch overlooking the patio where Mrs. C. C. Violett and Mrs. J. Luther Maroon were behind the silver tea urns. Mrs. H. D. Newkirk was hostess in the former room and Mrs. J. I. Clark in the latter.

Both tea tables were centered with large baskets of flowers in the autumn colors and lighted tapers while the drawing room held several large baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

GIRLS' CLASS IN OLD TIME PROGRAM

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 8. — An old-fashioned sing, held recently at the Methodist church, drew a large attendance, the program being presented under the auspices of the girls' Sunday school class of Mrs. James Lewis.

Coal oil lamps were used in lighting, showing to advantage the old-fashioned costumes of the entertainers. Harry Letson was master of ceremonies. An organ was used throughout the musical program. Vases of old-fashioned patterns were used for the flowers which decorated the auditorium.

The church choir presented special numbers. Quartet composed of J. R. Peterson, Conrad Worthy, J. W. McIntosh and John Murdy, and Mrs. Eva Friends. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Applebury and Mrs. R. Applebury entertained. The girls' class sang and Maxine Murdy presented a solo number. "In an Old Fashioned Garden." The Misses Susan and Isabelle Russell gave a duet number and Wesley Matson, a violin solo.

JUNIOR EBELL CLUB IN FIRST MEET OF YEAR

ANAHEIM, Nov. 8.—Faith in the younger generation because of its growing desire to know more about the conflicting questions of the world and the entanglements that the nations have been led into Mrs. Earl E. Smith last night talked upon "The Younger Generation and World Conflicts as Seen Through Books" when she addressed the first regular meeting of the Junior Ebell club at the home of its president, Mrs. Richard Glover, 738 North Lemon street.

American young people are more eagerly turning their attention to the social and economic upheaval that the world is now living in. In the past they have been accused of thinking of nothing but intercollegiate activities and that it was the students of Europe, particularly in England and Germany who have thought along more serious lines.

Reviewing the present political situation abroad and the danger that lies just ahead, that will bring on another world war if serious disturbance breaks out in Central Europe, the speaker talked on the dictatorships of Russia, Germany and Italy and reviewed the history of Germany's present behavior.

She recommended the reading of such books as "Germany Enters the Third Reich," Hitler's own story, by Battle, "The Challenge of Europe," by Sherwood Eddy, "Nazi Program in Germany," by Benz.

"Germany has gone completely militeristic," the speaker declared, "and it will be a miracle if a desperate conflict does not come out of it."

She recommended such other recent books as "The Crime of Cuba," by Peal, "Chinese Destiny," by Agner Smedly, "All Men Are Brothers" as translated by Pearl Buck and "Imperial Incense."

Miss Bettina Whitney gave an interesting group of poetry interpretation numbers immediately preceding Mrs. Smith's talk.

During the business session Mrs. Cortez Hoskins and Mrs. John B. Kennedy were elected representatives at large to the executive board.

Miss Dora Gene Golder was appointed historian and Miss Dorothy Yungbluth social service chairman.

On November 15 those interested in the arts and handicrafts section will meet for organization purposes while the next general meeting will be on December 5 when the local group will be guests of the Junior Ebell club in Santa Ana.

"GYPSY" SMITH TALKS TO 2000 IN TABERNACLE

ANAHEIM, Nov. 8.—Sending out another lesson of love and human kindness "Gypsy" Smith, evangelist, last night told his congregation of 2000 that the Holy Spirit and Holy Ghost is only given to those who will pay.

"I wish that I could burn all of your old church creeds," he cried, "and make you begin again at the foot of the Cross. How dare you say so smugly, 'I'm a Methodist, a Presbyterian,' or of any other creed."

The most damning sin of all, he told the people, is that of rejecting God. It is more damning than thievery, drunkenness, adultery and that one sin alone is enough to damn you, he said as he pointed out that the great majority of people worship God with their lips and not with their hearts.

"No man knows Jesus except as he is taught by the Holy Ghost is the most surprising quality outside heaven or in it."

He told those of a worldly mind that he is not a hired man, but God's servant and that he has to tell them the things that God directs him to or "you would despise me if I was afraid." Some people say that he is possessed with personal magnetism, brillance of mind and tongue, Smith said, but denied it when he called out, "I call it the Holy Spirit in me, power from on high and I give Him the glory for it is Jesus, not I."

Men and women are lifeless and dull when there is no Holy Spirit in them for when He puts the life of love in you then it will light your eyes. The Holy Ghost will be revealled to the world by those who possess the divine gift, and it can only live in you when you are worth living in. The Holy Grost cannot live in a man or woman that is ill-tempered, that double crosses his fellow man, that lies or that wilfully harms another, the evangelist said.

He urged those who believe in God to carry the message about the world for there are many who are waiting for a kind world. "If you have anything good to tell then tell it. I couldn't go through the day without talking about Jesus for how is the world to be saved unless someone tells about him.

The fruit of the spirit is love, joy and peace and those who know little of it want to know more.

Turning his attention again to the church as it is today he declared that nothing can be done properly within it unless the Holy Spirit dwells there. In most churches you'll hear only one sermon on the Holy Spirit to a hundred on other subjects, he said.

"The church needs a resurrection and if you want things done on spiritual lines you must have them done in a spiritual way.

CAR INSURANCE BIDS RECEIVED BY CITY BOARD

LA HABRA, Nov. 8.—Bids were received by the city council at the meeting Tuesday evening for the insurance on city vehicles. The bids were referred to a committee for report next Tuesday, at which time the council will hold a special session for awarding the insurance.

It was voted that the La Habra council send $5 dues to the Orange County League of Municipalities A communication from R. E. Launer, fire chief, stated that the fire department had received a number of calls this month from residents outside the city limits to extinguish blazes in palm trees.

No more calls outside the city for such fires will be made unless the surrounding property is in immediate danger according to the chief's letter.

A check for $23 was received from the La Habra Citrus association for oranges on the city property where the fire station is located.

A deed was received from Mrs. Delpha Redfern and members of her family, giving to the city 10 feet across the rear of lots 1 to 8 inclusive in tract 100 for an alley.

City Engineer J. B. Sanks was granted permission to proceed with the oiling of the alley north of Erna avenue between Haxel and Lois streets.

The sanitary committee was instructed to investigate dairy conditions within the city limits.

Woman's Club In Party On Friday

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 8.—The Midway City Woman's club is taking over the regular public card parties which the Midway City Chamber of Commerce has sponsored, the first of the series to be held Friday evening at the clubhouse. The returns from the parties go toward the clubhouse debt.

It is the intention of the club to hold the parties each second and fourth Friday evenings of the month. Mrs. B. L. Kirkham, club chairman, Mrs. W. E. Moore, club president, and Mrs. William Schmidt will act as hostesses at Friday's party.

Offer Of Water System Rejected

BARBER CITY, Nov. 8.—At a mass meeting held by property owners of Barber City the offer of W. L. Russell, Long Beach, who furnishes water to the community, that Barber City take over the system, was rejected by the residents who felt that the expense of operating the plant would be too great.

A pot-luck community supper was held the same evening at the clubhouse by the Woman's club.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(UP)—Stock market traders chose the final hour today to push prices forward and under active trading, with tickers getting as much as 5 minutes behind the market, prices jumped 1 to more than 6 points.

The rise in the share markets accompanied an active upswing in commodity markets, wheat gaining more than 2 cents a bushel and cotton showing an advance of around $1.50 a bale. Trading picked up in all commodity markets, particularly from the eastern operators.

There was little reason for the late rally although, according to the old versions of reading the monetary market, a rise was due as the United States dollar dropped rapidly in foreign exchange trading. All foreign currencies showed strength, many touching all time highs. The Franc reached 6.17¾c and the pound sterling went to $4.95½. The Canadian dollar was at a premium.

The strength in the share market did not parallel the foreign exchange market ,for foreign currencies started jumping from the opening while for the first four hours the share market drifted under light trading. There were favorable and unfavorable reports. Among the favorable were an extra dividend by Seaboard Oil, a cotton report showing a smaller crop than private estimators had figured on although still above the October 1 estimate, and a new high price for silver metal Meantime electric power production showed the smallest advance in several weeks.

LAGUARDIA NEW YORK MAYOR

Fiorello LaGuardia on a fusion ticket wins as Mayor of New York. This is the first time that Tammany Hall has had a serious set-back in 19 years. And Tammany emerges from this conflict with the clear evidence, amounting to a demonstration, that it was only a split in her forces that gave LaGuardia even the remotest chance.

Note the facts! While LaGuardia won over either O'Brien or McKee by 200,000, if they had combined their forces, as they were both parts of the big Tammany machine, they would have beaten LaGuardia by 300,000. Unfortunately LaGuardia is handicapped from these very facts, for everyone knows that long before the close of LaGuardia's present administration, differences in Tammany Hall will be ironed out, and other elections held in various boroughs will demonstrate their unity, and LaGuardia can do only a small fraction of what he would like to do.

Then again, LaGuardia's forces are an incongruous group. Socialists who ordinarily would have voted for the Socialist candidate voted for LaGuardia because of his social ideas. It should be remembered that LaGuardia led the fight in Congress, even in the last year of Hoover's administration, to spend five billion dollars in public works. Not only were the Socialists and thousands of Liberals supporting LaGuardia, but the extreme conservative group, led by Ogden Mills, were supporting him also. In fact, in spite of the very liberal, if not radical tendencies of LaGuardia, Ogden Mills, former Secretary of the Treasury under Hoover, was making speeches for LaGuardia.

So the Protestant religious forces, the liberal forces, the extremely conservative forces, as well as the groups that maybe could not be classified, but representing generally honest men and women, and those who desire a change, have united in this protest to defeat Tammany Hall. But, by the same token, there is no bond which holds them together, and very shortly LaGuardia and those who were pulled in with him will be office holders without either a party or organized support. And it is a hard thing to continue fighting in the interest of any causes without backing.

There is some national significance that may be attached to this contest. The President, in a way, was rebuked, but not in a very big or pronounced way. In a fight with the old organization of Tammany Hall, and its leaders who are opposed to the President, the President's candidate received more votes than did the Tammany regulars' candidate. Farley, Postmaster General, probably knew what he was about. Tammany, hungry during these coming years, will make peace at any price, because theirs is a commercial patriotism, and they will be united in the next campaign national, state and local. And when Tammany is united, God help the people!

DISREGARD OF VICTIMS BY RECEIVERSHIP EXECUTIVES

The investigating committee in Los Angeles has been bringing out some matters in regard to receiverships that the people should well "peg" in their minds. Among the matters that were brought to light has been that of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and its receiverships. Among the facts brought out, was one that the two receivers, H. C. Carnahan and Joseph Scott, had each received $105,000 for 23 months work. This would be at the rate of $60,000 a year. Not a bad salary to wind up an institution that had defrauded widows and children of their money and who received nothing in return!

Not only so, but one of these men, who received this $105,000 for this few months work, admitted that he ignored the law and Constitution of the state, designed to protect people fraudulently treated and so prevented those who had received this spurious stock suing the other stockholders under the stockholders' liability act. Using in a sense the same money that these defrauded people had paid into the corporation, these receivers prevented the defrauded from making any trouble or getting any redress, and took their money themselves as a payment for such actions, at the rate of $105,000 for 23 months work.

These receivers didn't want any help from the defrauded ones. They did little less than Lewis himself had done with them, but they called in Lewis, who was the chief rascal and no one was seriously punished in the transaction. If there is no sense in people's minds of any serious wrong having been done by those who were in charge of such affairs, when crookedness and corruption has held sway, they will proceed to as quietly and peacefully wind up the affairs as they can, so as to draw their money with the least unpleasantness. When there is no moral indignation over such things, it is quite evident that it is not considered very serious by the men in charge. That whole terrible scandal and great financial loss was endured by the people, and the receivers of the company and the district attorney's office have not shown there was any moral comprehension of the extent of the robbery and the heinousness of the crime.

PROHIBITION REPEALED

Thirty-six states, the required number, have ratified the 21st amendment to the Constitution. This means, when the vote has been authoritatively canvassed, the Secretary of State will make the legal proclamation and national prohibition in the United States will be at an end. A year and a half ago few people conversant with the facts in the country, would have predicted that such a condition could not have possibly resulted in so short a time. In fact, ten months ago, it would not have been so prophesied.

But an organized furor was begun about three months prior to the national conventions a year ago, and has been carried on in every department of activity throughout the nation, with an exhaustless financial war chest, and with the co-operation of a great number of financial men desiring repeal for business reasons, expecting to save taxes thereby.

Strange to say, in those states where action had already been taken, the evils resulting from a more unrestricted traffic had already begun to grow and public sentiment was beginning to swing back, undoubtedly, in the state that had voted a few months ago for practically unrestrained liquor selling.

In California, all local control of the liquor traffic is at once at an end. The influences which control our state political life, will be in control of the policy which is adopted to regulate the sale of every kind of liquor in California. With these restrictions uniform, we will have the same conditions prevailing in Orange county, as far as the sale of liquor is concerned, as will prevail in the city of San Francisco.

The licensing authorities will be appointed through a commission. This commission will be appointed by the governor. We have a governor made to order for the appointment of a regulatory commission. Whiskey and beer, wine and gin, will be all the same and drunkenness and drunk driving, which are already on the increase, will mount and grow as the months pass. On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined!

Soon you will find that this unleashed fury will begin to destroy itself, and the brewers and the distillers seeing a failure again in the offing, will each begin to blame the deviltry of the whole thing upon each other. And the people will be forced to clean up the mess after the riot has had its fling, and the liquor cures and the police courts and the asylums and the jails and the morgues will have done a most rushing business.

No, we haven't changed our mind about the evils. We haven't changed our mind about the real remedy. We haven't changed our mind about the asininity of a county, whose chief soil product is oranges, voting to help out the beer barons.

But we still believe in democracy, and believe that through experimentation and error and change, it finally will learn.

Did Boswell See the Joke?

Christian Science Monitor

Was there a twinkle in Dr. Johnson's eye that Boswell never noticed? Mr. Justice McKinnon, president of the Johnson Society in London, thinks that there was, and even believes that the famous "Life" does not give an entirely true picture of the mighty Doctor. Both Scotsmen and Americans will be inclined to allow that there is something in what he says.

Boswell's "Life of Johnson" is looked upon as one of the greatest biographical works ever written. Mr. Justice MacKinnon addressing the Johnson Society dinner observed that Johnson was already fifty-four before Boswell first met him. Moreover, it has been calculated that Boswell in the whole of their joint careers was in Johnson's company only on a few hundred occasions. Finally, Boswell regarded Johnson with an exaggerated "reverence" that may easily have prevented his getting an absolutely accurate notion of the Doctor's real character.

Johnson was a great denouncer. He delighted in assailing persons, places, theories, and things with great whirling, thundering, and stinging words. Yet he was naturally the kindest of men. Few people in history have shown such unremitting and (in the eyes of the world) uncalled for generosity as did Johnson to Mr. Levett and Mrs. Williams, whom in spite of his own poverty, he maintained for many years.

But Mr. Justice MacKinnon suggests that in the midst of his denunciations Johnson's tongue was in his cheek. All the accounts of Johnson except Boswell's dwell upon his playfulness and love of fun. May not those references to Scotland as the land where men eat food that is only given to horses in England, and to America as a place steeped in barbarism, be merely half-humorous exercises in portentous declamation, jokes that Boswell never saw through? If so, the joke is on posterity, which has taken Boswell seriously.

Guns and Children

Oakland Tribune

Within a week, in this one part of the State, two children have been shot with "unloaded" guns left around the home. Victims of an adult carelessness were those injured and the others who will carry terrible memories through life.

The firearm left within reach of the child is an invitation to his curiosity. In these days when there are so many films, broadcasts and stories which exalt gunmen, shooting frays, and the wild life of the open, and when even toys are made to represent death-dealing instruments, it is sad but natural that the child should see in gun or pistol something adapted to exciting play. The number of fatal accidents, and those narrowly escaped, attests to the fact that in a great many homes firearms are stored as casually as the umbrella in the hall. Now and again, tragedy close at home brings its lesson.

Balbo and Columbus

San Francisco Chronicle

A skittish thing it is to win acclaim by spectacular voyages to America. Didn't Columbus know it? They put him in jail. Didn't Cabeza de Vaca know it? The Inquisition cracked down on him for witchcraft because he bunkoed the Indians with some sleight of hand. Doesn't General Balbo know it? He made himself too prominent. He was given a beautiful hat—and shoved into the background. And now he has lost his job. It is true he gets another job—in Africa, a long way off. Even there perhaps he will be wise to watch his step and not get too much publicity.

MAKE YOUR OWN MORAL

No sympathy exists in him;
He growls and bites
And snarls and fights
And preys on helpless creatures.
Forever he is plotting harm,
He steals the piglets from the farm;
Beyond a doubt
He is without
Attractive traits or features.

The fawn is filled with grace and charm,
He does no brute nor person harm;
He loves to browse
On tender boughs,
And bask beside the water.
In all his mild and gentle life
He never takes a part in strife,
His few years through
He does not do
A thing he hadn't oughter.

And yet the wild and no account
And wicked-minded catamount,
Who fights and bites
And brawls by nights—
Whose ways are base and surly—
Lives on and on and on and on
The while the gentle, peaceful fawn,
Poor helpless deer
Abides in fear,

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

After supper pop started to lite a cigar and look comfortable, and ma said, Maud Hews called up and said they'd be home this evening in case we cared to drop around, what would you say to a little bridge, Willyum?

I'd say I prefer not, I've had a hard day at the office, pop said, and ma said. But Willyum nothing is more relaxing to the brane than bridge.

I bleeve you're rite, in fact I shouldn't be serprised to hear that the latest statistics prove that 33 and a therd per cent of the inmates of the world's insane asylums are suffering from complete and permanent relaxation of the brane caused by bridge, pop said, and ma said, O, you can prove anything by statistics, but you cant deny with a clear conscience that bridge is the strongest social force in the werld today, it brings more people together than any other single attraction.

Quite true, and it separates even more than it brings together, pop said. For every divorce granted for desertion and infidelity there are 10 granted for cruelty and non support of trumps at the bridge table, he said, and ma said, But Willyum, after all, what would people do if they couldn't play bridge, I mean, after all?

They would quarrel decently and respectably at home the way they did in the good old days, pop said, and ma said, But Willyum, do you axually mean you'd rather go to the movies tonite than to the Hewses?

That's a new idea but it's the lesser of 2 evils, at least I can go to sleep there if necessary, pop said, and ma said, O Willyum that will be perfeck, we'll go to the Mawsoleum, and just as an appropriate coincidence there's an added attraction there tonite showing a bridge hand between Professor Bintz and Mr. Guggenweiller in slow motion.

Yee gods, pop said.

NOVEMBER 8, 1919

A deal had been completed whereby J. E. Liebig and Charles F. Smith became the owners of the lot upon which the Princess theater was located, purchasing the property from W. F. Lutz at a price between $400 and $500 a front foot.

Indicating that the peak price in orange groves had not yet been reached, J. P. Hatzfeld accepted an offer of $50,000 for his 10-acre orange grove in the Placentia district just north of the A. S. Bradford property.

R. W. George had offered a lot in La Habra to the La Habra Women's Mutual Improvement society for the erection of a clubhouse, and a committee meeting was called at the home of Mrs. H. E. Hart, for the purpose of accepting the generous gift and formulating plans for a building.

Santa Ana chapter D. A. R., of which Mrs. William E. Otis was regent, presented American flags to the two new Mexican schools of the city to the accompaniment of a special program of music and addresses.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WHEN REFORM COMES

Day before yesterday I spoke ofthe fact that we are facing the long pull pob of reforming our economic order to bring its policies into harmony with the age of plenty into which science and technology have brought us. This reform will, I said, be less moralistic and more realistic in its nature than many of the old reform movements. We may, however, learn much from the successes and failures of earlier reform movements. Accordingly, out of the memoirs of Charles Edward Russell, who has been at the center of reform movements the world around for more than half a century, I reported some of the causes of failure in earlier reform movements. Today, from the same source, I want to set down some of the things that have marked successful reform in the past.

Mr. Russell, after fifty years of observation, sees these six things marking reform:

(1) Reform really comes if men really will have it.

(2) Reform never comes in exact the way we think it will come.

(3) Reform never comes at exactly the time we expect it to come.

(4) Reform never comes from exactly the source from which we think it will come.

(5) Reform is often nearest when it seems most hopeless.

(6) Reform is not nearly as subject to direct and detailed control as we like to think.

All this has, I think, light for the men who are now busy in an honest attempt to bring our economic policies abreast of our economic problems. We can effect reforms that will make this age of plenty a blessing instead of a blight. We must not be disappointed if this result does not come in exactly the way, at exactly the time, and from exactly the source we expect. We need the will to make readjustments. We need patience. We need persistence. We need a basic faith that the brains which enabled us to create this age of plenty will enable us to bend it to fruitful human use.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

NINE YEARS

Children of nine are a group by themselves. They stand out among the younger children like sore thumbs. They annoy the older ones until they are chased away in wrath. They are the bane of a teacher's life and a source of anxiety to their mothers.

These are the children who go exploring. They climb on roofs and sometimes, not usually, fall off and break a collar bone. They make rafts and set to sea and are surprised when boats put off from shore bent upon taking them off and landing them prisoners in the hands of the enemy adults. They are the ones that are out of step in the marching line. They are in a hurry to get where they are going and any other idea is swamped in the rush.

The grownups like order and peace and quiet. They like to have things done on time, and according to a personal standard of neatness, good workmanship, and all that satisfies the adult soul. The child of nine knows no standards of any sort. He hears words, he sees gestures, he undergoes privation and captivity in the schoolroom and shop and home circle, but he fights valiantly for his freedom. He is bent on getting first hand information about the world and all that dwell therein and anybody who gets in the way has to answer for it.

What's to be done about it? Grownups are weary of the struggle to make both ends meet. They must work hard for their daily bread and at the same time have energy to spare for the rearing of the young ones who are the inspiration of their lives. Home and the labor that maintains it are for one purpose, the establishment of the children. If only we could find a way to make them understand and help.

We do, by and by. But the way is long, and the utter lack of understanding in the children is exasperating. Under the conditions the best thing for us to do is to set our mental attitudes in the most practical fashion and accept what we cannot alter. Think about these children. They are fine, healthy, aspiring spirits. They have no intention fo do harm or give trouble. They simply do not understand the ways of grownup people and until they do they suffer as much as we do. They are not clean. They are not nice in their ways. They are not polite. They are direct and honest in their expressions. They are anxious to learn. They do not fear the things, the circumstances or the people that we fear. They are feeling their way where once we felt ours. They do not see what is very clear to us.

Then, if we make allowances for them, if we teach and teach and encourage and praise and punish in understanding and affection, we in time come through fairly well. It is better to give up trying to deceive the neighbors and friends into thinking that this, our child is mannerly, thoughtful, responsible, and a delight to the heart of his mother. It is best to accept him as an unformed, untrained adventurer who will, with luck, and time, and care, arrive at his destination without wrecking the outfit. If you can do that you will enjoy this child and he will truly be the delight of his mother's heart.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

LAGUARDIA NEW YORK MAYOR

Fiorello LaGuardia on a fusion ticket wins as Mayor of New York. This is the first time that Tammany Hall has had a serious set-back in 19 years. And Tammany emerges from this conflict with the clear evidence, amounting to a demonstration, that it was only a split in her forces that gave LaGuardia even the remotest chance.

Note the facts! While LaGuardia won over either O'Brien or McKee by 200,000, if they had combined their forces, as they were both parts of the big Tammany machine, they would have beaten LaGuardia by 300,000. Unfortunately LaGuardia is handicapped from these very facts, for everyone knows that long before the close of LaGuardia's present administration, differences in Tammany Hall will be ironed out, and other elections held in various boroughs will demonstrate their unity, and LaGuardia can do only a small fraction of what he would like to do.

Then again, LaGuardia's forces are an incongruous group. Socialists who ordinarily would have voted for the Socialist candidate voted for LaGuardia because of his social ideas. It should be remembered that LaGuardia led the fight in Congress, even in the last year of Hoover's administration, to spend five billion dollars in public works. Not only were the Socialists and thousands of Liberals supporting LaGuardia, but the extreme conservative group, led by Ogden Mills, were supporting him also. In fact, in spite of the very liberal, if not radical tendencies of LaGuardia, Ogden Mills, former Secretary of the Treasury under Hoover, was making speeches for LaGuardia.

So the Protestant religious forces, the liberal forces, the extremely conservative forces, as well as the groups that maybe could not be classified, but representing generally honest men and women, and those who desire a change, have united in this protest to defeat Tammany Hall. But, by the same token, there is no bond which holds them together, and very shortly LaGuardia and those who were pulled in with him will be office holders without either a party or organized support. And it is a hard thing to continue fighting in the interest of any causes without backing.

There is some national significance that may be attached to this contest. The President, in a way, was rebuked, but not in a very big or pronounced way. In a fight with the old organization of Tammany Hall, and its leaders who are opposed to the President, the President's candidate received more votes than did the Tammany regulars' candidate. Farley, Postmaster General, probably knew what he was about. Tammany, hungry during these coming years, will make peace at any price, because theirs is a commercial patriotism, and they will be united in the next campaign national, state and local. And when Tammany is united, God help the people!

Mr. Albert H. Wiggin has asked the Chase National Bank to cancel his $100,000 a year pension. But it might have been worth the 100 grand, anyway, to keep Mr. Wiggin retired.

DISREGARD OF VICTIMS BY RECEIVERSHIP EXECUTIVES

The investigating committee in Los Angeles has been bringing out some matters in regard to receiverships that the people should well "peg" in their minds. Among the matters that were brought to light has been that of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and its receiverships. Among the facts brought out, was one that the two receivers, H. C. Carnahan and Joseph Scott, had each received $105,000 for 23 months work. This would be at the rate of $60,000 a year. Not a bad salary to wind up an institution that had defrauded widows and children of their money and who received nothing in return!

Not only so, but one of these men, who received this $105,000 for this few months work, admitted that he ignored the law and Constitution of the state, designed to protect people fraudulently treated and so prevented those who had received this spurious stock suing the other stockholders under the stockholders' liability act. Using in a sense the same money that these defrauded people had paid into the corporation, these receivers prevented the defrauded from making any trouble or getting any redress, and took their money themselves as a payment for such actions, at the rate of $105,000 for 23 months work.

These receivers didn't want any help from the defrauded ones. They did little less than Lewis himself had done with them, but they called in Lewis, who was the chief rascal and no one was seriously punished in the transaction. If there is no sense in people's minds of any serious wrong having been done by those who were in charge of such affairs, when crookedness and corruption has held sway, they will proceed to as quietly and peacefully wind up the affairs as they can, so as to draw their money with the least unpleasantness. When there is no moral indignation over such things, it is quite evident that it is not considered very serious by the men in charge. That whole terrible scandal and great financial loss was endured by the people, and the receivers of the company and the district attorney's office have not shown there was any moral comprehension of the extent of the robbery and the heinousness of the crime.

PROHIBITION REPEALED

Thirty-six states, the required number, have ratified the 21st amendment to the Constitution. This means, when the vote has been authoritatively canvassed, the Secretary of State will make the legal proclamation and national prohibition in the United States will be at an end. A year and a half ago few people conversant with the facts in the country, would have predicted that such a condition could not have possibly resulted in so short a time. In fact, ten months ago, it would not have been so prophesied.

But an organized furor was begun about three months prior to the national conventions a year ago, and has been carried on in every department of activity throughout the nation, with an exhaustless financial war chest, and with the co-operation of a great number of financial men desiring repeal for business reasons, expecting to save taxes thereby.

Strange to say, in those states where action had already been taken, the evils resulting from a more unrestricted traffic had already begun to grow and public sentiment was beginning to swing back, undoubtedly, in the state that had voted a few months ago for practically unrestrained liquor selling.

In California, all local control of the liquor traffic is at once at an end. The influences which control our state political life, will be in control of the policy which is adopted to regulate the sale of every kind of liquor in California. With these restrictions uniform, we will have the same conditions prevailing in Orange county, as far as the sale of liquor is concerned, as will prevail in the city of San Francisco.

The licensing authorities will be appointed through a commission. This commission will be appointed by the governor. We have a governor made to order for the appointment of a regulatory commission. Whiskey and beer, wine and gin, will be all the same and drunkenness and drunk driving, which are already on the increase, will mount and grow as the months pass. On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined!

Soon you will find that this unleashed fury will begin to destroy itself, and the brewers and the distillers seeing a failure again in the offing, will each begin to blame the deviltry of the whole thing upon each other. And the people will be forced to clean up the mess after the riot has had its fling, and the liquor cures and the police courts and the asylums and the jails and the morgues will have done a most rushing business.

No, we haven't changed our mind about the evils. We haven't changed our mind about the real remedy. We haven't changed our mind about the asininity of a county, whose chief soil product is oranges, voting to help out the beer barons.

But we still believe in democracy, and believe that through experimentation and error and change, it finally will learn.

Did Boswell See the Joke?

Christian Science Monitor

Was there a twinkle in Dr. Johnson's eye that Boswell never noticed? Mr. Justice McKinnon, president of the Johnson Society in London, thinks that there was, and even believes that the famous "Life" does not give an entirely true picture of the mighty Doctor. Both Scotsmen and Americans will be inclined to allow that there is something in what he says.

Boswell's "Life of Johnson" is looked upon as one of the greatest biographical works ever written. Mr. Justice MacKinnon addressing the Johnson Society dinner observed that Johnson was already fifty-four before Boswell first met him. Moreover, it has been calculated that Boswell in the whole of their joint careers was in Johnson's company only on a few hundred occasions. Finally, Boswell regarded Johnson with an exaggerated "reverence" that may easily have prevented his getting an absolutely accurate notion of the Doctor's real character.

Johnson was a great denouncer. He delighted in assailing persons, places, theories, and things with great whirling, thundering, and stinging words. Yet he was naturally the kindest of men. Few people in history have shown such unremitting and (in the eyes of the world) uncalled for generosity as did Johnson to Mr. Levett and Mrs. Williams, whom in spite of his own poverty, he maintained for many years.

But Mr. Justice MacKinnon suggests that in the midst of his denunciations Johnson's tongue was in his cheek. All the accounts of Johnson except Boswell's dwell upon his playfulness and love of fun. May not those references to Scotland as the land where men eat food that is only given to horses in England, and to America as a place steeped in barbarism, be merely half-humorous exercises in portentous declamation, jokes that Boswell never saw through? If so, the joke is on posterity, which has taken Boswell seriously.

Guns and Children

Oakland Tribune

Within a week, in this one part of the State, two children have been shot with "unloaded" guns left around the home. Victims of an adult carelessness were those injured and the others who will carry terrible memories through life.

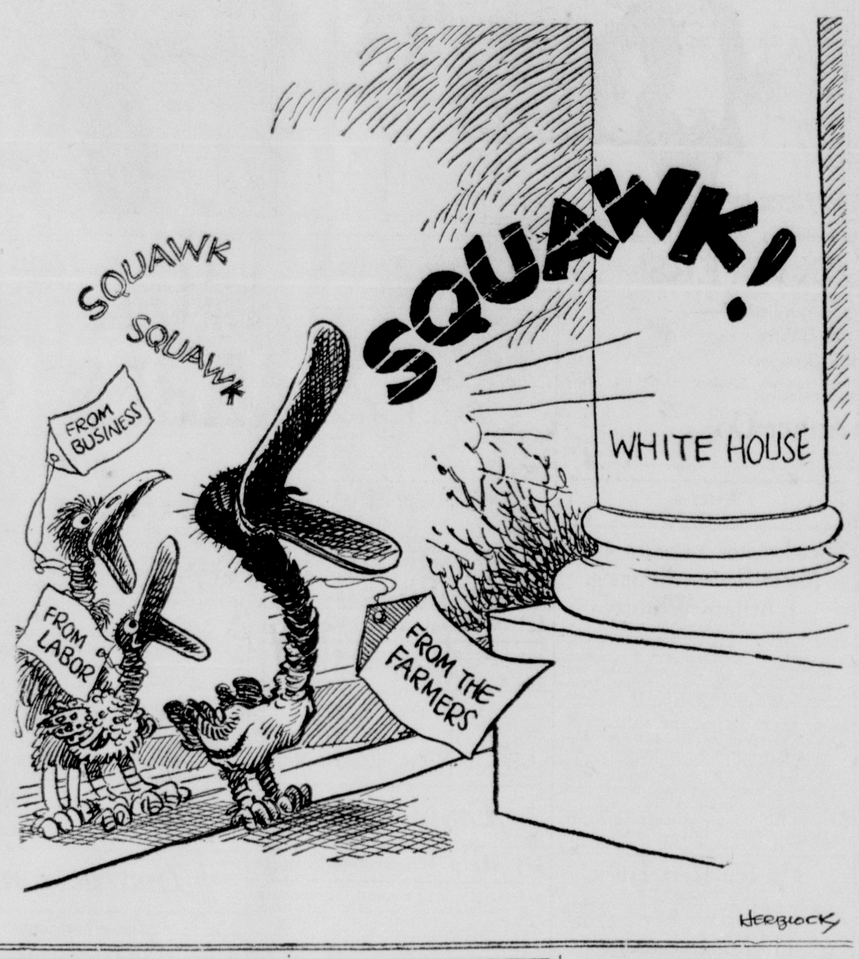

The firearm left within reach of the child is an invitation to his curiosity. In these days when there are so many films, broadcasts and stories which exalt gunmen, shooting frays, and the wild life of the open, and when even toys are made to represent death-dealing instruments, it is sad but natural that the child should see in gun or pistol something adapted to exciting play. The number of fatal accidents, and those narrowly escaped, attests to the fact that in a great many homes firearms are stored as casually as the umbrella in the hall. Now and again, tragedy close at home brings its lesson.

Balbo and Columbus

San Francisco Chronicle

A skittish thing it is to win acclaim by spectacular voyages to America. Didn't Columbus know it? They put him in jail. Didn't Cabeza de Vaca know it? The Inquisition cracked down on him for witchcraft because he bunkoed the Indians with some sleight of hand. Doesn't General Balbo know it? He made himself too prominent. He was given a beautiful hat—and shoved into the background. And now he has lost his job. It is true he gets another job—in Africa, a long way off. Even there perhaps he will be wise to watch his step and not get too much publicity.

The Thanksgiving Birds Are Beginning To Arrive

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

MAKE YOUR OWN MORAL

The catamount is fierce and grim,
No sympathy exists in him;
He growls and bites
And snarls and fights
And preys on helpless creatures.
Forever he is plotting harm,
He steals the piglets from the farm;
Beyond a doubt
He is without
Attractive traits or features.

The fawn is filled with grace and charm,
He does no brute nor person harm;
He loves to browse
On tender boughs,
And bask beside the water.
In all his mild and gentle life
He never takes a part in strife,
His few years through
He does not do
A thing he hadn't oughter.

And yet the wild and no account
And wicked-minded catamount,
Who fights and bites
And brawls by nights—
Whose ways are base and surly—
Lives on and on and on and on
The while the gentle, peaceful fawn,
Poor helpless deer
Abides in fear,
And perishes too early.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pape

After supper pop started to lite a cigar and look comfortable, and ma said, Maud Hews called up and said they'd be home this evening in case we cared to drop around, what would you say to a little bridge, Willyum?

I'd say I prefer not, I've had a hard day at the office, pop said, and ma said. But Willyum nothing is more relaxing to the brane than bridge.

I bleeve you're rite, in fact I shouldn't be serprised to hear that the latest statistics prove that 33 and a therd per cent of the inmates of the world's insane asylums are suffering from complete and permanent relaxation of the brane caused by bridge, pop said, and ma said, O, you can prove anything by statistics, but you cant deny with a clear conscience that bridge is the strongest social force in the werld today, it brings more people together than any other single attraction.

Quite true, and it separates even more than it brings together, pop said. For every divorce granted for desertion and infidelity there are 10 granted for cruelty and non support of trumps at the bridge table, he said, and ma said, But Willyum, after all, what would people do if they couldn't play bridge, I mean, after all?

They would quarrel decently and respectably at home the way they did in the good old days, pop said, and ma said, But Willyum, do you axually mean you'd rather go to the movies tonite than to the Hewses?

That's a new idea but it's the lesser of 2 evils, at least I can go to sleep there if necessary, pop said, and ma said, O Willyum that will be perfeck, we'll go to the Mawsoleum, and just as an appropriate coincidence there's an added attraction there tonite showing a bridge hand between Professor Bintz and Mr. Guggenweiler in slow motion.

Yee gods, pop said.

In the Long Ago

NOVEMBER 8, 1919

A deal had been completed whereby J. E. Liebig and Charles F. Smith became the owners of the lot upon which the Princess theater was located, purchasing the property from W. F. Lutz at a price between $400 and $500 a front foot.

Indicating that the peak price in orange groves had not yet been reached, J. P. Hatzfeld accepted an offer of $50,000 for his 10-acre orange grove in the Placentia district just north of the A. S. Bradford property.

R. W. George had offered a lot in La Habra to the La Habra Women's Mutual Improvement society for the erection of a clubhouse, and a committee meeting was called at the home of Mrs. H. E. Hart, for the purpose of accepting the generous gift and formulating plans for a building.

Santa Ana chapter D.A.R., of which Mrs. William E. Otis was regent, presented American flags to the two new Mexican schools of the city to the accompaniment of a special program of music and addresses.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WHEN REFORM COMES

Day before yesterday I spoke of the fact that we are facing the long pull job of reforming our economic order to bring its policies into harmony with the age of plenty into which science and technology have brought us. This reform will, I said, be less moralistic and more realistic in its nature than many of the old reform movements. We may, however, learn much from the successes and failures of earlier reform movements. Accordingly, out of the memoirs of Charles Edward Russell, who has been at the center of reform movements the world around for more than half a century, I reported some of the causes of failure in earlier reform movements. Today, from the same source, I want to set down some of the things that have marked successful reform in the past.

Mr. Russell, after fifty years of observation, sees these six things marking reform:

(1) Reform really comes if men really will have it.

(2) Reform never comes in exactly the way we think it will come.

(3) Reform never comes at exactly the time we expect it to come.

(4) Reform never comes from exactly the source from which we think it will come.

(5) Reform is often nearest when it seems most hopeless.

(6) Reform is not nearly as subject to direct and detailed control as we like to think.

All this has, I think, light for the men who are now busy in an honest attempt to bring our economic policies abreast of our economic problems. We can effect reforms that will make this age of plenty a blessing instead of a blight. We must not be disappointed if this result does not come in exactly the way, at exactly the time, and from exactly the source we expect. We need the will to make readjustments. We need patience. We need persistence. We need a basic faith that the brains which enabled us to create this age of plenty will enable us to bend it to fruitful human use.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

NINE YEARS

Children of nine are a group by themselves. They stand out among the younger children like sore thumbs. They annoy the older ones until they are chased away in wrath. They are the bane of a teacher's life and a source of anxiety to their mothers.

These are the children who go exploring. They climb on roofs and sometimes, not usually, fall off and break a collar bone. They make rafts and set to sea and are surprised when boats put off from shore bent upon taking them off and landing them prisoners in the hands of the enemy adults. They are the ones that are out of step in the marching line. They are in a hurry to get where they are going and any other idea is swamped in the rush.

The grownups like order and peace and quiet. They like to have things done on time, and according to a personal standard of neatness, good workmanship, and all that satisfies the adult soul. The child of nine knows no standards of any sort. He hears words, he sees gestures, he undergoes privation and captivity in the schoolroom and shop and home circle, but he fights valiantly for his freedom. He is bent on getting first hand information about the world and all that dwell therein and anybody who gets in the way has to answer for it.

What's to be done about it? Grownups are weary of the struggle to make both ends meet. They must work hard for their daily bread and at the same time have energy to spare for the rearing of the young ones who are the inspiration of their lives. Home and the labor that maintains it are for one purpose, the establishment of the children. If only we could find a way to make them understand and help.

We do, by and by. But the way is long, and the utter lack of understanding in the children is exasperating. Under the conditions the best thing for us to do is to set our mental attitudes in the most practical fashion and accept what we cannot alter. Think about these children. They are fine, healthy, aspiring spirits. They have no intention to do harm or give trouble. They simply do not understand the ways of grownup people and until they do they suffer as much as we do. They are not clean. They are not nice in their ways. They are not polite. They are direct and honest in their expressions. They are anxious to learn. They do not fear the things, the circumstances or the people that we fear. They are feeling their way where once we felt ours. They do not see what is very clear to us.

Then, if we make allowances for them, if we teach and teach and encourage and praise and punish in understanding and affection, we in time come through fairly well. It is better to give up trying to deceive the neighbors and friends into thinking that this, our child is mannerly, thoughtful, responsible, and a delight to the heart of his mother. It is best to accept him as an unformed, untrained adventurer who will, with luck, and time, and care, arrive at his destination without wrecking the outfit. If you can do that you will enjoy this child and he will truly be the delight of his mother's heart.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
